Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1937. No. 27.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 9, 1937

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

We thank Thee, O Our Father,
For our watch-care thorugh the night.
Thou hast brought us through the shadows
To Thy precious morning light.
Through the darkness and its silence
Ceaseless vigil Thou hast kept-
Anointing weary eyelids,
Thou hast blest us as we slept.
With riches all around us,
We think we are rich-and yet
In the presence of the Giver
We know ourselves in debt;
For all we think we own-yea,
For health and life and Grace,
We do recognize the Owner
When we look into Thy Face.
Again we come as beggars,
On this, another day;
For Thy Presence and Thy counsel
We do meekly, humbly pray;
That the coming of the twilight
And the setting of the sun
May bring to us, Thy servants,
Thy precious word, "Well done." Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr.CAVALCANTE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal approved.

HOUSE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House had concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, March 8, 1937.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 15th, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 15th, at nine o'clock.

CONGRESS TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS TO DEEPEN CHANNEL FROM PORT OF PHILADELPHIA TO ATLANTIC OCEAN

He also presented for concurrence extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 23, 1937.

Whereas, The port of Philadelphia is of great importance as a port in the volume of domestic shipping and the domestic commerce flowing through the port of Philadelphia has increased substantially over and above increases in such commerce for other ports on the eastern seaboard; and

Whereas, Despite such increases in domestic commerce there has been no increase but on the contrary a diversion and decrease in the flow of foreign commerce through the port of Philadelphia for the principal reason that the channel to and from Philadelphia to the Atlantic Ocean is not deep enough to accomodate the entry of ships coming from foreign ports; and

Whereas, The port of Philadelphia is the only port of this Commonwealth for the entry and flow of foreign commerce and it is of vital interest to protect and develop facilities necessary for such foreign commerce; and

Whereas, In order to prevent great economic loss to industry in Pennsylvania by reason of lack of a channel deep enough to admit entry of foreign commerce it is necessary that the channel be deepened from Philadelphia to the Atlantic Ocean; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully petitions the Congress of the United States to enact the necessary legislation and to make the necessary appropriation to deepen the channel from the port of Philadelphia to the Atlantic Ocean to a depth of at least forty (40) feet with suitable widths; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each Senator and Representative in the Congress of the United States from this Commonwealth by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39 which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Section 808 Segregation of Dues Upon Order of Department A Whenever it shall appear to the department that the affairs of an association are in such condition that the action hereinafter provided in this section is justified the department may by written order issued in the manner provided by law direct that all payments [of dues] made thereafter on account of [installment] shares which have not been transferred and pledged to the association as security for loans shall be segregated from the other assets of the association and that the association shall not grant any further loans make any payments on account of withdrawn or matured shares or allow any credit for the value of any shares on account of the principal of any loan until such order is revoked in writing by the department Such order of the department shall be known as an order of segregation Such segregated moneys shall either be kept on deposit in a depository selected in the manner provided by this act or invested in the bonds designated by this act as authorized investments for associations The moneys so segregated and the bonds in which such moneys are invested shall be known as the segregated fund

If an association at any time after an order of segregation has become effective has no liability except to its shareholders arising from the ownership of shares it may with the written consent of the department transfer to the segregated fund a portion or all of any cash which it may have on hand and bonds if any designated by this act as authorized investments Cash and bonds so transferred shall become a part of the segregated fund the same as though paid into the segregated fund by the shareholders whose shares are not pledged to the association as security for loans in proportion to the amounts paid in on account of their shares on the date that the order of segregation was issued Such segregated fund shall not be subject to any attachment issued on a judgment obtained by any creditor or shareholder of the association

During the period of segregation the segregated fund shall be available exclusively for the benefit of the shareholders who made such payments or for whose benefit the transfer of cash and bonds was made and may be withdrawn during such period of segregation upon thirty days' written notice

B All dues paid in during the period of segregation by shareholdehs whose shares are pledged to the association as security for loans shall be known as segregated credits and shall be applied as credits against the principal of any loans so secured which are repaid during the period of segregation

When any transfer of cash and bonds is made to the segregated fund the shareholders whose shares are pledged to the association as security for loans shall be entitled to segregated credits which shall bear the same relation to the amounts paid in by them on account of their shares prior to the effective date of the order of segregation as the amount of cash and bonds so transferred bears to the total amount paid in on account of shares prior to the effective date of the order of segregation by shareholders whose shares are not pledged as security for loans

If at any time during the period of segregation the segregated credits on shares pledged for a loan exceed the amount of the loan for which such shares are pledged all payments made by the borrower thereafter shall be segregated in the same manner as payments made by shareholders whose shares have not been pledged to the association as security for loans

C If the Secretary of Banking shall in the manner provided by law take possession of the business and property of an association while an order of segregation is in force or if a liquidating trustee or liquidating trustees shall pursuant to a plan of voluntary dissolution take possession of the business and property of such association while such order is in force the amount in the segregated fund shall be paid only to the shareholders whose payments were segregated or for whose benefit the transfer of cash and bonds was made and only to the extent that they can be paid from the segregated fund or from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds in which such segregated fund has been invested and the shareholders whose shares have been transferred and pledged as security for loans shall receive credit on account of the principal of their loans for the full amount of their segregated credits

D If an association while an order of segregation is in force shall enter into an agreement of merger or consolidation with another association or with other associations the shareholders whose shares have not been pledged to the association as security for loans shall receive credit in full for their interest in the segregated fund on account of the shares of the surviving or new association into which their shares are converted and the shareholders whose shares have been pledged to the association as security for loans shall receive credit in full for their segregated credits on account of the shares of the surviving or new association into which their shares are converted

E If while an order of segregation is in force the liability of an association to its shareholders shall be reduced by order of the court of common pleas pursuant to the provisions of this act the interest of the shareholders in the segregated fund and the segregated credits of shareholders shall not be reduced by the order of court but such shareholders shall receive credit in full on account of their shares for such interest in the segregated fund or for such segregated credits

F The department may revoke an order of segregation whenever it shall appear that the condition of an association justifies such action In such event the association may exercise all the powers it could have exercised prior to the issuance of such order It shall treat all payments on account of shares or otherwise made by shareholders during the period of segregation and all segregated credits in the same manner as all other payments on account of shares whenever made

G The department in its order of segregation may impose all or any part of the directions authorized by this section or may limit modify or qualify them and may also from time to time after an order of segregation has been issued by an amended order or orders limit modify or qualify directions already given but this subsection shall not be construed to authorize the department to omit from the original order of segregation or to limit modify or qualify the requirement that all payments [of dues] made on account of [installment] shares which have not been transferred and pledged to the association as security for loans shall be segregated from the other assets of the association In the event that a limited modified or qualified order of segregation is issued by the department the association shall have the right to conduct its business in accordance with such order or amended order of segregation as limited modified or qualified

Section 903 Security for Mortgage Loans A An association shall grant mortgage loans to its shareholders or to any person intending to become a shareholder upon the following security only

An said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like someone on the floor of the Senate to explain the purport of this bill, which seems to be a bill repealing an Act of 1907, designating the State flag. The only information we have is, it is the repealing of a certain Act. I would like information as to the need of the repealer.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I may say on that, as a member of the committee I was asked to take this up with the Department of Military Affairs, to find out the reason for this change; and when I took it up with them they informed me that according to the present practice under the National Guard Act the Government furnishes flags of a uniform kind, with a State marker; and as these flags do not conform to the National Guard flag, and under this Act the State would have to furnish the flags, and this would mean the spending of a considerable sum of money. Under the National Defense Act they cannot carry it. Under Federal supervision the State would be put to the expense of buying the flags, and that money would be saved by the passing of this repeal bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether, if this repealer be passed, would the State be without a State flag?

Mr. LAW. No, Mr. President, this has to do with the flags carried by the National Guard. This only repeals the second section of the Act of 1907. The first section designates the State flag; the second section provides for regimental flags similar in design.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Howard Hewitt of Albion, Erie County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in the Borough of Albion, Erie County, vice J. D. Hossler, resigned, until the first Monday in January, 1938.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES.

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be despensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES.

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House bill No. 552, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fifty-seven) entitled "An act relating to the business of building and loan associations providing for the organization and voluntary dissolution of such associations defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such associations and of their officers directors shareholders solicitors and other employes prohibiting the transaction of business in this Commonwealth by foreign building and loan associations conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers establishing limitations of actions imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" as amended by further defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of building and loan associations and of their officers directors shareholders solicitors and other employes and by further regulating the merger and consolidation of building and loan associations and the creation of building and loan associations by merger consolidation or conversion and by providing for the reorganization of building and loan associations and by providing for the conversion of building and loan associations into Federal savings and loan associations

SENATE BILL No. 29, RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 29, entitled:

An Act increasing the number of courts of common pleas in the County of Philadelphia; establishing therein a distinct and separate court of common pleas designated court of common pleas number six; and providing for the election and appointment of judges for said court.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House. For the information of the Senate, the only real change is extending the date of the Act.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, under the rules of the Senate, this should lie over as all other bills, and should be printed for the use of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. That is the rule, the rule is that amendments are to be printed and the bills lie over.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 21

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I see no reason for this, as the only change is in the effective date of the Act, and I feel that this bill should not lie over and I move that Rule No. 21, which requires that amended bills be noted on the Calendar, be in this case dispensed with and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House to the foregoing bill.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I should like to state to the Senate my attitude in this matter. I do not see any reason why this rule should be suspended. If we have a rule, and a good rule, we ought to comply with it. I should like to see the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr Shapiro withdraw his motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am perfectly satisfied to withdraw my motion, if objection is offered to immediate consideration of the amendments.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President. I have been informed that the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, wants to speak on this bill, and at this late hour he has left his seat.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if that is the reason of the Senator from Bucks, I will withdraw my motion.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is withdrawn and the amendment will be noted on the calendar.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain Rev. EPHRIAM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Most gracious Lord, may we just pause in silence a moment as we mediate upon the words of the great Psalmist.

The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof.
The world and all they that dwell therein.
Who shall ascend unto the House of the Lord
And who shall stand in His holy place?
He that hath clean hands and a pure heart
Who hath not lifted up his soul to vanity
Nor has sworn deceitfully.
In His name we ask it. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HIRSCH. RESOLUTION No. 44.

In the House of Representatives, March 8, 1937.

Whereas, One of the greatest menaces to the farms of the Nation is the spread of noxious weeds which have been imported here from other countries; and

Whereas, There is now pending in the Congress of the United States the Clark bill proposing to appropriate $50,000,000 for the eradication of these weeds; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to pass the Clark bill in order to make funds available for the eradication of noxious weeds from the farms of the Nation.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to each Member of the Congress from Pennsylvania, by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

By Mr. HARKINS. RESOLUTION No. 45.

In the House of Representatives, March 8, 1937.

The question of teachers' tenure engages the serious attention of the General Assembly at its present session. The result thereof, it has been charged in the public press, is that school districts in a number of cases have, under the provisions of the present law, given or contemplate giving to large numbers of their teachers notices of the termination of their contracts, with the evident purpose of evading the provisions of any tenure law that may be adopted.

This practice, if it exists, is a direct violation of the true spirit and principles of the public school system of this Commonwealth; and should not be permitted to set at naught the advantages of any proposed tenure legislation; therefore be it

Resolved, That a commission is hereby created, to consist of five members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, whose duty it shall be to investigate said charges made in the public press and to ascertain the truth thereof, and to what extent and for what reasons contracts of teachers in the various school districts are being terminated, or threats of termination are being made. The commission shall make a report to the House of Representatives at its present session at as early a time as possible, setting forth a statement of the facts found and its conclusion as to whether or not the practice is sufficiently widespread to warrant the General Assembly, in the event that a teacher's tenure law is agreed upon by it, to make the provisions of such law retroactive so as to protect teachers now employed who may be unjustly dismissed; and be it further

Resolved, That the said commission shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the commission, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the commission may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said commission shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said commission or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. MORAN. RESOLUTION No. 46.

In the House of Representatives, March 8, 1937.

Whereas, The General Assembly biennially appropriates large sums of money to educational institutions not under the control of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Educational institutions under the control of the Commonwealth, the public school system and charitable institutions are inadequately financed; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Members of the House of Representatives that further State-aid to educational institutions not under the control of the Commonwealth should be discontinued, and that the moneys heretofore appropriated to such institutions should be distributed in the form of increased appropriations to educational institutions under the control of the Commonwealth, to the support of the public schools and to charitable institutions.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I understand there are none of the first reading bills on file.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct. The first reading bills are not on file for the reason that we are waiting on one very important bill before the bills on the first reading calendar are filed.

Does the gentleman insist on the bills being in the file before taking them up on first reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I don't like to insist upon that, and I cannot speak for all of the members who might have questions on some points in the bills. I realize that most of the first reading bills are generally passed without question. Can we not pass over these?

The SPEAKER. The bills will be passed over. The Chair is informed that Printer's No. 251 is the last bill on file. We will take up on second reading all the bills that are on file on the desks of the members.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 743, as follows:

Section 4 Leases granted by the Board under this act shall be granted for a period not exceeding fifty years except that municipalities may be granted leases for the term of their use and occupancy of the land Each lease shall require the payment by every lessee other than a municipality of a rental payable in advance and reasonably commensurate with the value o fthe land for leasing purposes which shall be fixed by the Board In the event the applicant desires to develop or place or erect improvements upon any land leased under this act the Board shall fix a time within which the development or placement or erection of improvements necessary for the use and occupancy of the land shall be completed to an effective point and in every such case the lease shall contain a provision that it shall become void unless the lessee effects such development of improvements within the time fixed by the Board Every lease may contain such other conditions as the Board may deem necessary for the protection of the public interest Any lease granted under this act may be revoked by the Board for nonpayment of rentals and for noncompliance with any of the terms of the lease or any of the provisions of this act

Section 5 After the twentieth year of any lease if it shall so long continue in force every lessee except a municipality shall set aside an amortization fund based upon the actual legitimate cost of permanent improvements placed or erected upon the land by the lessee at a rate to be approved by the Board For such purposes the Board is hereby authorized and directed to determine for each lease the actual legitimate original cost of all permanent improvements placed or erected on lands leased under the provisions of this act and of all additions to and betterments thereof

Section 6 Upon the expiration of the term of a lease whether fifty years or less the Board may grant a lease for the same land to the same lessee or any other applicant In every such case the Board shall give preference to applications by municipalities If the lease of such land is not granted to the same lessee the new lessee shall pay to the former lessee an amount equal to the actual legitimate investment in the development of or the improvements placed or erected on such leased land less an amount for dpreciation and less the amount of the amortization reserve as of the date of the termination of the lease Whether the lease shall be granted anew to the former lessee or to some other applicant th annual rental fixed by the Board shall be based on the same kind of value as for the original lease plus the amount of such amortization reserve and the setting aside of the amortization reserve shall be continued until it together with proper depreciation reserves shall absorb the entire cost of the development of or the improvements placed or erected on the leased land

Section 7 No voluntary transfer of any lease or of the rights granted thereunder shall be made by any lessee without the written approval of the Board and any successor or assignee of the rights of any lessee shall be subject to all the conditions of the lease

Section 8 The Board is hereby empowered to hold hearings subpoena witnesses perform any and all acts make and enforce such rules and regulations and issue such orders not inconsistent with this act as it may deem necessary and proper for carrying out the purposes of this act The Board is also empowered to require all lessees under this act to make such reports keep such accounts and give such information at any time as the Board may deem proper for carrying out the provisions and purposes of this act

Section 9 Nothing in this act shall be construed to abrogate in any way whatsoever any title right or interest the Commonwealth may have in any part of the bed of any stream lake or other body of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth which was encroached upon by any person prior to the effective date of this act and which is now used and occupied by such person

Section 10 All rentals and other moneys collected or received by the Board under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue and credited to the General Fund

Section 11 Any person who shall hereafter encroach upon or occupy or continue to occupy any land previously encroached upon which forms part of the bed of any stream lake or other body of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth and which is owned by the Commonwealth without obtaining a lease for the use and occupancy of such land as required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than Five Hundred Dollars ($500) or not more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) or to undergo imprisonment for a term of one year or both in the discreation of the court

Section 12 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 869, as follows:

An Act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement negotiated by Commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and Commissioners of the State of Ohio relative to the development use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes

Whereas Commissioners for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and Commissioners for the State of Ohio negotiated a compact or agreement relative to the development use and regulation of Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes and

Whereas Such compact or agreement has been executed in duplicate one for each State on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by and through the Water and Power Resources Board and on behalf of the State of Ohio by and through the Conservation Division which compact or agreement is contained in the following words

AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA AND THE STATE OF OHIO RE PYMATUNING LAKE

This Agreement made and concluded between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania acting by and through its lawfully authorized agency namely the Water and Power Resources Board as party of the first part and the State of Ohio acting by and through its lawfully authorized agency namely its Director of Conservation as party of the second part

Witnesseth

Whereas By Act of Assembly of Pennsylvania approved May 2 1929 P. L. 1503 as amended by Acts of May 5 1931 P. L. 84 April 24 1933 P. L. 67 and July 9 1935 P L 619 the Department of Forests and Waters of Pennsylvania acting through the Water and Power Resources Board was authorized inter alia to complete the work begun and continued under an act approved July 25 1913 P L 1270 entitled "An Act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary hereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation" and did duly complete said work whereby there was created a lake or reservoir now known and hereinafter called Pymatuning Lake extending in part across the boundary line between said States of Ohio and Pennsylvania into the State of Ohio and

Whereas The primary purposes of the project by which said lake was created was to conserve water draining said swamp all of which has its source in Pennsylvania as well as control floods and regulate the flow of water in the Shenango and Beaver Rivers and secondary thereto permit the water and the land surrounding the same to be used for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes under such terms and conditions as the Water and Power Resources Board might determine in such way or ways as in the opinion of the said Board will not materially interfere with the primary purpose in said acts of assembly and hereinbefore specifically referred to and

Whereas In view of the fact that a certain part of the lake extends into the State of Ohio whereby it is necessary and desirable that the use of the lake for the secondary purposes namely hunting fishing and recreational use be uniformly provided for as well as to guard against inconveniences and mischiefs which might hereafter arise from the uncertainty of jurisdiction within and on said lake to the end that the lake may be adequately policed and conflicts of jurisdiction for the arrest and punishment of offenders be avoided

Now Then Therefore in order that law and justice may in all such cases be executed and take effect upon said lake from shore to shore in all parts and places thereof where the lake is a boundary between said states the said parties hereto do agree for and in behalf of their respective states in the manner following

1 General Use

It is hereby agreed that the entire Pymatuning Lake or Reservoir subject to the primary use thereof by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for regulating the flow of the water in the Shenango and Beaver Rivers as in Paragraph 9 hereinafter more specifically mentioned shall be open for recreational use equally to the citizens of both contracting parties save as restricted as to hunting fishing and boating in this agreement set forth or hereafter mutually agreed upon by both parties but no person shall be permitted to hunt or fish therein or thereon unless the lawful holder of a fishing or hunting license authorizing him or her so to do issued by the proper authorities of Pennsylvania or of Ohio

2. Arrest and Prosecution of Offenders

That each state shall enjoy and exercise a concurrent jurisdiction upon the water (but not upon the dry land) between the shores of said lake including the islands therein with respect to the arrest and prosecution of offenders but in such sort that any boat or vessel fastened to or aground on the shore of either state shall be considered exclusively within the jurisdiction of said state but that all capital and other offenses trespasses or damages committed on or over said lake the judicial investigation and determination thereof shall be exclusively vested in the state wherein the offender or person charged with such offense shall be first apprehended arrested prosecuted or first brought to trial it being the intent of this agreement that an offender may be pursued and arrested anywhere on or over said lake or shores thereof or islands therein regardless of the boundary line by any peace officers or persons of either state authorized to make arrests whether the offenses be committed on or over any part of the lake on the shores or islands therein regardless of the state in which the place where the offense was committed lies

3 Islands

All Islands within the lake shall be considered as part of the State of Pennsylvania

4 Pollution of Water

The lake shall forever be protected against pollution of its waters by industrial trade waste individual or municipal sewage from shore to boat and the discharge of any noxious or deleterious substance liquid or solid into the waters of the lake which is or may become inimical or injurious to public health or to animal or aquatic life is hereby expressly forbidden

No sewage may be discharged into the waters of the lake except after complete treatment and then only upon permit first approved by the Health Departments of both states.

5 Boats and Vessels

No power or motor boats nor hydroplanes or aquaplanes shall be permitted anywhere on said lake except such police or administration motor boats to the number which shall be mutually agreed upon by the parties hereto Sail boats row boats and canoes shall be permitted provided they first obtain a license from the respective state of which the owner is a resident under such regulations as each party to this agreement may now have or hereafter adopt

6 Fishing

Any person possessing a duly issued fishing license by either state shall be permitted to fish anywhere on the entire lake between the low water marks (except such portion thereof as is closed to fishing by Paragraph 8 hereof or such further portion as may hereafter by regulation be mutually agreed to by the parties hereto) but no fisherman shall be entitled to fish from the shores of the state of which he is a non-resident unless he complies with the non-resident fishing license law of said state

In order to permit the fish to fully propagate and develop no part of the lake shall be open for fishing until July 1 1937 and thereafter shall be closed in each year between December 10 and June 30

Until otherwise mutually agreed to by both parties hereto the creel size and season limits for the respective kinds of fish caught shall be such as may hereafter be agreed upon between the two states

7 Reciprocal Hunting Rights

Reciprocal hunting rights are hereby granted to the licensed hunters of each state on the water of that portion of the lake both in Pennsylvania and Ohio over the area bounded on the south by an east and west line crossing the State boundary 0.5 of mile north of Simons Ohio and on the north by a line drawn between the point at which the Padanaram Road crosses the State boundary and a point formerly known as the Pollock Bridge but such reciprocal hunting rights hereby granted shall extend only to such wild migatory birds as are covered by the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty and Federal Laws adopted thereunder

Hunting in such portions of the lake as are not included in the area above described and designated shall be and

remain under the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

No permanent blinds shall be erected anywhere on the lake and shores thereof but this provision shall not be interpreted as forbidding the use of a boat as a blind temporarily moored to or grounded on the shore of the lake or islands thereof

8 Wild Game and Fish Sanctuary

A The Game Commission of the State of Pennsylvania having established a wild migratory bird and game sanctuary or refuge in that part of the lake located northwest of the Pennsylvania Railroad Crossing it is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall be interpreted as entitling the residents of either state whether licensed to fish or hunt or otherwise to fish hunt or trespass or enter upon said sanctuary for any purpose whatsoever Anyone so doing shall be amenable to prosecution therefor under the Game Laws of the State of Pennsylvania applicable to game refuges.

B The Conservation Division of the Department of Agriculture of the State of Ohio having established a fish sanctuary and game refuge in the following portion of the lake

Being the southerly parts of Lots Numbers 79 and 80 Richmond Township all of Lot Number 41 and all of Lot Number 42 except the westerly 1000 feet thereof in Andover Township Ashtabula County Ohio

Beginning at a point in the west line of Lot Number 79 that is 1523 feet south of the north line of Lot Number 79 also being the center line of Padanaram Road thence southerly along the County Highway along the westerly side of Lot Number 79 1869.5 feet to the north line of Andover Township thence westerly along the northerly line of Andover Township 939.7 feet to the northwest corner of Lot Number 41 thence southerly along the highway that marks the westerly line of Lot Number 42 1000 feet to a point thence of Lot Number 42 thence easterly along the north line of lot Number 42 1000 feet to a point thence in a southerly direction parallel to and 100 feet easterly from the westerly line of Lot Number 42 2734 feet more or less to the southerly line of Lot Number 42 thence easterly, along the said southerly line of Lot Number 42 5180.4 feet to the Ohio and Pennsylvania State Line thence northerly along said Ohio and Pennsylvania State Line 7297.6 feet more or less to a point that is 1523 feet southerly from the north line of Lot Number 80 thence in a westerly direction 1523 feet southerly from and parallel to the north line of Lots Numbers 79 and 80 5260 feet more or less to the place of beginning

It is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall be interpreted as entitling the residents of either state whether licensed to fish or otherwise to fish in hunt trespass or enter upon said sanctuary for any purspose whatsoever Anyone so doing shall become amenable to prosecution therefor under the laws of the State of Ohio applicable thereto

9 Reservation of Pennsylvania's Right to the Body of the Water

It is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall operate to deny limit or restrict the right of the Water and Power Resources Board of Pennsylvania or any authority established hereafter by said state to exercise such power to at any time now or hereafter raise or draw off so much of the waters of the lake as in their sole judgment may be necessary to maintain or regulate the flow of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers in furtherance of the primary purpose for which said lake was established and said Water and Power Resources Board shall without let or hindrance have the full right irrespective of other considerations to release so much of the water as they may deem proper to maintain the flow of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers irrespective of its effect on the level of the lake or use thereof for other purposes

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 723, as follows:

An Act to amend section five hundred and eighty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" as amended extending the powers of the county commissioners in the construction and maintenance of comfort stations

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section five hundred and eighty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" as amended by the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws 401) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 580 Appropriations for Comfort Stations The board of county commissioners may appropriate moneys to assist any city or borough being the county seat or any city or borough therein having a population of ten thousand or more inhabitants to construct and maintain comfort stations within the boundaries of the county

The county commissioners in cooperation with the municipal authorities of the municipality wherein the court house lies may provide and equip and maintain in the court house rest or waiting rooms for females and provide female attendants thereof One-half of the cost of providing such rooms and of maintaining the same including salaries and all incidental expenses shall be paid by the county and the other half by the municipality for all which purposes the county commissioners and said authorities may respectively appropriate moneys

Any part of any ground heretofore or hereafter so selected and acquired by any county for the purpose of a court house jail or workhouse may be leased by such county to any municipality being the county seat of such county for the purpose of the construction thereon of a public comfort station by such municipality

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 32

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 22, 1937.

Whereas, The port of Philadelphia is of great importance as a port in the volume of domestic shipping and the domestic commerce flowing through the port of Philadelphia has increased substantially over and above increases in such commerce for other ports on the eastern seaboard; and

Whereas, Despite such increase in domestic commerce there has been no increase but on the contrary a diversion and decrease in the flow of foreign commerce through the port of Philadelphia for the principal reason that the channel to and from Philadelphia to the Atlantic Ocean is not deep enough to accommodate the entry of ships coming from foreign ports; and

Whereas, The port of Philadelphia is the only port of this Commonwealth for the entry and flow of foreign commerce and it is of vital interest to protect and develop facilities necessary for such foreign commerce; and

Whereas, In order to prevent great economic loss to industry in Pennsylvania by reason of lack of a channel deep enough to admit entry of foreign commerce it is necessary that the channel be deepened from Philadelphia to the Atlantic Ocean; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully petitions the Congress of the United States to enact the necessary legislation and to make the necessary appropriation to deepen the channel from the port of Philadelphia to the Atlantic Ocean to a depth of at least forty (40) feet with suitable widths; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each Senator and Representative in the Congress of the United States from this Commonwealth by the Chief Clerk of this House.

HOUSE BILL No. 541.

An Act directing the Department of Military Affairs to select procure furnish and award certain decorations medals and badges

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in amendments the Senate has concurred.

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

HOUSE BILL No. 94.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one Article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

With information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

SPECIAL ORDER ON HOUSE RESOLUTIONS Nos. 41 and 42.

The SPEAKER. The hour of two o'clock having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the Special Order of business, which is the reports of the Committee on Elections in the contest of McClester against Murrin from the County of Butler.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. SPeaker, I call up Resolution No. 42, Printer's No. 221, which is the majority report of the Committee on Elections in the contested election case of Albert B. McClester against J. Brady Murrin in the County of Butler, and I move for the adoption of the resolution.

The majority report and the resolutions were read by the Clerk as follows:

In Re Contested Election of J. Brady Murrin
As State Representative

Report of the Committee on Elections of the House of Representatives

In the Case of

Albert B. McClester vs J. Brady Murrin from the Count of Butler

To The Hon Roy Furman Speaker of the House of Representatives

Your Committee to whom was referred the Contested Case of McClester vs Murrin from the County of Butler respectively reports

That the testimony taken by the Court Below in this proceeding was carefully reviewed and after a public hearing in which arguments and briefs were submitted by learned counsel for both parties in this contest this Committee reports the following findings of facts and conclusions of law

1 By the triplicate returns of the election for Representative for said County as certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth J Brady Murrin received 16,202 votes and Albert B McClester received 16,187 votes

2 A Petition was duly filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Butler County contesting the election of J Brady Murrin town which an Answer was filed and a justification of the matters at issue was had and a signed decree of the Court was entered January 5th 1937 finding that Albert B McClester received a majority of the legal votes for Representative in the Election held in said County on the 3rd day of November last and was entitled to the Certificate of Election

3 The matters controverted both before the Court and the Committee may be classed under three heads

a Whether the votes received by Albert McClester candidate of the Prohibition Party be added to the votes received by Albert B McClester a candidate of the Republican Party

b Whether ballots marked in the Party square opposite the Party name either Democrat Republican or Prohibition and also marked in the Party square opposite the name Old Age Pension or opposite the name of any other Party not having candidates for the office of Representative in the General Assembly be counted for candidates for that office of either the Republican Democrat or Phohibition Party as the mark indicates

c Whether the votes cast by twenty-two residents of the Second Ward of Butler Township all of whom had all of the qualifications of an elector of that Ward as required by the Constitution but whose names could not be found by the Election Officers on the list of registered voters furnished by the County Commissioners and who were permitted to vote after the supply of affidavit blanks were exhausted and each of them with a qualified elector as witness as required by law had been questioned orally by the election officers as to the matters and things set out in the affidavit forms as required by law and duly sworn by the Judge of Election illegal and void

DISCUSSION

All Parties in interest agree and the law is well settled on the authority of this Committee to adjudicate this contest The Constitution of Pennsylvania in force before that of 1874 went into effect declares

"Each House shall judge of the qualifications of its members"

It is further provided that contested elections should be determined by a House committee to be selected performed and regulated by law Article II Section 9 of the Constitution of 1874 declares

'Each House shall judge of the election and qualification of its members"

CUMULATION OF VOTES

Can the votes received by Albert McClester candidate of the Prohibition Party be added to the votes received by Albert B McClester candidate of the Republican Party

We are convinced that as a matter of fact and as determined by the Court Below that Albert B McClester and Albert McClester is one and the same person but when these names appear on a balot they are two distinct individuals

The Act of April 29 1903 Pamphlet Laws 338 as cited in 25 Purdon's Statutes Section 1729 provides

"Whenever any candidate shall receive more than one nomination for the same office his name shall be printed once and the names of the political parties so nominating him shall be printed to the right of the name of such candidate"

The Committee is in accord with the opinion of the Court Below when it stated that the names of Albert McClester and Albert B McClester as they appear on the ballot are the names of two distinct individuals voters not having definite knowledge of the identity of Albert B McClester and Albert McClester might vote for them on both the Prohibition and Republican Party on the same ballot and some knowing the names to represent the identical individual might make a cross (x) mark after each name If the votes be cumulated the voter so marking his ballot will be permited to vote twice for the same candidate The Court Below sitting as a Return Board during its investigation of this contest disclosed ballots with a cross (x) mark after Albert B McClester Republican and also after Albert McClester Prohibition on the same ballot

In deciding the question as to whether the fact that Albert B McClester are one and the same person we must be guided by the law as laid down by the Supreme Court in Re Schaffer Appeal 185 Atlantic Reporter Page 645 In that case which was a councilmanic election in the Borough of Homestead in which two members were to be elected to Council the name of E C Shaffer was printed on the official ballot in one block as the Democratic candidate and the name E C Schaffer as Citizens candidate in another block and as disclosed by the testimony there were two persons by the name of E C Shaffer in the Borough of Homestead Judge Elder Marshall of the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County revoked the Certificate of Election on the ground that unlawful cumulative voting was possible under these circumstances and that the voters were confused by the two names Judge Elder Marshall in his opinion held that the cumulation of votes in favor of Schaffer could not lawfully be made citing in his opinion Carothers Election Contest 25 Pa Dist Report 1151 In the later case Judge Swearingen said

"Plainly one of the purposes of this provision (Supra) is to prevent cumulative voting for each elector has the right to vote for more than one candidate It is a wise regulation intended to frustrate fraud and should be strictly enforced when the same person is a candidate of more than one party and his name apears on the ballot under each party with name spelled differently and must be assumed under such provision that the candidate of each party is a distinct individual and votes for each cannot be cumulated"

The Supreme Court in the Schaffer Appeal affirmed the judgment of Judge Elder Marshall in a per curiam opinion

The Committee under the decisions heretofore set forth must therefore conclude that the votes received by Albert McClester cannot be added to the votes received by Albert B McClester

Can a Ballot marked in the Party Square opposite the Party name either Republican Democrat or Prohibition and also marked in the Party square opposite the Party name Old Age Pension or opposite the name of any other Party not having candidates for the Office of Representative in the General Assembly be counted for candidates for that office of either the Republican Democrat or Prohibition Party as the mark indicates

The Republican Democrat and Prohibition Parties each had on the ballot the names of candidates for all offices to be voted for at this election The Old Age pension party did not have the name of any candidate for any office on the ballot except that of Bernard Davidowitz for Auditor-General and the other parties named on the ballot had one or more candidates for the national and state offices and excepting the Republican Democrat and Prohibition Parties none of them had the names of candidates for the Office of Representative in the General Assembly

We are here guided by the decision of the Supreme Court in an opinion filed November 24 1936 In Re-Appeal Middle Paxton Township which originated in Dauphin County Court with facts practically identical with the facts in this contest in which the Court held that a ballot marked in more than one party square is void The Committee concurs in this opinion

Are the votes cast by twenty-two residents of the Second Ward of Butler Township all of whom had all of the qualifications of an elector of that Ward as required by the Constitution but whose names could not be found by the Election Officers on the List of Registered Voters furnished by the County Commissioners and who were permitted to vote after the supply of affidavit blanks were exhausted and each of them with a qualified elector as witness as required by law had been questioned orally by the election officers as to matters and things set out in the affidavit forms as required by law and duly sworn by the Judge of Election illegal and void

From the facts submitted to this Committee it appears that approximately twenty-two non-registered voters of the Second Ward of Butler Township came to vote on the last election day but their names could not be found by the Election Officers in charge of said polling place on the Registered Voters List furnished said Election Board by the County Commissioners The supply of affidavit blanks furnished the board by the Commissioners was also exhausted and members of the Boards called the County Commissioners Office and the homes of the Commissioners in regard to obtaining a further supply of affidavits but received no response Not wishing to deny the right of these voters to cast their ballots each voter after producing a qualified elector witness and after a thorough oral examination by the Election Officers as to the matters and things set out in the affidavit forms as required by law were duly sworn (orally) by the Judge of Election and permitted to cast their votes Counsel for Albert B McClester upon discovering this as a fact petitioned the Court and the Court Below as a matter of law determined that the vote of a non-registered voter cast without his having filed with the Election officers an affidavit in writing or partly printed and partly written complete or incomplete were illegal and could not be counted

With this conclusion this Committee cannot agree In each Session of the Assembly following the adoption of the Constitution of 1874 legislation has been enacted to encourage the voter in exercising his right of franchise so that we may in the end have a popular government expressing the will of the people and not of any privileged class Similar laws have been enacted to prevent fraud and further legislation enacted removing the restrictions from the electorate so as to encourage voting Section I of Article 8 of the Constitution has been amended eliminating the assessment and payment of a tax as a qualification for voting Section 4 of the Act of January 17 1934 Pamphlet Laws 236 enacted in the Special Session of 1934 which is reported in 25 Purdon's Statutes Section 1384 amends Section 10 of the Act of 1874 eliminating the assessment and payment of a tax as a qualification for voting and the act which follows in substance is pertinent to this contest reads as follows

"On the day of election in any election district in which personal registration is not required any person whose name shall not appear on the registry of voters and who claims the right to vote at said election shall produce at least one qualified voter of the district as a witness to the residence of the claimant in the district in which he claims to be a voter for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election which witness shall be sworn or affirmed and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit to the facts stated by him which affidavit shall define clearly where the residence is of the person so claiming to be a voter and the person so claiming the right to vote shall also take and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit stating to the best of his knowledge and belief when and where he was born that he has been a citizen of the United States for one month and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that he has resided in the Commonwealth one year or if formerly a qualified elector or a native born citizen thereof and has removed therefrom and returned that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election that he has resided in the district in which he claims to be a voter for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election that he has not moved into the district for the purpose of voting therein"

"Provided That in case any person is allowed to vote at an election who is not registered but makes an affidavit which by reason of the failure to fully observe the requirements of this section is insufficient in any contest growing out of said election it shall be lawful to correct any mistakes or supply any deficiencies in such affidavit so as to show that the said person was in fact a qualified voter but this shall not apply to non-registered voters who make no affidavit or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law"

Counsel for Albert B McClester submitted in their arguments before the Committee and in their briefs filed cases indicating that a vote cast by one not on the Registry List and for whom no affidavit is filed is illegal and void citing further the Act of July 2 1839 as amended by the Act of April 17 1869 commonly known as Registry Law which act was re-enacted by the Act of 1874 1899 and 1933 (25 P S 1388) Counsel places great stress upon the Opinion of Justice Trunkey in re Contested Case of Martin McDonough 105 Pa 488 Counsel for Albert B McClester further cites the case of the Contested Election of Cusick 136 Pa 459 (1890) In that case Chief Justice Paxson in writing the opinion stated that

"The 10th Section of the Act of 1874 was the mandatory and that where an affidavit has been made in compliance with the act and the informality is the result of the ignorance of the officer before whom it was taken the difficulty could be cured and the paper reformed upon due proof of what occurred at the time"

But

The Court further stated in its opinion

"The law however does not intend that a duly qualified elector should lose his vote for the negligence or mispresion of an election officer Hence when the informality is the result of the ignorance or neglect or the officer such defect could be cured upon proof of what occurred at the time"

In another paragraph concerning the addition of the jurat by the attesting officer the Court said

"Why should the elector lose his vote because of the neglect of the officer of the law in attempting the jurat Such mistake may not only be innocent but is likely to occur at a crowded poll particularly in view of the fact that the election officers in many instances are without experience"

Similarly we may ask why should an elector lose his vote because the County Commissioners neglect to supply sufficient affidavit blanks

The law argued by Counsel for Albert B McClester as set forth in the foregoing opinions however is not applicable to the contest before this Committee for the Committee believes that the Legislature intended to rectify principles applicable in the Act of 1874 and supplements thereto by enacting into law the Act of 1934 supra to prevent the wholesale disqualification of voters who were qualified electors in every respect but who fail to fully comply with the law in voting especially by the insertion of the following provision in the Act of 1934 Supra

Provided that in case any person is allowed to vote at an election who is not registered but make an affidavit which by reason of the failure to fully observe the requirements of this section is insufficient in any contest growing out of said election it shall be lawful to correct any mistakes or supply any deficiencies in such affidavits so as to show that the said person was in fact a qualified voter but this shall not apply to non-registered voters who make no affidavits or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law

We believed that the intention of the Legislature is clear that it requires and permits non-registered voters to appear before the Court in any election contest to state their qualifications and prove that they are entitled to vote and in this election contest the eighteen (18) non-registered voters of the Second Ward of Butler Township the Borough of Millerstown and Clay Township who were qualified electors in every other respect rectified any deficiencies that existed in their right to cast their ballot when they were subpoenaed into Court in this contest and stated for whom they voted This was in direct compliance with the Act of 1934 Supra enacted since the Supreme Court's decision in the McDonough and Cusick contests which latter cases permitted the challenge of non-registered voters at elections for technical reasons

The intention of the Legislature in enacting into law the Act of 1934 and all pre-existing legislation had as its primary objective the protection of the citizens prerogative of exercising his right to vote and not to discourage such inherent privilege established by our forefathers which has made this country's government truly a peoples government Under no circumstances has the legislature by inference or otherwise enacted any law to discourage this privilege and whether or not an oral oath was made or an improper affidavit submitted is of little consequence when one carefully scrutinizes the testimony and ascertains under what circumstances these eighteen (18) votes were cast Certainly these eighteen (18) non-registered voters were not entitled to be penalized with such severity by the Court Below in being disfranchised when they submitted proper proof that they were qualified electors and secured a proper witness as required by law and only due to the failure of the Election Board or the County Commissioners to have on hand sufficient affidavits as required by law prevented them from completing same Counsel for both parties who argued before this Committee agreed and the Court Below distinctly stated in its opinion

"There is no evidence of fraud in the conduct of the election in receiving counting or computing and returning the votes cast in the Second Ward of Butler Township the Borough of Millerstown or Clay Township the three districts investigated in which the ballot boxes were opened and the vote recounted nor anything from which fraud might be inferred The mistakes found during the investigation and the re-count were honest mistakes of judgment"

The intent of the Legislature in enacting the Act of 1934 and all pre-existing legislation was to prevent fraud and to preserve the purity of the ballot This Committee believes in the unhampered and free use of the ballot and in the absence of fraud conclusively established in this contest this Committee is reluctant to interfere with the will of the voters

This Committee commends the Election Board of the Second Ward of Butler Township for permitting these eighteen (18) qualified voters to cast their ballot in this most important election

In the absence of fraud with which fact all parties concur we are hesitant to disfranchise the eighteen (18) voters who cast their ballots in the second ward of Butler Township

When the Petition was presented by Counsel for McClester in the Court Below there were no averments of specific violations of the election law but only vague and indefinite averments as the Petition alleged that one hundred twenty-five (125) non-registered voters had voted in the Second Precinct of Butler Township and that not more than seventy-five (75) of these had voted upon affidavit so that some fifty (50) must have voted illegally No fraud was alleged or averred At the hearing before the Court Below Counsel for Albert B McClester were able to show that only eighteen (18) non-registered electors had voted without complying with the law as to affidavits etc These electors who were subpoenaed and testified in open Court and disclosing the secrecy of their ballots contrary to their Constitutional rights Seventeen (17) of the electors testified that they voted the straight Democratic Ticket and one (1) testified that he voted the Straight Republican Ticket This Committee believes that this action of the Court Below was improper and this principle was decided by the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth in the case of Gollma Sheriff Election 316 Pa 560 In that case the County held

"We regard the averance deficient in particularity within the opinion of Agnew Jr in the Election Cases 65 Pa 20 where the general rule of certainty to a common intent was applied

While pleading an election contest should not be governed by such strictness as to protect fraud yet neither should the acts of sworn officers chosen by the people be attacked without adequate and well-defined cause"

In the Petition filed by McClester the general averment was made that one hundred twenty-five (125) voters cast their ballots illegally but this being a general averment it does not supply the requirements set forth by the Supreme Court which further held in the Gollmar Sheriff Election Contest Supra

"The pleadings before us would seem only an effort to place the situation in such a light as to justify a voyage of exploration into a large numberof ballot boxes in the hope of ultimate discovery Such is not the province of a contest It may be accomplished under the Act of April 23 1927 Pamphlet Laws 360 (25 P S Section 2221-2126) but when a contest is once instituted it must rest on something more than general allegations inferences or innuendos"

It is an uncontested fact that the eighteen (18) electors all orally qualified The question is whether the act of 1934 Supra cited heretofore challenges their votes This Committee is of the opinion that to declare these votes invalid would open the door to greater fraud than to interpret the act literally In this proceeding all parties in interest definately agree that the electors and the election officers made every attempt to comply with the law The indolence if any is on the part of the County Commissioners The Legislature never intended that County Commissioners either through carelessness or laxity should be permitted to change the result of an election The Legislature intended common sense interpretation of the instructions which they provided in the proviso feature of the Act of 1934 Supra The last few lines of that act of Assembly reads

".....or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law" Every attempt in this contest was made by the qualified electors to comply with the law Should suffrage and their Constitutional rights be denied because of the delinquency of the County Commisssioners who were derelict in their duties That was not the Legislature's intent The Committee is in accord that if there was any error or defects in the casting of the ballots by the eighteen qualified electors who were not registered and who made an honest effort to comply with the law they were corrected when they appeared in open court and under oath which oath took on a sanctity of greater consequence than that of an ordinary affidavit taken before an Election Officer or a Notary Public It is a well established principle that the most solemn oath any individual can give in any proceeding is the oath taken before a Judge of any of our courts of record

If we are to follow the course of the arguments submitted by Counsel for McClester we would disfranchise the eighteen (18) voters of the Second Ward of Butler Township for technical reasons contrary to intent of the law made and provided in such cases and with this argument we are hesitant to follow This Committee wholeheartedly agrees that the existing laws tend to promote encouragement rather than discouragement of the use of the ballot

We therefore conclude that the eighteen (18) non-registered electors who voted in the Second Ward of Butler Township are legal and should be computed in the total vote calculation

Your Committee decides that according to the returns of the election held on November 3 1936 for the office of Representative for the County of Butler J BRADY MURRIN received the following votes

J BRADY MURRIN having received a majority of six votes being entitled to Certificate of Election

In accordance with these findings the Committee submits a Representative to the House of Representatives and is not entitled to a seat therein

RESOLVED that J BRADY MURRIN was duly elected a Representative to the House of Representatives from Butler County and is entitled to retained his seat which he now holds

RESOLVED in view of the circumstances surrounding this that ALBERT B McCLESTER was prompted by honest motives in the course he has pursued and upon established precedence we respectfully recommend payment of his expenses including reasonable counsel fees that he has incurred in the prosecution of his contest

On the question,

Will the House adopt the majority report and the resolutions therewith?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I call up Resolution No. 41, Printer's No. 220, which is the minority report of the Committee on Elections in the contested election case of Albert B. McClester against J. BradyMurrin in the County of Butler, and I offer it as an amendment and move the substitution of the minority for the majority report.

The minority report and the resolutions were read by the Clerk as follows:

In Re Appeal of J Brady Murrin and twenty or more Qualified Electors of the County of Butler from Decree of Common Pleas Court of Butler County in Contested Election Case of Albert B McClester and J Brady Murrin

In the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Regular Session 1937

Minority Report of the Committee on Elections

To the Honorable Roy Furman Speaker and the Honorable Members of the House of Representatives

The undersigned members of the Committee to whom was referred the above contested case from the County of Butler cannot agree with the report filed by the majority of the committee and hereby report their dissenting opinion

We believe that the Court of Butler County was correct in its opinion in this case and that Albert B McClester did receive more votes for the office of Representative in the General Assembly than J Brady Murrin was entitled to a Certificate of election and should be seated as a Representative in the General Assembly from the legislative district of Butler County

FACTS

The facts not fully set forth in the majority report of the committee are as follows

At the Primary election held in the County of Butler during the year 1936 the nominees of the Republican Party for Representative in the General Assembly were Dr. Wilbert Imbrie and Albert B McClester The nominees for the same office on the Democratic ticket were J Brady Murrin and William Klingler The nominees for Representative in the General Assembly on the Prohibition ticket were Brady Murrin and Albert McClester

The Compution Board provided the Secretary of the Commonwealth with a certificate of those receiving the highest number of votes All of the names appearing on that certificate were written in longhand by the Chairman of the Board At the bottom of the certificate appeared the names of the candiates for Representative in the General Assembly on the Prohibition ticket These names were typewritten and were "J Brady Murrin and Albert McClester" No steps were taken by J Brady Murrin under the statute in such case made and provided to have his name changed from Brady Murrin as it appeared in the official tally book to J Brady Murrin as it appears on the certificate The Secretary of the Commonwealth sent back the election proclamation including the form of the ballot That ballot form showed the Republican nominees to be Dr Wilbert Imbrie and Albert B McClester It showed the Democratic nominees to be J Brady Murrin and William Klingler It showed the Probition nominees to be J Brady Murrin and Albert McClester

the name "Albert B McClester" and after the name a bracket marked "Republican and Prohibitionist" and also printed the name J Brady Murrin and after it a bracket marked "Democratic and Prohibitionist" The various Election Boards returned the vote cast as follows J Brady Murrin Democratic 15,954 Prohibition 243 Non-Partisan 5 or a total of 16,202 Albert B McClester was returned as receiving 16,187 Republican votes and 325 Prohibition votes or a total of 16,512.

During the compution of these votes J Brady Murrin petitioned the Court of Common Pleas of Butler County Pennsylvania to correct the return sheet to comform with the official ballot alleging palpable fraud and mistake on the return sheet in the way which the party names were following the name "Albert B McClester" The Court of Common Pleas acting on such petition after a hearing held changed the printing of the return sheet to be "Albert B McClester Republician and Albert McClester Prohibition" In conformity with that Order of Court the Return Board returned the vote as "Albert B McClester Republican 16,187 and Albert McClester Prohibition 325" and those figures were certified by the court as a Returning Board to the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth

Within the time specified by the law twenty or more qualified electors of the County of Butler presented a petition to the Court of Common Pleas alleging an undue election and requesting an election contest to be framed in the court according to law The Court of Common Pleas of Butler County went into a full hearing of the matter and determined that the Prohibition vote received and credited to "Albert McClester" could not be cumulated with or added to the votes received and credited to "Albert B McClester" even though it was admitted on all sides that Albert McClester and Albert B McClester were one and the same persons However the court found that there were a number of illegal votes which had been voted for "J Brady Murrin" and after deducting the amount of the said illegel votes found that "Albert B McClester" had received eight (8) more legal votes than "J Brady Murrin" even though the three hundred twenty-five (325) Prohibition votes of "Albert McClester" were not cumulated The Court of Common Pleas also found that "Albert B McClester' was entitled to a certificate of election A certificated copy of this opinion of court and decree was filed with the Clerk of the House of Representatives on the day the present House met J Brady Murrin and twenty or more qualified electors of the County of Butler Pennsylvania have filed a petition in the House as a party aggrieved appealing from the decision of the Court of Butler County Honorable John H Wilson President Judge

The three questions for determination are set forth in the opinion of the Court below and the majority report of the committee

We fully concur in the disposition of the second question made by the majority report The law is well settled that a ballot marked in more than one party square is void See in re First Precinct of Middle Paxton Township Dauphin and cases therein cited and the opinion of the Supreme Court in the same case 188 Atl 112

In determining the first question the Court and the majority of the committee applied a strict interpretation of the law by refusing to cumulate the votes of Albert B McClester Republican and Albert McClester Prohibition

It is admitted as a fact and found as such by the Court below that Albert B McClester and Albert McClester in Butler County is one and the same person that he is the only male elector in the County of Butler named McClester and that political advertisements published circulated and passed throughout the county prior to the day of election some of which included his picture designated him as either Albert B. McClester or Albert McClester

Although admitting him to be one and the same person the Court refused to permit the votes cast for him as a candidate on the Prohibition ticket to be added to those cast for him on the Republican ticket on the grounds that voters might make a cross mark after each of his names and that thereby they might be permitted to vote twice for the same candidate

It is to be noted however that a voter who made a cross mark after the name of J. Brady Murrin in the Democratic Square and another in the Prohibition square following his name had their vote counted for J. Brady Murrin This is in accordance with the decisions of the court and is the law

It is assumed that the election boards counted the votes thus cast for J. Brady Murrin as only one It could just as well be assumed that the boards would not count twice a ballot in which a vote was marked for McClester at two different places However the weight of authority seems to be on the side of not cumulating these votes In re Shaffer 185 Atl 645 It is unfortunate that 325 qualified voters of the County of Butler who voted for Mr. McClester will not have their votes counted for him and will be disfranchised as far as that vote for Representative in the General Assembly is concerned but the established rule should be followed

It is in reversing the Court on its determination of the third question involved that the minority most emphatically dissents

Section 4 of the Act of January 17 1934 Pamphlet Laws 236 25 Purdon's 1384 amending Section 10 of the Act of 1874 provides as follows

"On the day of election in any election district in which personal registration is not required any person whose name shall not appear on the registry of voters and who claims the right to vote at said election shall produce at least one qualified voter of the district as a witness to the residence of the claimant in the district in which he claims to be a voter for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election which witness shall be sworn or affirmed and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit to the facts stated by him which affidavit shall define clearly where the residence is of the person so claiming to be a voter and the person so claiming the right to vote shall also take and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit stating to the best of his knowledge and belief when and where he was born that he has been a citizen of the United States for one month and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that he has resided in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for one year or if formerly a qualified elector or a native born citizen thereof and has removed therefrom and returned that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election that he has resided in the district in which he claims to be a voter for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election that he has not moved into the district for the purpose of voting therein"

"Provided That in case any person is allowed to vote at an election who is not registered but makes an affidavit which by reason of the failure to fully observe the requirements of this section is insufficient in any contest growing out of said election it shall be lawful to correct any mistakes or supply any deficiencies in such affidavit so as to show that the said person was in fact a qualified voter but this shall not apply to non-registered voters who make no affidavit or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law"

The lower Court refused to count the ballots of 18 non-registered voters who failed to file any affidavits It is contended in the majority report that law was complied with because an attempt was made to do so within the meaning of the statute when an oral oath was taken by these voters and their witnesses This clearly is not the case as a careful reading of the section will disclose

It is clear that the second paragraph of the above section refers only to cases of a voter "who makes an affidavit" The section ends with the following "This shall not apply to non-registered voters who made no affidavit or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law" The word "this" can refer to only one thing to wit "to correct any mistake or supply any deficiency in such affidavit so as to show that said person was in fact a qualified voter"

The majority of this committee erred (1) in disregarding the words "but makes an affidavit" (2) in not determining to what the word "this" refers and (3) in disregarding the words 'in said affidavit" The section does not permit the supplying of any deficiency in the qualification as contended by the majority report The correction can be made or the deficiency supplied "in such affidavit"

In 18 of the 22 cases in question there was no affidavit An oral oath is not an affidavit Webster says an affidavit is "a sworn statement in writing" Black's Law Dictionary "written or printed declaration or statement of facts * * * confirmed by oath" Bouvier "a statement or declaration reduced to writing" and our Courts say that 'affidavit' is not an ambiguous word It signifies a written attestation * * * in contradiction to 'oath' which is a mere oral attestation" Black v Cochran 21 Pa C C 326 "There is no such thing as an unwritten affidavit" Windley vs Bradway 77 N C 233

The law was correctly applied by the Court below in permitting insufficient affidavits made by four of the voters to be corrected or the deficiency supplied That is the meaning of the provision quoted above and the only possible construction that can properly be placed upon it

Clearly the statute has not been complied with by the taking of an oral oath Just as clearly does the act in question block the way to supplying any deficiency in the qualifying of a non-registered voter except to correct or supply a deficiency "in an affidavit"

If fraud is not "conclusively" established voters should not be franchised the majority report states as a principle of law apparently arrived at between the determination of the first and third question in this case It is an entirely new principle

In construing the election laws the courts have consistently assumed and held that the legislature meant what it said When we said that in order for a non-registered voter to qualify he "shall take and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit" and his witness "shall" subscribe a written affidavit the courts assumed we intended what we said

The Court in this case stated

"We must determine this question not as an individual but as a Court bound to administer the law as it is written and construed by the Appellate Courts not only in the interest of or to preserve the right of the individual voter but also to preserve intact and inviolate the rules laid down by the law imposing a duty on the voter and on the election officers and also to guarantee the purity of the ballot and to prevent fraud and dishonesty in the conduct of elections and while we are convinced that these nonregistered voters acted honestly in casting the ballots complained of and did all they could reasonably do under the circumstances and that the votes cast by each of them and received by the Election Officers was honestly cast received and counted we cannot escape the conclusion that the law which says that before a non-registered voter shall be permitted to vote he shall file with the election officers an affidavit in writing or partly written and partly printed in which he sets forth his qualifications as a voter is mandatory and binding on the voter the election officers and the Court To hold otherwise would open the way to fraud in the conduct of elections

"We therefore conclude that the vote of a nonregistered voter cast without his having filed with the election officers an affidavit in writing or partly printed and partly written complete or incomplete is illegal and cannot be counted"

The law as enacted by the legislature to prevent fraud does not establish a harsh rule Even under the unusual circumstances of this case it would have been no great hardship to comply with the law Affidavits could have been at least partly typed or written in a very few minutes The affidavit forms could have been subscribed to by the voter and witnessed on the back the information necessary to complete the printed form could have been noted thereon

Supposing that the facts in this case would have been that without evidence of fraud the supply of ballots had been exhausted and the 18 qualified voters would have written on a paper given them by the election board "I vote for the entire Democratic ticket" We can conceive of no one who would suggest that under the law those votes could be counted even though there was no fraud even though 18 qualified voters would be disfranchised through no fault of their own and even though their intent was clearly indicated

In the determination of the first question 325 qualified voters of Butler County failed to have their votes counted for the man whom they cast them the only male McClester in Butler County Through no fault of their own without fraud they were disfranchised as to a Representative in the General Assembly

The technical point raised on the sufficiency of the contestant's petition is without merit as the Court below legal votes were cast the approximate number the reason held The petition outlined the district in which the illthey were illegal that it would change the result of the election and asked permission to add names of parties who voted illegal which subsequently was don Certainly this was a compliance with the law as was also the inquiry of the manner in which the illegally cast ballots were marked

We feel that in reversing the lower court the majority report clearly evades the statute quoted above When laws are enacted they should be followed They should be followed as to all points in issue regardless of political affiliations of the contestant They should especially be followed by the legislature which enacts the laws We feel that the majority report is a clear evasion of the statutes and the decisions of the Court interpreting them that it is inconsistent and that it is contrary to all law We are of the opinion that the resolution submitted in the majority report should be defeated that the ruling of the Court below should be affirmed and Albert B McClester declared elected and seated as a member of this Honorable body

We therefore submit the following resolutions suggest their substitution for those submitted by the majority members of the committee and recommend their passage

Resolved That the decision of the Court of Common Pleas of Butler County be and is hereby confirmed

sentative in the General Assembly of the Legislative Dis-

Resolved That J Brady Murrin was not elected a Reprerict of Butler County and is not entitled to a seat in the House of Representatives

Resolved that Albert B. McClester was duly elected a Representative in the General Assembly of the Legislature District of Butler County and is entitled to a seat in this House of Representatives

Resolved In view of the circumstances surrounding this case that J Brady Murrin was prompted by honest motives in the course he has pursued and upon established precedence payment of his expenses including reasonable counsel fees that he has incurred in the prosecution of his contest is hereby allowed and directed to be paid

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment which substitutes the minority report and the resolutions therewith for the majority report?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to say at the outset of this debate that whatever remarks are made nothing should be considered as reflecting on the gentleman from Butler Mr. Murrin, who sits in this body. We have known him well and we all recognize him as an honorable gentleman. I want to say further that I have received, as one who was appointed by the Republican side of this House to look after the interests of the Republican contestant, the kindest consideration from the committee; and from all of their members, including the sub-committee, which handled this matter, the Chairman of the Committee on Elections and the Committee on Elections.

There are a lot of good and honorable members among the Democratic party in this House. I have a great deal of respect for the many members on the Democratic side of this House, whom I know very well. I know of their keen sense of justice, and I have experienced it in a good many personal dealings with them. But, I want to say that I cannot always understand their sense of political justice. I sometimes wonder whether they have two senses of justice, one their personal sense and one their political sense of justice. I sometimes wonder whether they might be working under directions of people who do not have as keen a sense of justice as those members whom I know. I want to say that in my opinion this is one of the cases in which the Democratic members of this House are not exhibiting that keen sense of justice which I know they as individual members do have. If any Republican court of Pennsylvania would so totally disregard the law and the provisions of the statute in order to favor a friend, as the House of Representatives will in deciding this election contest case against Albert B. McClester, the Governor would immediately issue a statement, the Senate would demand an investigation and the House would proceed with impeachment proceedings.

In this contest the Republican contestant did not face a friendly court. The court of Butler County is Democratic, but as is the custom in men elevated to the bench, that judge was able to put aside his partisanism, he was able to put aside any political prejudice which he might have had and he was able to decide this question on its merits and apply the clear provisions of the statute. Now, I do not care nor desire to go into a lengthy technical discussion of the legal points involved. Yet I think it is necessary to call to the attention of this House a few of the facts and a few of the principles of law that are involved. I hope that you have read both the majority and the minority reports. I desire however to call to your attention a few of the facts.

In the primaries of 1936 the Republican nominees for Representative in the General Assembly from the legislative district of Butler County were Albert B. McClester and another person; the Democratic nominees were J. Brady Murrin and another person; the Prohibition nominees were Brady Murrin without the "J", and Albert McClester without the "B." Now, when the returns were made the "J" was added on to the name of Brady Murrin, but the "B" was not added to the name of Albert McClester. As a result of that, when the ballots were made out they were made out with the name of J. Brady Murrin appearing on them, and after it the name of the party affiliation, Democratic, and the party affiliation, Prohibition, but the name of Albert B. McClester appeared as a Republican and the name of Albert McClester again as a Prohibitionist. As a result of this and as a result of the application of a very technical and harsh rule of law, J. Brady Murrin had counted as a part of his total vote all of the Prohibition votes cast for him, while Mr. McClester did not have counted for him any of the Prohibition votes cast for him, although it was admitted and found by the court as a fact that Albert McClester and Albert B. McClester were one and the same person, and although it was admitted and found as a fact that Albert McClester and Albert B. McClester had his picture and his name circulated throughout the county in those two forms. The record farther shows that he was the only male voter in the entire county by the name of McClester. This, it seems, made impossible any degree of confusion. But, applying the strict provisions of the law, it was decided by the court below that those three hundred and twenty-five Prohibition votes cast for Mr. McClester could not be counted, and we in the minority report have found that that is a proper interpretation of the law because the Supreme Court, I think, has established it as a rule and a rule of law should be followed.

I bring that point up at this time only for the purpose of applying it to the third question involved in this case. The second point of law is one that I probably know more about than any of the others, but inasmuch as the court below and the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the majority report and the minority report all seem to be in accord as to what the law is, I do not think it is necessary to say anything about it.

That brings us to the third question, the point upon which the majority report overrules the Democratic Court of Butler County.

I want to read to you just a part of the Act which applies to this case. This is Section 4 of the Act of January 17, 1934, and I will read only the relative parts as I see it: "On the day of election in any election district in which personal registration is not required any person whose name shall appear on the registry of voters, and who claims the right to vote at such election——" shall do certain things, among which are that "He shall produce at least one qualified voter— * * * who shall be sworn or affirmed and subscribed a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit * * *. The person so claiming the right to vote shall also take and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit."

Then it goes on to state the qualifications that the person must have and what must be put forth in the affidavit, and then it says this: "Provided, that in case any person is allowed to vote at an election who is not registered, but makes an affidavit which by reason of the failure to fully observe the requirements of this section is insufficient in any contest growing out of said election it shall be lawful to correct any mistakes or supply and deficiencies in such affidavits, so as to show that the said person was in fact a qualified voter; but this shall not apply to non-registered voters who make no affidavit, or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law."

Now, and affidavit means something which is written. Every definition by Webster, by the law of dictionaries, by the courts of Pennsylvainia and by the courts of other jurisdictions state that there is no such thing as an oral affidavit. An affidavit must be written. That is a part of the meaning of the word. Yet, it is a contention of the majority report that because oral oaths were taken by certain people whose votes the judge of Butler County refused to count, those voters have attempted to qualify and comply with the law, and that therefore the correction in their qualifying could be made It seems to me that no possible construction of that type can be taken out of the section which I have just read. The real meaning of the entire section unquestionably is that affidavit must be made. If an affidavit is not made that vote is illegally cast and cannot be counted. That, it seems to me, is fundamentally so clear. as stated under the law, that there cannot fairly be any other interpretation put upon it. Yet they say that eighteen voters who happened to come into one of the election districts of Butler County and cast their ballots upon oral oaths should have their votes counted, in spite of the fact that the court in applying the clear provisions of the law determined that those eighteen votes should not be counted. There were twenty-two voters whose vote is in question in this case. Four of them had made partial affidavits. Those four affidavits were incomplete but were corrected by the court below, and properly so, because that is what the proviso in the section refers to. Where and affidavit is made and not completed and not in strict accordance with the statute, that affidavit can be completed and the deficiency therein supplied. But without the affidavit there is no possible way to make a correction in the qualifying of such a voter. I don't think it has been brought out, but I think it should be mentioned here to make it clear, is true it was through no fault of the persons making these oral oaths that there were no printed affidavits available for them at that time. The election board ran out of affidavit forms and as a result of that the board permitted the oral oaths. This was clearly improper. It is not a particular harsh rule to apply the clear provision of the statute, because the board could have even taken the back of another affidavit which has been filled on the face, have the voter sign his name, have the witness subscribe his name and fill in the one or two blanks. Or it would have been a very easy job to sit down and write out a very brief form of affidavit, which under the law does not have to be accurate. But the rule clearly is, as set down by this Legislature, that a person, if he is not registered and if he desires to vote, has to make and affidavit and he has to subscribe to that affidavit. This is the clear provision of the law as we passed it. That is the clear provision of the law as it has been enforced by the courts.

I do not think that it comes with good reason for us as officials who make these laws to go ahead and totally disregard the clear provisions of these laws. We often talk about "shall" and "may" provisions; we often discuss in committees wether or not the bill contains a provision that must be enforced or wether it has a provision that may be enforced. The statute that we have referred to, has a "must" provision because the act says "shall". The courts in order to prevent fraud have always strictly interpreted these laws.

I do not think there is anybody who would suggest for a minute that had the following situation existed there would have been a right to count those votes. Suppose through no fault of the board's they had run out of ballots and suppose that without fraud each one of the persons who thereafter came to vote would be given a piece of paper by the board and they would write across it "I vote the Democratic ticket" and then would put that in the ballot box. If those ballots would not be counted, the voters would be disfranchised through no fault of their own. There would be no fraud. The intent would be clear, all the element of the present case would exist. Yet I do not think that anybody would contend for a minute that under the terms of the law thase persons could have their ballots counted. Another thing stated in the majority report is that inasmuch as there was no fraud in this case, therefore, the provision of the law need not be applied. That is a new thought that was never before advanced, as far as I could find out, on determining the question of wether or not the clear provisions of the statute should be enforced.

I appeal to you, this is not a question between men, it is not a question between parties, it is aquestion of whether or not we are going to abide by the provisions of the law, or whether we are going to wholly disregard them. We abide, and the court below abides by the strict provisions of the law, in deciding the first point and in so doing we disfranchise, if you will, three hundred twenty-five Prohibition votes in Butler County.

To apply the law to the other point in this case would disfranchise eighteen voters. I think that we ought to follow the clear provisions of the law which we the Legislature made. If we disregard the law how can we expect the courts or the people to enforce or live up to them?

I say to you, members of this House, purely on principle, not on aquestion of men, not on a question of party but on the question of principle that the minority report should be adopted and that the law should be adhered to.

Mr. SAMUEL. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I must issue with my friend on the minority side of the House. I want the members here to strictly adhere to the law in adopting the majority report. Let us read this proviso, it is very important,—it was enacted in the Special Session of 1934. That proviso added to the already existing law of 1874 in substance is as follows: "Provided, that in case any person is allowed to vote at an election, who is not registered, but makes an affidavit which by reason of the failure to fully observe the requirements of this section is insufficient, in any contest growing growing out of said election it shall be lawful to correct any mistakes or supply and deficiencies in such affidavit, so as to show that the said person was in fact a qualified voter; but this shall not apply to non-registered voters who make no affidavit or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law."

What was the Legislature's intent when it added that last provision and the proviso I just read: "Or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law?"

Let us get the facts before us. Twenty-two non-registered voters, many of them voting for the first time in the Second Ward of Butler Township, came to cast their ballots at about 5:30 p. m. on that election day they ran out of affidavits. The election board, as the court distinctly said in its opinion,—no question about their honesty,—called up the county commissioners, called up the homes of the county commissioners and they could not get them. There was no possibility of getting affidavits. What is the next thing they did? These electors wanted to vote, they wanted to comply with the law, so the election board did the very best thing they could do, they swore them orally. they made them produce a qualified elector to attest the qualification of these electors. They were sworn and they cast their ballots, and I say, members of this House, they did everything possible to comply with the law. Why should they be penalized for technical reasons? because of malfeasance, carelessness or indolence of the county commissioners in their failure to have sufficient affidavits at that poll.

Members of the House, let me call this to your attention. At the argument before the committee, counsel for McClester placed great stress upon the Cusick case decided by our Supreme Court in 1838, long before the Act of 1934 was passed, and in that contest Justice Paxson in his opinion in construeing the Act of 1874 said: "The tenth section of the Act of 1874 was mandatory." With that I agree with my friend on the other side, he then continues: "That where an affidavit has been made in compliance with the act and the informality is the result of the ignorance of the officer before whom it was taken, the difficulty be cured and the paper reformed upon due proof of what occurred at the time."

The court further stated in its opinion. "The law however does not intend that a duly qualified elector should lose his vote for the negligence or misfeasance of an election officer. Hence, when the informality is the result of the ignorance or neglect of the officer, such defects could be cured upon proof of what occurred at that time."

In another paragraph in this case decided by Justice Paxson, the famous Justice, and this was brought to my attention by my colleague Mr. Marino, a member of the committee, the Justice said: "Such a mistake may not only be innocent, but is likely to occur at a crowded poll, particularly in view of the fact that the election officers in many instances are without experience.'

I notice that this principle has been applied by the lower courts to election cases in many instances. citing many cases. I say that this is not different here, why should we penalize these voters? What right has the court,—and I don't care that he is a Democrat,—many courts below, Democrats and Republicans, have been reversed by the upper courts, and I need only refer you to the recent Supreme Court decision in 322 Pa. where in twenty-five instances the Supreme Court reversed the lower court for errors of law or mistakes of judgment. Not only that, but in about twenty-five instances many of the justices of the Supreme Court have dissented from the opinion of the Supreme Court itself. So that there can be mistakes of law, and say the lower court, even though the judge was a Democrat, he was on the spot, as we might say, and he thought the best way out would be to give this matter over to the Democratic House, but let me say to you members of the House, and particularly to you members of the minority side, the question to be decided is the election contest of Albert B. McClester against J. Brady Murrin. For instance, in re Shaffer's appeal where the name appeared identical on the ballot but omitted the initial, we would have to uphold the law as decided in re Shaffer's appeal 186 Attantis Reports in saying that J. Brady Murrin was not entitled to sit in the House.

I say to members of the House in the Rose case decided, it was where only one man ran for office, so I say in the opinion citied by the minority members, that issue is not raised.

I say in conclusion there is one thing that the court below did that he absolutely had no right to do, even though he was a Democratic judge. What right has the court below on the petition alleging one hundred twenty-five electors have committed irregularities, without alleging fraud, permitting expedition into ballot boxes contrary to the law set forth by the Supreme Court o fthe Commonwealth. Let me cite to you the decision of the Supreme Court in the Gollmar appeal. In that case, 316A Pa. p. 560 the Supreme Court held: "We regard the averments deficient, particulary of Agnew J., in the Election Cases 65 Pa. p. 20, where the general rule of certainity to a common intent was applied. * * * * While pleading an Election contest should not be governed by such strictness as to protect fraud, yet neither should the acts of sworn officers chosen by the people be attacked without adequate and wel defined cause.

In the petition filed by McClester he made a general averment one hundred twenty-five voters cast their ballots illegally, but this being a general averment, it does not supply the requirements set forth by the Supreme Court in the Gollmar appeal, which further held in their opinion: "The pleadings before us would seem only an effort to place the situation in such light as to justify a voyage of exploration into a large number of ballot boxes in the hope of ultimate discovery. Such is not the province of a contest."

I say members of the House, that is all there was to the contest in the court below; it was a fishing expedition and the court had no right to require those eighteen electors to disclose the secrecy of their ballot in the absence of any fraud, either expressed or implied. Let me read to you the court's opinoin. The Court below, Judge Wilson, said this: "There is no evidence of fraud in the conduct of the election in receiving, counting or computing and returning the votes cast in the Second Ward of Butler Township, the borough of Millerstown or Clay Township, the three districts investigated, in which the ballot boxes were opened and the vote recounted; nor anything from which fraud might be inferred. The mistake found during the investigation and the recount were honest mistakes of judgment."

Under what authority can my friend on the minority side say that the lower court had agreed to permit a fishing expedition, permitting these twenty-two votes, or these eighteen voters to be sworn under oath and disclose the secrecy of the ballot, something that this Legislature and the Constitution have given to every elector when he goes to a polling place and cast his ballot. I say to you, my friends on this side of the House and my friends on the minority side of the House, in the absence of fraud,—and all parties concur that there was no fraud,— the court had no right to go into a fishing expedition to find the number of voters who cast their votes for J. Brady Murrin or Albert B. McClester. It was doing nothing more than opening the way to greater fraud and that is what this Legislature is trying to avoid. In each session of the Assembly from 1874 until the Special Session of 1934 legislation was introduced to prevent fraud; in fact all the act of 1934 did was to deal with those who made no attempt to comply with the law. Members of the House, those voters, if you will read their testimony many of them who walked miles and brought their citizenship papers to vote for the first time should not be denied their franchise for technical reasons. We have a right to abide by the law and adhere to it strictly, and I say to you, members of the House, by doing. These electors have a right to cast their vote and adopting this majority report that is exactly what you are not be disfranchised for technical reasons.

For those reasons, members of the House, I ask you to vote "aye on the majority report.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is one thing that the gentleman from Allegheny spoke about that interested me a great deal. That is the question of this fishing expedition. I happen to know of a certain legislative district not very far from where we are sitting, in which there were thirty-five ballot boxes opened, in which one hundred five people made affidavit that there was fraud in those election boxes, and in which I think, as far as I have been able to ascertain, there was not a single person who knew or believed of any particular act of fraud. Although there were one hundred seventy-five election officials accused of fraud in the affidavits made to open the boxes, there wasn't a single item of fraud shown, or a single item of fraud proven. In the opening of those thirty-five ballot boxes, upon the oath one hundred five people, over half the votes of the district were counted and a fishing expedition was really held.

But I want to call the attention of this body to what the court below did say in its conclusion in this matter: "We cannot escape the conclusion that the law, which says that before a non-registered voter shall be permitted to vote, he shall file with the election officers an affidavit in writing, or partly printed and partly written, in which he sets forth his qualifications as a voter, is mandatory and binding on the voter, the election officers and the court. To hold otherwise would open the way to fraud in the conduct of elections. We therefore conclude that the vote of non-registered voters cast without having filed with the election officers an affidavit in writing, or partly printed and partly written, complete or incomplete, is illegal and cannot be counted."

There is also the technical question raised, if you please, concerning the sufficiency of the affidavit of the petition in the court below. That petition outlined the districts in which the illegal votes were cast, the approximate number, the reasons why they were illegal, that it would change the result of the election, and asked permission to add the names of the parties who voted illegally, which subsequently was done. I don't know how you could go much further in alleging the illegality of the voters, and I think under all the circumstances in this case,—and I don't want to delay the House any longer by continuing the debate on this bill,—but I think under all the circumstances of this case the House ought to follow the opinion of the court below that gave this matter careful consideration and applied the clear provisions of the law.

The gentleman from Allegheny read the last part of the section of the act applicable but he didn't tell you what the "this" in that section of the law refers to; he did not tell you or point out to you particularly that that provision says that you can correct the affidavit. But you cannot correct an affidavit when you don't have one. It doesn't say that it qualifies the voter or that the voters can be qualified; it only says that you can correct the affidavit.

In consideration of all these facts I think the minority report should be adopted.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a member of the sub-committee on this bill I would like to give vent to my expression with reference to what I have done. Mr. Woodside, of Dauphin County, referred to some members of the committee having a keen sense of justice, that some of them had a keen sense of personal justice and that they were lacking in some way or another their keen sense of political justice. I want to inform the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, that my impression of justice is not one that is political or personal or anything else. If I believe that something is right, I make an opinion on that, and if I think it is wrong my opinion is according. I do not think that my sense of justice is divided.

Another think that he brought up was a reference that some of the members may be working under the direction of some one, and I would like to correct him in saying that personally I am not working under the direction of anybody down here; that if I am working under the direction of anyone at all it is under the direction of the people who elected me from my county.

As far as this case hinging upon a Democratic judge deciding against a Democratic candidate, I want to say that I didn't know the political affiliations of the judge in question. I think this is a question of law, and accordingly I believe it should be so decided. I decided against the judge in Butler County because I believe that he erred in his judgment just the same as any of us can do.

I want to conclude by saying that this case hinges upon whether or not the members of this Assembly believe that the eighteen non-registered voters' votes should be counted, the people who through no fault of their own,—an admission on all sides that there was no fault of their own,—an admission by Mr. Woodside, himself of Dauphin County,—went to the polls and in every respect wanted to qualify with the law, and those not native born brought their citizenship papers. Those who were not registered brought a duly qualified elector to swear that they were qualified electors. They made every attempt to comply with the law, and as such I believe as a member of the sub-committee and as a member of this House that the vote of those eighteen people should be counted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment which substitutes the minority report and the resolutions therewith for the majority report?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WOODSIDE and Mr. LONGAKER,

Mr. MURRIN. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as I am vitally interested in this issue, I wish not to be recorded on the roll call.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Butler, Mr. Murrin, exercises his constitutional right in this matter. Since he is personally involved he will not be recorded on this roll call.

The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WELSH asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Printing to meet during the session of the House to hold a public hearing on House Bill No. 418, in the House Caucus Room called for 3:00 o'clock.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 854, entitled:

An Act simplifying the procedure for the construction and financing of public works projects by municipalities; enabling municipalities to make and perform contracts with Federal agencies, relating to the construction and financing of such projects; and conferring additional powers upon municipalities.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at the time House Bill No. 177, Printer's No. 176, on page 16 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WESTRICK.

The House resumed the considered on third reading of House Bill No. 177, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 682), entitled as amended "An act relating to domestic animals, and providing for their appraisement when condemned to prevent the spread of disease; and regulating payments by the Commonwealth in such cases, and the payment of salvage by butchers," as amended, by changing the amount of compensation in certain cases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 177.

Mr. FRANCIS T. BAKER filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting "no" on House Bill No. 177 for the following reason:

The price of cattle is considerably increased at this time and will cost more to replace.

I am of the opinion we should not reduce the indemnity below the present amount of forty and seventy dollars.

Mr. MATTHEWS filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting against this bill because I feel that the amount of indemnity should at least remain at $70.00 and $40.00 for Bangs disease the same as it was for T. B.

The testing for Bangs Disease will surely bring the price of cattle up in our State and the small amount provided in this bill would work a hardship on our farmers especially the smaller ones who may loose their herds. It is unfortunate that the administration saw fit to limit the appropriation to such a small amount as I feel it is bound to work a hardship on the farmer.

Mr. SCHROCK filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting "no" on House Bill No. 177 for the following reason:

The price of cattle is now increasing and therefore, I do not think we should reduce the amount of indemnity at this time.

Mr. SNYDER filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting "no" on this bill because I think the amount of indemnity paid for Bangs disease, should remain at $40 and $70 the same as it was for T. B.

When the testing for Bangs becomes general throughout the State, the price of cattle will increase and it will work a hardship, especially on the small owner if he is unfortunate enough to lose a large proportion of his herd.

I am sorry the administration saw fit to limit the appropriation for the above, which certainly will work a hardship on may of our farmers throughout the State.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting against it because I feel that the State should pay $40 and $70 (The same as T B) and sorry the Gorvernor saw fit to cut appropriation. This will work a hardship on the farmer.

Mr. STEWART filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting "no" on this bill for the reason that I think the price should be increased and not reduced in view of the fact that when the test for Bangs disease becomes general over the State the price of cattle will be greatly increased making it difficult for replacement.

Mr. WOOD filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting "no" for the following reasons:

That the present indemnity of $40 for a grade animal and $70 for a pure bred animal should be increased instead of reduced because when the testing for Bang's Disease becomes general the price of cattle will greatly increase. Any attempt to reduce the indemnity at the present time is a slap at the dairymen who have been put to a lot of trouble and expense the last few years by rules and regulations of the Department of Health without getting any more money for his milk and now they want to kill his cows without paying for them in full.

The appropriation is too small to properly carry on the work during the coming biennium and should be increased from $1,200,000 to $2,000,000.

Mr. ACHTERMAN in the Chair.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 690, entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve as amended and section seventeen of the act, approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, (P. L. 1237), entitled "An act affecting marital relations; prescribing grounds and regulating proceedings for divorce and the annulment of bigamous marriages; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," providing for the annulment of certain voidable marriages.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeablyto the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 390, Printer's No. 181, on page 16 of today's calendar, bill on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. GERARD.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 390, entitled:

An Act relating to the performance of industrial work in homes regulating and in certain cases prohibiting industrial home-work imposing duties restrictions and liabilities on industrial home-workers and on persons partnerships associations and corporations directly or indirectly furnishing materials and articles to home-workers for manufacture or work thereon requiring permits and home-workers' certificates and prescribing the fees therefor conferring powers and imposing duties on the Deparement of Labor and Industry and the Department of Revenue and prescribing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, as one of those who intends to vote for this bill but who is in a little confusion with regard to it, I would like to ask the sponsor, Mr. Gerard, a question at this time. May I have leave to interrogate the gentleman?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GERARD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I notice in this bill that industrial home work is subdivided, apparently, into two classifications, one of which, applying to most of the occupations, is put under the regulation of the Department and the Department may after investigation either license those occupations or not. However, we have another classification of certain enumerated occupations which are absolutely forbidden by this law. Two of those are the following: First, the making of children's clothing for children under ten years of age and the other is the manufacturing of food stuff in the home. Could you tell me the reason for barring those two occupations absolutely?

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from McKean, I would say that the bill is rather self explanatory because of the preamble and section one. The bill proposes to regulate industrial home work by prescribing licenses for those who give out this work into homes. The several items that are prescribed here, relative to the prohibitory work, has not, I believe, and I believe you will agree with me been done for the purpose of discriminating against any one or depriving any one of a means of livelihood. Articles of food and drink are prohibited, articles for use in connection with the serving of food or drink, articles of wearing apparel for the use of children ten years of age or under, toys and dolls, tobacco, drugs and poisons, bandages and other sanitary goods, explosives, fire works and articles of like character and the tearing or sewing of rage. I submit to you, members of the House, that all of these articles if made in homes possibly where there would be unsanitary conditions, would tend to be both unsafe and unsanitary and for that reason those articles were included in this bill.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I have read the preamble of the bill and I am satisfied that the purpose of the bill is good.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from McKean desire further to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. KANE. Yes, Mr. Speaker. As the answer was not specific, I would like to question the gentleman a little further, if I may.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. GERARD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, the point I would like to have the gentleman explain himself—not from the preamble but himself—is this, and I would like to bring the application of this bill if possible, home to the members of this House: if I were disabled and unable to take care of my family or killed, it seems to me that there are several occupations that my wife, who is the mother of three small children, could carry on in her home without being compelled to go out and work in a factory. One of those, it seems to me, on the face of things would be the making of children's clothing—she does that now. Is there any reason why that should be absolutely prohibited rather than left to the Department to decide whether it could be carried on if the conditions are sanitary? In other words, why are you classifying the making of children's clothing in the home with drugs and poisons? Why are you unwillingly to let the Department decide whether it is satisfactory or not after investigation?

Mr. GERARD. In answer to the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, I will say Mr. Speaker, that in the first instance he is correct: that women can do this work at home and it is now being done at home, but this class of work is becoming very wide spread and for that reason we feel that it is a class of work that should be regulated, and we also feel that certain lines of work should be prohibited. The gentleman from McKean has also mentioned the question of food. Well, first, I will say that a lady could cook or could, rather, bake pies or bread in a home and that one home might be sanitary while, on the other hand, there would be very many that would not be sanitary. Does that answer the question of the gentleman from McKean?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid that it does answer it, but I would like to ask one more specific question if I may.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether he means by that answer that the purpose of this bill is a labor regulation rather than a sanitary measure and whether he really intends to prohibit women from carrying on a home occupation, regardless of whether it is sanitary or not.

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from McKean I would say both. The ultimate result of this bill, if it is finally passed and becomes a law, will be that the Department of Labor and Industry will have regulatory powers over what home work is given out. The Department will know just where it went, how it is done and the conditions in those homes where it is done.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like very much to vote on this bill as a labor measure as well as a sanitary one. I appreciate that one of the hazards in trying to regulate labor is the fact that these occupations can be carried on sometimes in such obscure places and by such undercover methods that it is extremely difficult to regulate the commerce in the factory and permit ruinous competition to be carried on by manufacturing going on in the home without regulation. I realize all that. The gentleman is apparently somewhat mistaken as to the provisions of this bill. As I read the bill and I believe it is clearly stated in print therein, certain occupations are put under the Department of Labor and Industry for the purpose of regulation, but there are no less than a dozen occupations which are not placed under the Department but are absolutely forbidden to be carried on in the home. Among those which are not regulated but are absolutely prohibited by this legislation are the manufacture of articles of food in the home, not for the family but for other people, for commercial purposes, the manufacture of toys and dolls, the manufacture of wearing apparel for use of children ten years of age or under. Now, members of the House, I submit to you, as a friend of this sort of measure, that it is most unreasonable to empower the Department to impose sanitary regulations, let us say, over the making of lamp chimneys or lamp shades in the home and at the same time to absolutely prohibit the manufacture of children's clothing in the home. Now heaven knows if there is any place where children's clothing could be conceivably manufactured under the most clean and careful sanitary conditions it is right in your own home. I hope, I most earnestly hope, that if the condition ever arises in this State where people are faced with starvation and they are unable to carry on at their own occupation we will be able, as we have done in our own county, to substitute some form of public assistance when it is necessary to keep people from starving. I believe the people should have the privilege of carrying on certain occupations, if they care to, provided they carry them on in a sanitary and safe manner. I do not think we ought to prohibit those occupations. I am absolutely and heartily in favor of regulating them, to see that our standards of labor are not upset.

I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill whether he could see his way clear to place those two classes of occupations under the regulation of the Department of Labor and Industry rather than prohibiting them absolutely. I do not believe that is the intention of this bill and I do not think that is the wish of the members of this House. I would like to ask the sponsor of the bill if he would consider making that change in the bill. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the sponsor if he would consider making that change.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if he feels that it would injure his bill materially, taking out the manufacture of children's clothing and the manufacture of food stuffs out of the second part of the bill and putting them back in the first part of the bill where the Department has the right to investigate, to regulate those things and if necessary to prohibit, rather than to put it in the latter section of the bill where it must be prohibited regardless of how it is carried on.

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from McKean, I do not desire to change that part of the bill because by so doing it would weaken the purposes of the bill. May I say to the gentleman from McKean, relative to the making of children's clothes, that it is very apparent, as I said before, that this work has become very wide spread, and there is no good reason why they can't bring this work into factories and shops where it can be done. It is not necessary that this work should be brought into the homes and for that reason I would not desire to change that part of the bill.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Allegheny has just said that he saw no reason why that particular occupation could not be taken out of the homes. I cite the very adequate and sufficient reason that in most cases where people do this work they do not do it because they have a yearning for the work but because they have to do so. That is a very sufficient reason. In the case of my own family I may say that if I died my wife would be compelled to carry on in the home because she could not leave three small children alone in order to go out and work in a factory. I hope that fact will never be the case. As much as I would like to vote for this bill, and especially so in view of the fact that in our county we do not have such a thing as industrial home work, and it would be an easy thing for me to vote for this bill, it would be a popular thing. yet I do not feel, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that I should deny to the people of my own county who are willing to work the privilege of earning a living, when I am willing to empower the Department most fully with the right to inspect and regulate and prohibit certain occupations. I am most unwilling and I think the members of the House should be unwilling to state that certain occupations, for no good reason at all, are absolutely forbidden in Pennsylvania.

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the real sincere purpose back of this bill is to eventually abolish the sweat shop system in Pennsylvania. Work that is given out into homes helps to lower the standard of wages, and those people who can earn a little money at home do so at the expense of a particular industry. That matter was brought out very carefully in the public hearing on this particular bill. One gentleman was asked particularly and he stated that he and his wife and boy and girl worked on a farm and did the work on the side of sewing rags and that they made around ten or fifteen dollars a month by doing so. I suppose that is just extra money to them, but at the same time when they are doing that they are depriving somebody else of work in a shop or factory from making a livelihood. That is the reason why we have introduced this measure. We wish eventually to eliminate sweat shop conditions in Pennsylvania I ask your support of this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am in the greatest sympathy with gentleman from Allegheny in his desire to eliminate the sweat shop in Pennsylvania. It has been a question that has been before this legislature for some time and it has been a troublesome thing in an endeavor to work out a piece of legislation to accomplish what the sponsor desires, and which at the same time would not injure others. I had intended to vote for this but as I now understand the bill it would prevent, for instance, the dressmaker from carrying on a business in her own home. I know in my own personal experience that my children's clothing were made by a dress-maker in South Philadelphia who carried on a business for a number of years in her own home. She had a large clientelc, a clientele that had come down in some instances from mother to daughter. If the provisions of this bill would preclude such a person from carrying on a business of that kind I do not feel that I could vote for it.

In the second place, as I now understand the bill, it would prevent the manufacture or the making of food products, the baking of pies or cakes or things of that kind in the home. In the community in which I live there are a number of women who carry on a regular baking business from their homes. It is a baking business of high quality and in one or two instances they bake the products at home and sell them to stores in the town nearby. During the depression in what I might term one of the highest class residental districts in our county I know that a number of women in that community were able to eke out the family living only by reason of the fact that they were able to carry on by baking or making preserves or by sewing, without having to go on the dole.

We also know that in most all of the cities there are what we call exchanges, where products are made by people who are unable to go out and work or by people who by reason of financial distress have to undertake work of this kind. These exchanges are set up by charitable women for the purpose of aiding just that sort of person, and in all those instances, if they are precluded from doing so under the provisions of this bill, I think it would be most unfair and improper. I would like to help out on this work if possible, and I concur in what the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, has said that it is important that the bill be amended so that in some way these people can carry on that work in the home. If it necessary to have it regulated and inspected by the Department let us have it regulated and inspected, but do not let us deprive these people of the opportunity in these may instances to carry on that kind of work, because in the first instance it is necessary for them, and in the second place they have just as much right to carry on their businesses as do the people who go into factories to work.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was very much impressed with the fact that our good friend Mr. Turner has expressed his sympathy for the depeople of our State, but in view of the fact that he has been a member of the Legislature for so many years and that we haven't got any further than we have, in doing something real for our distressed people, I am inclined to think that it is just sympathy.

Now with respect to the things he mentions, the baking of pies, the making of dresses and various other things and disposing of them to the people in the community there is nothing in this bill that prevents it as I understand the bill. Section 4, on page 5, says this in so many words: "Prohibited Homework, it shall be unlawful to manufacture in a home for an employer contractor or representative contractor any of the following articles or to perform in a home for such persons any of the following work and no permit issued under this act shall be deemed to authorize such manufacture or performance of any such work." I feel that the argument against this bill has been somewhat misleading and I only hope that the members of this House will not be misled by such argument.

In the case of the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, when he speaks of the distressed condition in the event that the bread winner is killed or crippled, leaving a wife with small children, understand that this is just one of the bills in the program of this Administration to take care of our people. The mother with the little children will be taken care of by the Mother's Assistance Fund, and where people become old they will be put on Old Age Assistance, where they are ill they will be taken care of along other lines, where they are unemployed they will be given unemployment relief in some form or other or they will be given a job. So I ask you not to pay any further attention to what has been said by the opposition of this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, a delegation from the other side of the House has just visited me and pointed out to me the error under which I labored in connection with this bill. I shall have to accuse the gentleman from Allegheny of having placed me in this position. I listened to his statements and to his answers to the interrogatories of the gentleman from McKean and they were clearly along the lines of my argument. I find, however, that the provisions in the bill do not sustain my argument, and, therefore, I am in favor of the bill.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that simply shows the fallacy of following Republican reasoning.

Mr. JACOB F. MATTHEWS. Mr Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver permit himself to be interogated?

Mr. REISING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JACOB F. MATTHEWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if this bill prohibits the baking of baked goods by a mother. For instance, the baking of a few baked goods in her home, such as bread or pastry, for sale to the public.

Mr. REISING. It will not prohibit that, Mr. Speaker.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 552.

An Act to amend the act, approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 457), entitled "An act relating to the business of building and loan associations providing for the organization and voluntary dissolution of such associations defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such associations and of their officers directors shareholders solicitors and other employes prohibiting the transaction of business in this Commonwealth by foreign building and loan associations conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers establishing limitations of actions imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" as amended by further defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of building and loan associations and of their officers directors shareholders solicitors and other employes and by further regulating the merger and consolidation of building and loan associations and the creation of building and loan associations by merger consolidation or conversion and by providing for the reorganization of building and loan associations and by providing for the conversion of building and loan asociations into Federal savings and loan associations.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 32, line 20, by striking out after the word "property" the words "as determined by a qualified appraiser who is not a director officer solicitor or employe of the association";

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1057 (Senate Bill No. 29), entitled:

An Act increasing the number of courts of common pleas in the County of Philadelphia establishing therein a distinct and separate court of common pleas designated court of common pleas number six and providing for the election and appointment of judges for said court

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if I am correct in understanding that this bill, which provides for the creation of a No. 6 Common Pleas Court in Philadelphia is in answer to a report of the Philadelphia Bar Association recommending such an additional court and is in no way connected or related to the proposed ripper legislation dealing with the Municipal Court in Philadelphia.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, I can say "yes."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on acount of any child brother or sister only if and while such child brother [and] or sister is under the age of [sixteen] eighteen unless such child brother or sister is dependent by reason of mental or physical disability in which case such compensation shall be paid to or on account of such child brother or sister until he or she reaches the age of eighteen or for five hundred weeks whichever is the longer period No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him for support No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable of self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for suport The terms "child" and "children" shall include stepchildren and adopted children and children to whom he stood in loco parentis if members of decendent's household at the time of his death and shall include posthumous children Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or remarry or should the widower become capable of self-support the right of such dependent or widower to compensation under this section shall cease Provided however That upon remarriage of any widow other than a non-resident alien widow the compensation of such widow shall continue as hereinbefore provided for [one-third of the period during which compensation then remains payable to her] two years from the date of such remarriage If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be less than [twelve] eighteen dollars and fifty cents per week

This compensation shall be paid during [three] five hundred weeks except that in the case of a widow so long as she remains unmarried compensation shall be payable for life and in the case of children entitled to compensation under this section the compensation of each child shall continue after said period of [three] five hundred weeks until such child reaches the age of [sixteen] eighteen at the rate of [seventeen and one-half per centum of wages but not in excess of three dollars and seventy-fiv cents per week if there be one child twenty-seven] [and one-half] thirty per centum of wages but not in excess of [six] ten dollars [and twenty-five cents] per week if there be one or two children [thirty-eight and one-half] forty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of [eight] twelve dolars [and seventy-five cents] per week if there be three children [fifty] sixty per centum of wages but not in excess of [eleven] fifteen dollars and [twenty-five cents] per week if there be four children and [fifty-five] sixty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of [twelve] seventeen dollars and fifty cents per week if there be five children or more [and sixty per centum of wages but not in exces of thirteen dollars and seventy-five cents per week if there be six children or more] The board may if the best interest of a child or children shall so require at any time order and direct the compensation payable to a child or children or to a widow or a widower on acount of any child or children to be paid to the guardian of such child or children or if there be no guardian to such other person as the board as hereinafter provided may direct If there be no guardian or committee of any minor dependent or insane employe or dependent on whose account compensation is payable the amount payable on account of such minor dependent or insane employe or dependent may be paid to any surviving parent or to such other as the board may order and direct and the board may require any person other than a guardian or committee to whom it has directed compensation for a minor dependent or insane employe or dependent to be paid to render as and when it shall so order accounts of the receipts and disbursements of such person and to file with it a satisfactory bond in a sum sufficient to secure the proper application of the moneys received by such person

Section [308] 306 Except as hereinafter provided all compensation payable under this article shall be payable in periodical instalments as the wages of the employe were payable before the accident

All compensation payable under this article shall be made payable only to employes or their dependents or their guardians or such other persons as may be designated by the board

Every employer or his insurance carrier shall file promptly with the department an original standard check voucher receipt in such form and at such times as shall be prescribed by the department for each payment of compensation made under this act

Any person copartnership association or corporation who or which violates any of the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay for each violation a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00)

Section [309] 307 Wherever in this article the term "wages" is used it shall be construed to mean the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensed under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident [and] except that if the injured employe was at the time of the injury a minor and is permanently disabled his average weekly wage for the purpose of determining the compensation payable under this act shall be determined on the basis of the earnings that such minor if not disabled probably would earn within a reasonable time after reaching the age of twenty-one (21) years In determining such probable earnings due consideration shall be given to the employe's aptitude education and experience fitting him for any employment not only in the trade or business in which he was engaged at the time of the injury but in any other trade or business Unless otherwise established his earnings shall be taken as equivalent to the amount upon which maximum compensation is payable The term "wages" [shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others nor shall it include amounts deducted by the employer under the contract of hiring for labor furnished or paid for by the employer and necessary for the performance of such contract by the employe but] shall include board and lodging received from the employer Whenever the employe receives board and lodging as a part of his wages the board shall be rated at fifty cents per day and board together with lodging shall be rated at one dollar per day for the purpose of computing wages In seasonable occupations the employe's weekly wages shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which he has earned from all occupations during the year immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employe in which case the period for calculation shall be extended so far to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings in continuous employments if immediately prior to the accident the rate of wages was fixed by the day or hour or by the output of the employe his weekly wages shall be taken to be five and one-half times his average earnings at such rate for a working day and using as a basis of calculation his earnings during so much of the preceding six months as he worked for the same employer Provided however That if the employe regularly and habitually worked more than five and one-half days per week the weekly wage shall be found by multiplying his average earnings for working day by six six and one-half or seven according to the customary number of working days constituting an ordinary week in his occupation or trade Where the employe is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers his wages from all employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation

In cases where the employe has been in the employ of the employer less than one full week and by reason of the shortness of time during which the employe has been in the employment of the employer or the nature or terms of the employment it is impracticable to ascertain the average weekly wages as hereinbefore provided the average weekly amount which during the six months previous to the injury has been earned by other persons employed by the same employer under similar contracts of hiring or if there are no persons so employed by other persons employed by other employers under similar contracts of hiring under similar conditions shall be taken as the basis for the ascertainment of the weekly wages of such employe

Section [310] 308 Compensation under this article to alien dependent widows and children not residents of the United States shall be two-third of the amount provided in each case for residents and the employer may at any time commute all future instalments of compensation payable to alien dependents not residents of the United States by paying to such alien dependents the then value thereof calculated in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred and [sixteen] fourteen of this article Alien widowers parents brothers and sisters not residents of the United States shall not be entitled to any compensation

Non-resident alien dependents may be officially represented by the Consular officers of the nation of which such alien or aliens may be citizens or subjects and in such cases the Consular officers shall have the right to receive for distribution to such non-resident alien dependents all compensation awarded hereunder and the receipt of such Consular officers shall be a full discharge of all sums paid to and received by them

Section [311] 309 Unless the employer shall have actual knowledge of the occurrence of the injury or unless the employe or [some one] someone in his behalf or some of the dependents or [some one] [someone] in their behalf shall give notice thereof to the employer within [fourteen] thirty days after the accident no compensation shall be due until such notice be given or knowledge obtained but if the employe or other beneficiary shall show that his delay in giving notice was due to his mistake or ignorance of fact or of law or to his physical or mental disability or to fraud misrepresentation or deceit or to any other reasonable cause or excuse then compensation shall be allowed unless the employer shall show that he did not know and by reasonable diligence could not have learned of the accident and that he was prejudiced by the delay in which case he shall be relieved to the extent of such prejudice [and unless such knowledge be obtained or notice given within ninety days after the occurrence of the injury no compensation shall be allowed] It shall be presumed that the employer had notice of any injury within the period prescribed in this section and the burden of proof shall be upon the employer to show otherwise

Section [312] 310 The notice referred to in section three hundred and [eleven] nine hereof shall be substantially in the following form

To (name of employer)

You are hereby notified that an injury of the following character (.....) was suffered by (name of employe injured) who was in your employment at (place) while engaged as (kind of employment) on or about the (.....) day of (.....) Anno Domini (.....) and that compensation will be claimed therefor

Dated (.....) Signed (.....)

But no variation from this form shall be material if the notice be sufficient to inform the employer that a certain employe by name received an injury the character of which is described in ordinary language in the course of or resulting from his employment on or about a time specified and at or near a place specified

Section [313] 311 The notices referred to in section [three hundred and two and section] three hundred and [eleven] nine hereof may be served personally upon the employer or upon the manager or superintendent in charge of the works or business in which the accident occurred or by sending them through the registered mail to the employer at his or its last known residence or place of business or if the employer be a corporation either foreign or domestic then upon the president vice-president secretary or treasurer thereof Knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of any of said agents shall be the knowledge of the employer

Section [314] 312 At any time after an injury the employe if so requested by his employer must submit himself for examination at some reasonable time and place to a physician or physicians legally authorized to practice under the laws of such place who shall be selected and paid by the employer If the employe shall refuse upon the request of the employer to submit to the examination by the physician or physicians selected by the employer the board may upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit to an examination at a time and place set by it and by the physician or physicians selected and paid by the employer or by a physician or physicians designated by it and paid by the employer and if the employe shall without reasonable cause or excuse disobey or disregard such order he shall be deprived of his right to compensation under this article The board may at any time after such first examination upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit himself to such further examinations as it shall deem reasonable and necessary at such times and places and by such physicians as it may designate and in such case the employer shall pay the fees and expenses of the examining physician or physicians and the reasonable traveling expenses and loss of wages incurred by the employe in order to submit himself to such examination The refusal or neglect without reasonable cause or excuse of the employe to submit to such examination ordered by the board either before or after an agreement or award shall deprive him of the right to compensation under this article during the continuance of such refusal or neglect and the period of such neglect or refusal shall be deducted from the period during which compensation would otherwise be payable

The employe shall be entitled to have a physician or physicians of his own selection to be paid by him participate in any examination requested by his employer or ordered by the board

Section [315] 313 In cases of personal injury all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within [one year] two years after the accident the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation payable under this article or unless within [one year] two years after the accident one of the parties shall have filed a petition as provided in article four hereof In cases of death all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within [one year] two years after the date of death the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation under this article or unless within [one year] two years after the date of death one of the parties shall have filed a petition as provided in article four hereof where however payments of compensation have been made in any case or an employer has failed to report to the department the occurrence of an injury to his employe as required by law said limitations shall not take effect until the expiration of [one year] two years from the time of the making of the last payment or the filing of such report as the case may be Provided That the provisions of this section shall apply to accidents which have occurred before the passage of this act as well as to accidents occurring after the passage of this act

Section [316] 314 The compensation contemplated by this article may at any time be commuted by the board at its then value when discounted at five per centum interest with annual rests disregarding the probability of the beneficiary's death upon application of either party with due notice to the other if it appear that such commutation will be for the best interest of the employe or the dependents of the deceased employe and that it will avoid undue expense or undue hardship to either party or that such employe or dependent has removed or is about to remove from the United States or that the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the whole or the greater part of his business or assets Except as provided in section three hundred and [ten] eight hereof and in this section no commutation of compensation shall be made

Any person partnership association or corporation who or which shall commute or attempt to commute any compensation directly or indirectly in violation of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or to undergo imprisonment for a period of not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court No person partnership association or corporation shall be entitled to receive credit for any moneys paid in violation of this section and any such payment shall be considered as a gratuity

Section [317] 315 At any time after the approval of an agreement or after the entry of the award a sum equal to all future instalments of compensation may (where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain) with the approval of the board be paid by the employer to any savings bank trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this [State] Commonwealth and such sum together with all interest thereon shall thereafter be held in trust for the employe of the dependents of the employe who shall have no further recourse against the employer The payment of such sum by the employer evidenced by the receipt of the trustee noted upon the prothonotary's docket shall operate as a satisfaction of said award as to the employer Payments from said fund shall be made by the trustee in the same amounts and at the same periods as are herein required of the employer until said fund and interest shall be exhausted In the appointment of the trustee preference shall be given in the discretion of the board to the choice of the employe or the dependents of the deceased employe Should however there remain any unexpended balance of any fund after the payment of all sums due under this act such balance shall be repaid to the employer who made the original payment or to his legal representative

Section [318] 316 The right of compensation granted by this article of this act shall have the same preference (without limit of amount) against the assets of an employer liable for such compensation as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law for a claim for unpaid wages for labor Provided however That no claim for compensation shall have priority over any judgment mortgage or conveyance of land recorded prior to the filing of the petition award or agreement as to compensation in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which the land is situated Claims for payments due under this article of this act shall not be assignable and (except as provided in section five hundred and one of article five hereof) shall be exempt from all claims of creditors and from levy execution or attachment which exemption may not be waived

Section [319] 317 Where a third person is liable to the employe or the dependents for the injury or death the employer shall be subrogated to the right of the employe or the dependents against such third person but only to the extent of the compensation payable under this article by the employer Any recovery against such third person in excess of the compensation theretofore paid by the employer shall be paid forthwith to the employe or to the dependents and shall be treated as an advance payment by the employer on account of any future instalments of compensation

Sceion [320] 318 (a) If the employe at the time of the accident is a minor under the age of eighteen years employed or permitted to work in violation of any provision of the laws of this Commonwealth relating to minors of such age compensation either in the case of injury or death of such employe shall be double the amount that would be payable to such minor if legally employed The amount by which such compensation shall exceed that provided for in case of legal employment may be referred to as "additional compensation"

(b) The employer and not the insurance carrier shall be liable for the additional compensation Any provision in an insurance policy undertaking to relieve an employer from such liability shall be void

(c) Where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain the total amount of the additional compensation subject to discount as in the case of commutation shall be immediately due and payable It shall be deposited subject to the approval of the board in any savings bank trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this [State] Commonwealth

Where the amount of the future payments of compensation is uncertain the board shall upon the approval of the agreement or the entry of an award determine as nearly as may be the total amount of payment to be made and the additional compensation so calculated shall immediately upon such determination become due and payable by the employer The amount may be redetermined by the board and any increase shall then become due and payable and any excess which shall be shown to have been paid shall be returned to the person paying the same Upon determination of the amount due it shall be deposited as above provided Payments of compensation out of deposits shall be made to the employe or dependents as payments of other compensation are made Provided however That the board may in its discretion and upon inquiry as in cases of commutation accelerate such payments

(d) The provisions of the foregoing paragraph (c) shall not apply to employers who are exempted by the [bureau] department from the necessity of carrying insurance

(e) Possession of an employment certificate duly issued and transmitted to the employer in accordance with the provisions of the child labor law and receipt thereof duly acknowledged by him shall be conclusive evidence to such employer of his legal right to employ the minor for whose employment such certificate has been issued

(f) The possession of an age certificate duly issued and transmitted to the employer by the school authorities of the school district in which a minor resides shall be conclusive evidence to the employer of the minor's age as certified therein

[(g) If neither party has elected not to be bound by the provisions of article three of the act to which this act and to have waived any other right or remedy section three hundred and two of said act they shall be held to have agreed to be bound by the provisions of this act and to have waived any other right to remedy at law or in equity for the recovery of damages for injuries occurring under the circumstances herein described]

Section 319 In the case of an employe who dies as the result of an injury received in the course of or resulting from his employment and who leaves no dependents entitled to receive in excess of thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500.00) compensation under this act the employer or his insurance carrier as the case may be shall pay the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500.00) to the department or the difference between the amount paid to such dependents and the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500.00) In order to enforce payment of such sum the department shall have power to file with the board a claim for the same in like manner as any claim for compensation may be filed under this act

(b) One-fourth of the amount received in each case under this section by the department but not however in excess of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) shall be paid by it into the Federal State Rehabilitation Fund of the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue which amount shall be credited to a ledger account to be known as the industrial rehabilitation account All moneys credited to the industrial rehabilitation account are hereby appropriated to the department for all expenses incurred by the department under the rehabilitation laws of this Commonwealth for the rehabilitation of insured employes who are entitled to compensation under this act and who are as a result of their injuries totally or partially incapacitated for renumerative employment in the line of employment in which they were employed at the time of injury

(c) The balance of any amount received by the department under this section shall be paid by it into the State Workmen's Insurance Fund of the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue which amount shall be credited to a ledger account to be known as the second injury reserve account All amounts credited to the second injury reserve account are hereby appropriated to the department for the payment of the compensation provided in clause (g) of section three hundred and four of this act and for the payment of compensation provided in sections four hundred and thirteen and four hundred hundred and thirty-four in cases that are reopened after a period of ten years

Whenever at the end of any fiscal year of the Commonwealth after the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-five the total amount credited to the second injury reserve account shall exceed a sum equivalent to three times the average annual incurred liability of the account to employes or their dependents during the three preceding fiscal years the surplus amount shall upon requisition of the department be transferred to the Federal State Rehabitation Fund and credited to the industrial rehabilitation account in such fund All amounts so transferred shall be available and are hereby appropriated to the department for the same purposes for which moneys credited to such account are appropriated by subsection (b) of this section

All agreements for compensation and all supplemental agreements for the modification suspension reinstatement or termination thereof and all receipts executed by any injured employe of whatever age or by any dependent to whom compensation is payable under section three hundred and [seven] five and who has attained the age of sixteen years shall be valid and binding unless modified or set aside as hereinafter provided

Section 408 All agreements for compensation may be modified suspended reinstated or terminated at any time by a supplemental agreement approved by the [board] department if the incapacity of an injured employe has increased decreased recurred or temporarily or finally terminated or if the status of any dependent has changed

Section 409 Whenever an agreement or supplemental agreement shall be executed between an employer and an employe or his dependents are provided by this act such agreement shall be executed in triplicate Two copies thereof signed by all parties in interest shall be mailed or delivered to the [board] department within thirty days after execution by the claimant It shall be the duty of the [board] department to examine the agreement to determine whether it conforms to the provisions of section four hundred and seven to notify the parties thereto of its validity or invalidity under the aforesaid section within thirty days after the copies of the agreement have been mailed or delivered to it and if the agreement be approved to send to the employe together with such notification of its approval a copy of the agreement Provided however That any payment made in accordance with any agreement prior to the receipt of notice of invalidity shall discharge pro tanto the liability under article three of this act of the employer making such payments

Whenever an agreement or a supplemental agreement is disapproved by the department the employer shall pay to the employe compensation on the basis of such agreement to such extent as the agreement would if approved require Compensation on the basis of such agreement shall be paid until such time as the employer's liability for compensation is finally determined under the provisions of this act Any payments made by an employer in accordance with such agreement shall discharge pro tanto his liability for such compensation as may be subsequently determined to be due the employe under the provisions of this act

Any employer who shall fail to mail or deliver to the department two copies of any agreement or supplemental agreement within thirty days after such agreement or supplemental agreement is executed by the claimant shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each such failure

Section 410 If after any accident the employer and the employe or his dependent concerned in any accident shall fail to agree upon the facts thereof and the compensation due under this act the employe or his dependents or the department for and on behalf of such employe or his dependents whenever an agreement or supplemental agreement has been disapproved by the department or it shall otherwise deem it to be in the interests of justice to do so may present a claim for compensation to the board All allegations contained in the claim petition must be separately and specifically admitted or denied by the defendant Claimant shall have a right upon a petition to the referee and his order thereon to inspect the premises where the claimant's alleged injury was received

Whenever any claim for compensation is presented to the board other than claims of non-resident alien dependents and is finally adjudicated in favor of the claimant the amounts of compensation actually due at the time the first payment is made after such adjudication shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum beginning fourteen days after the date of the accident and such interest shall be payable to the same person as the compensation is payable

In case any claimant shall die before the final adjudication of his claim the amount of compensation due such claimant to the date of death shall be paid to the dependents entitled to compensation or if there be no dependents then to the estate of the decedent

Section 411 Whenever the employer and the employe or his dependent shall on or after the [tenth] seventh day after any accident agree on the facts on which a claim for compensation depends but shall fail to agree on the compensation payable thereunder they may petition the board to determine the compensation payable Such petition shall contain the agreed facts and shall be signed by all parties in interest The board shall fix a time and place for hearing the petition and shall notify all parties in interest As soon as may be after such hearing the board shall award or disallow compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 412 If any party shall desire the commutation of future instalments of compensation he shall present a petition therefor to the board

Section 413 The board or a referee designated by the board may at any time review and modify or set aside an original or supplemental agreement upon petition filed by either party or by the department with the board or in the course of the proceedings under any petition pending before such board or referee if it be proved that such agreement was procured prior or subsequent to the effective date of this act by the fraud coercion or other improper conduct of a party or was founded upon a mistake of law or of fact or that the facts in the particular case disclose such agreement to be inequitable to either party

The board or referee designated by the board may at any time modify reinstate suspend or terminate an original or supplemental agreement or an award upon petition filed by either party with such board upon proof that the disability of an injured employe has increased decreased recurred or has temporarily or finally ceased or that the status of any dependent has changed Such modification reinstatment suspension or termination shall be made as of the date upon which it is shown that the disability of the injured employe has increased decreased recurred or has temporarily or finally ceased or upon which it is shown that the status of any dependent has changed [Provided That except in the case of eye injuries an agreement or an award can only be reviewed modified or reinstated during the time such agreement or award has to run if for a definite period and except in the case of eye injuries no agreement or award shall be reviewed or modified or reinstated unless a petition is filed with the board within one year after the date of the last payment of compensation with or without an agreement] Where compensation is awarded under this section in any case where more than ten years have elapsed between the date of the last payment of compensation and the date of the filing of the petition under this section the said compensation shall be payable out of moneys existing to the credit of the second injury reserve account created by this act in the State Workmen's Insurance Fund

The board or referee to whom any such petition has been assigned may subpoena witnesses hear evidence make findings of fact and award or disallow compensation in the same manner and with the same effect and subject to the same right of appeal as if such petition were an original claim petition

The filing of a petition to terminate or modify a compensation agreement or award as provided in this section shall operate as a supersedeas and shall suspend the payment of compensation fixed in the agreement or by the award [in whole or] to such extent as the facts alleged in the petition would if proved require except that the filing of a petition relative to a change in or termination of the disability of an injured person shall not act as a supersedeas unless such petition contains an affidavit by a physician that he has examined the claimant a percentage estimate of the extent of disability and that the petitioner in his opinion is entitled to the relief prayed for in the petition Payment must be made up to date of the filing of the petition to terminate and in the case of a petition to modify in accordance with the per centum of liability admitted in such petition In any such action to terminate or modify the burden of proof shall be upon the party filing such petition No petition to terminate or modify an existing agreement or award shall be filed while said agreement or award is being adjudicated

Section 414 Whenever a claim petition or other petition is presented to the board the board shall by general rules or special order either direct it to be heard by one or more members of the board or assign it to a referee for hearing Provided however that petitions presented under sections four hundred and eleven and four hundred and twelve shall be heard by one or more members of the board

The [secretary] department shall serve upon each adverse party a copy of the petition together with a notice that such petition will be heard by the board or the referee to whom it has been assigned (giving his name and address) as the case may be and if the petition shall have been assigned to a referee shall mail the original petition to such referee together with copies of the notices served upon the adverse parties

Section 415 At any time before an award or disallowance of compensation or order has been made by a referee to whom a petition has been assigned the board may order such petition heard before it or one or more of its members or may reassign it to any other referee Unless the board shall otherwise order the testimony taken before the original referee shall be considered as though taken before the board or substituted referee

Section 416 Within ten days after a copy of any petition has been served upon any adverse party he may file with the secretary of the board if the petition has been directed to be heard by the board or with the referee if the petition has been assigned to a referee an answer in the form prescribed by the board

Every fact alleged in a petition not specifically denied by an answer so filed by an adverse party shall be deemed to be admitted by him But the failure of any adverse party or of all of them to deny a fact so alleged shall not preclude the board or referee before whom the petition is heard from requiring of its or his own motion proof of such fact

Section 417 As soon as may be after the twelfth day after notice that a petition has been directed to be heard by the board has been served upon the adverse parties thereof the board shall fix a time and place for hearing the petition If a petition be assigned to a referee he shall twelve days after notice that such petition has been assigned to him has been served upon the adverse parties fix a time and a place for hearing the petition Such hearing shall not be less than five nor more than fourteen days after the mailing of notice thereof by the referee The secretary of the board if the petition has been directed to be heard by the board or by one or more of its members or the referee to whom the petition has been assigned shall serve upon all parties in interest a notice of the time and place of hearing and shall serve upon the petitioner a copy of any answer of any adverse party

Section 418 The board if a petition is directed to be heard by it or by one or more of its members or the referee to whom a petition is assigned for hearing may subpoena witnesses order the production of books and other writings and hear evidence and shall make in writing and as soon as may be after the conclusion of the hearing such findings of fact conclusions of law and award or disallowance of compensation or other order as the petition and answers and the evidence produced before it or him and the provisions of this act shall in its or his judgment require The findings of fact made by the board in any petition heard by it or by one or more of its members or upon a hearing de novo shall be final made by a referee to whom a petition has been assigned except as hereinafter provided and the findings of fact or any question of fact has been referred under the provisions of section four hundred and nineteen shall be final unless the board shall under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-five of this article grant a hearing de novo or a rehearing

Section 419 The board may refer any question of fact arising under any petition including a petition for commutation heard by it to a referee to hear evidence and report to the board the testimony taken before him or such testimony and findings of fact thereon as the board may order The board may refer any question of fact arising out of any petition assigned to a referee to any other referee to hear evidence and report the testimony so taken thereon to the original referee

Section 420 The board or a referee if it or he deem it necessary may of its or his own motion either before during or after any hearing make an investigation of the facts set forth in the petition or answer The board or referee with the consent of the board [may] shall whenever it shall be deemed in the interest of justice to do so appoint one or more impartial physicians or surgeons to examine the injuries of the plaintiff and report thereon or he may employ the services of such other experts as shall appear necessary to ascertain the facts The report of any physician surgeon or expert appointed by the board or by a referee shall be filed with the board or referee as the case may be and shall be a part of the record and open to inspection as such

The board shall fix the compensation of such physicians surgeons and experts which when so fixed [shall be paid out of the sums appropriated to the Department of Labor and Industry for the maintenance of the department and] shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceedings [to be repaid to such department by either party or both as the board may direct If any sum so taxed shall not be paid by the party directed to repay the same may be collected as costs are now collectible] and shall be paid by the employer to the physician surgeon or expert If any employer shall fail to pay such cost promptly the physician surgeon or expert may proceed to collect the same in the manner provided in this act for the collection of awards of compensation

Section 421 All hearings before the board or one or more members thereof or before a referee shall be public

Upon an appeal to the Board the official stenographic notes taken at the hearing before a referee shall be transcribed and a copy thereof furnished upon request to the employer and the claimant the cost of which shall be taxed as a cost of the proceedings and shall be paid by the employer If any sum so taxed is not paid by the employer the same may be collected as costs are now collectible

Section 422 Neither the board nor any of its members nor any referee shall be bound by the technical rules of evidence in conducting any hearing or investigation but all findings of fact shall be based only upon competent evidence

Declarations of a deceased employe concerning the accident shal be received in evidence and shall if corroborated by witnesses or other evidence be sufficient to establish the accident the injury and the fact that it occurred in the course of his employment or resulted therefrom

If any party or witness resides outside of the Commonwealth or through illness or other cause is unable to testify before the board or a referee his or her testimony or deposition may be taken within or without this Commonwealth in such manner and in such form as the board may by special order or general rule prescribe The records kept by a hospital of the medical or surgical treatment given to an employe in such hospital shall be admissible as evidence of the medical and surgical matters stated therein but shall not be conclusive proof of such matters

Section 423 Any partly in interest may within twenty days after notice of a referee's award or disallowance of compensation shall have been served upon him take an appeal to the board on the ground (1) that the award or disallowance of compensation is not in conformity with the terms of this act or that the referee committed any other error of law (2) that the findings of fact and award or disallowance of compensation was unwarranted by the evidence or was procured by fraud coercion or other improper conduct of any party in interest The board may upon cause shown extend the time provided in this article for taking such appeal or for the filing of an answer or other pleading

In any such appeal the board may disregard the findings of fact of the referee and may examine the testimony taken before such referee and if it deem proper may hear other evidence and may substitute for the findings of the referee such findings of fact as the evidence taken before the referee and the board as herein before provided may in the judgment of the board require and may make such disallowance or award of compensation or other order as the facts so found by it may require

Section 424 Whenever an appeal shall be based upon an alleged error of law it shall be the duty of the board to grant a hearing thereon The board shall fix a time and place for such hearing and shall serve notice thereof on all parties in interest

As soon as may be after such hearing the board shall either sustain or reverse the referee's award or disallowance of compensation or make such modification thereof as it shall deem proper

Section 425 Whenever an appeal shall be taken on the ground that the referee's award or disallowance of compensation was unwarranted by the evidence or because of fraud coercion or other improper conduct by any party in interest the board may in its discretion grant a hearing de novo before the board or one or more of its members or assign the petition for rehearing to any referee designated by it or sustain the referee's award or disallowance of compensation If the board shall grant a hearing de novo it shall fix a time and place for same and shall notify all parties in interest

As soon as may be after any hearing de novo by the board it shall in writing state its findings of fact and award or disallow compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 426 The board upon petition of any party and upon cause shown at any time before the court of common pleas of any county of this Commonwealth to [whom] which an appeal has been taken under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-seven of this article shall have taken final action thereon may grant a rehearing of any petition upon which the board or referee has made an award or disallowance of compensation or other order or ruling or upon which the board has sustained or reversed any action of a referee The time for taking appeals shall be suspended pending the determination of the first petition for rehearing in those cases in which such petition is filed within twenty days from notice of decision of the Workmen's Compensation Board [but such rehearing shall not be granted more than one year after the board has made such award disallowance or other order or ruling or has sustained or reversed any action of the referee] If the board shall grant a rehearing of any petition from [the board's] its action on which an appeal has been taken to and is pending in the court of common pleas of any county of this Commonwealth under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-seven of this article the board shall file in such court a certified copy of its order granting such rehearing and it shall thereupon be the duty of such court to cause the record of the case to be remitted to the board Provided however That nothing contained in this section shall limit or restrict the right of the board or a referee designated by the board to review modify set aside reinstate suspend or terminate an orgiinal or supplemental agreement or an award in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred thirteen of this article

Section 427 Any party may appeal from any action of the board on matters of the law to the court of common pleas of the county in which the accident occurred or of the county in which the adverse party resides or has a permanent place of business or by agreement of the parties to the court of common pleas of any other county of this Commonwealth Such appeal must be brought within twenty days after notice of the action of the board has been served upon such party unless any court of common pleas to which an appeal lies shall upon cause shown extend the time herein provided for taking the appeal The party taking the appeal shall at the time of taking the appeal serve upon the adverse party a written notice thereof setting forth the date of the appeal and the court in which the same is filed and shall file either with his notice of appeal or within thirty days thereafter such exceptions to the action of the board as he may desire to take and shall specify the findings of fact if any of the board or of the referee sustoined by the board which he alleges to be unsupported by compentent evidence

Upon filing of the notice of an appeal the prothonotary of the court of common pleas to which the appeal has been taken shall issue a writ of certiorari directed to the [Workmen's Compensation Board] board commanding it within ten days after service thereof to certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken The writ so issued shall be mailed by the prothonotary to the [Bureau] department at Harrisburg together with a copy of the exceptions The board shall within ten days after such service certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken including the rules of of testimony

Any court before whom an appeal is pending from any action of the board may remit the record to the board for more specific findings of fact if the findings of the board or referee are not in its opinion sufficient to enable it to decide the question of law raised by the appeal

If the court of common pleas of any county of this Commonwealth shall affirm an award or order of the board or of a referee sustained by the board fixing the compensation payable under this act the court shall enter judgment for the total amount stated by the award or order to be payable whether then due and accrued or payable in future installments If such court shall sustain the appellant's exceptions to a finding or findings of fact and reverse the action of the board founded thereon the court shall remit the record to the board for further hearing and determination in which the procedure shall be the same as that hereinbefore provided in this article in the case of a petition presented to the board except that the board may order that any part of the testimony taken in the original proceedings may be considered as though taken in such further hearing

The prothonotary of any court of common pleas to which an appeal has been taken from the board shall send to the board a certificate of the judgment of the court as soon as rendered with a copy of any opinion which may be filed in the case and within five days shall give notice of such judgment and the date thereof by registered mail to each attorney-at-law appearing in the case at the address given by the attorney in the pleadings and if no attorney-at-law has appeared by registered mail to the party or parties not represented by counsel At the end of the period hereinafter allowed for an appeal from the judgement of the court the record of the board shall be remitted to it by the prothonotary unless an appeal shall have been taken to the Superior Court as hereinafter provided If such appeal shall be taken the record shall be remitted to the board by the prothonotary on its return from the appellate court

Any party may appeal to the Superior Court from the judgment of the court of common pleas within thirty days after entry of said judgment irrespective of the amount involved Such appeal shall be taken and prosecuted in the same manner and form and with the same effect as is provided in other cases of appeal to the Superior Court and the record so certified shall contain all that was before the court of common pleas Any appeal from the action of the board to a court of common pleas and from it to the Supreme Court shall take precedence over all other civil action The judgment of the Superior Court shall be final unless an appeal therefrom is allowed by the Supreme Court as in the case of other judgments of [that tribunal] the Superior Court

Section 428 At any time after the approval of a compensation agreement or after an award or order has been made by the board or referee the department the employe or dependent entitled to compensation thereunder may file a certified copy of the agreement and the order of the board approving the same or of the award or order with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county and the prothonotary shall enter the total amount of compensation stated in the agreement award or order to be payable to the employe or his dependents whether then due and accrued or payable in future instalments as a judgment against the employer or other party liable under such agreement or award Such judgment shall be a lien against property of the employer or other party liable under such agreement or award and execution may issue thereon forthwith

Wherever after an accident any employe or his dependents shall have entered into a compensation agreement his employer or shall file a claim petition with the board he may file a certified copy thereof with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county The prothonotary shall enter the amount stipuated in any such agreement or claimed in any such petition as judgment against the employer If the agreement be approved by the Department or compensation awarded as claimed in the petition the amount of compensation stipulated in the agreement or claimed in the petition shall be a lien as of the date when the agreement or petition was filed with the prothonotary Pending the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation no other lien which may be attached to the employer's property during such time shall gain priority over the lien of such agreement or award but no execution shall issue on any compensation judgment before the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation on the said petition

If the agreement be disapproved or after hearing compensation shall be disallowed the employer may file with the prothonotary of any county in which the petition or agreement is on record as a judgment a certified copy of the disapproval of the agreement or disallowance of compensation and it shall be the duty of such prothonotary to strike off the judgment

If the amount of compensation claimed be disallowed but another amount awarded the compensation judgment shall be a lien to the extent of the award as of the date of filing the petition with the prothonotary with the same effect as to other liens and the same disability to issue execution thereon as if the compensation claimed had been allowed In such cases the prothonotary shall make such modification of the record as shall be appropriate

If the compensation payable under any agreement or award upon which judgment has been entered under the provisions of this section shall be modified suspended reinstated or terminated by a supplemental agreement executed under the provisions of section four hundred and eight or by an award or order made under the provisions of section four hundred and thirteen any party to such judgment at any time after such agreement has been approved by the Department or after the expiration of the time allowed for an appeal from the award or order may file with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county in which the judgment is on record a certificate copy of such supplemental agreement award or order and it shall thereupon be the duty of the prothontary to medify suspend re-instate or satisfy judgment in accordance with the terms of such supplemental agreement award or order

Execution may issue by first filing with the prothonotary an affidavit that there has been a default in payments of compensation due on any judgment for compensation entered prior to the approval of the compensation agreement or an award on petition as soon as such agreement shall have been approved by the department or such award made as evidenced by the approval of the board of the award or by a certified copy thereof

Execution shall in all cases be for the amount of compensation and interest thereon due and payable up to the date of the issuance of said execution with costs and further execution may issue from time to time as further compensation shall become due and payable until full amount of the judgment with costs shall have actually been paid

Section 429 If any party against whom a compensation agreement award or other order fixing the compensation payable under this act has ben filed or record in any county of this Commonwealth in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-eight of this article or against whom judgment has been entered by the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county on any award or order of the board or a referee shall at any time present to the board receipts or copies thereof certified by any referee showing the payment of compensation as required by the agreement or award full to the date of presentation to the referee the board shall issue a certificate to such party in the form prescribed stating the extent to which the judgment on the agreement or award has been reduced Upon the presentation of such certificate to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county in which such agreement or award has been filed of record as a judgment or in which judgment on an award has been entered by the prothonotary of the court of common pleas it shall be the prothonotary's duty to mark such judgment satisfied to the extent of the payments so certified and upon the presentation to such prothonotary of a certificate issued by the board under the provisions of section three hundred and [seventeen] fifteen of this act it shall be the duty of the prothonotary to mark such judgment fully satisfied

Section 430 The lien of any judgment entered upon any award shall not be divested by any appeal If however the party appealing from the award shall file with the board a bond in such amount and in such form as the rules and regulations of the board shall direct the appeal shall pending its decision excuse the payment of so much of the compensation as is contested therein but if the final decision on appeal shall sustain the award it shall be the duty of the employer by whom such award is payable to make payments of compensation as from the date of the original award If on appeal the award is sustained as to a part it shall be the duty of the employer by whom such part is payable to make payments as from the date of the original award In case the award is annulled on appeal it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of any county in which such award has been entered as a judgment to mark it satisfied

Section 431 The cost of the prothonotary for entering the amount of compensation as provided in this act or making a modification of the record or marking the judgment satisfied shall be allowed taxed and collected as upon a confession of judgment on a judgment note

Section 432 It shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each court of common pleas and of the Supreme and Superior Court of the Commonwealth to make a monthly report to the board of the disposition of all appeals taken to such court under the provisions of this article

Section 433 A document on file in the [bureau] department or with the board or any referee or part of the record of any proceedings taken under Articles III and IV of this act shall be proved by a copy thereof certified by the Department under the seal of the Department or certified by the chairman of the board and attested by the secretary of the board under seal of the board as the case may be

Section 434 A final receipt given by an employe or dependent entitled to compensation under a compensation agreement or award reciting that the disability or dependency has terminated shall be prima facie evidence of the termination of the employer's liability to pay compensation under such agreement or award Provided however That the said receipt has been approved by the department And provided further That the board or referee designated by the board may at any time set aside a final receipt upon petition filed with the board if it be proved that such receipt was procured by fraud coercion or other improper conduct of a party or is founded upon mistake of law or of fact or upon erroneous judgment on the part of the employe of his ability to work Where compensation is awarded under this section in any case where more than ten years have elapsed between the date of the last payment of compensation and the date of the filing of the petition under this section the said compensation shall be payable out of moneys existing to the credit of the second injury reserve account in the State Workmen's Insurance Fund

Payments shall be made by the employer or insurance carrier on every agreement or award other than for a definite period until a final receipt has been filed with and approved by the department or until a petition to terminate or modify has been under section four hundred and thirteen Provided however That no petition to terminate shall be filed and no final receipt shall be approved by the department unless the physician's reports as required by section three hundred and four (e) of this act shall have been filed with the department

Section 435 Any hospital institution physician surgeon or other person who has furnished surgical medical dental or nursing services hospital treatment artificial appliances medicines or supplies for which the employer is made liable under the provisions of this act shall be deemed a party in interest and have standing before the board or any referee designated by the board and the courts of this Commonwealth to present a claim for remuneration for such services hospital treatment artificial appliance medicine and supplies and have the same heard and determined and shall be entitled to receive an award for such remunerations Any such claimant shall be entitled to enforce any such award in the same manner as claimants of compensation are entitled to enforce awards of compensation

Section 436 The board or a refereee designated by the board or any court of this Commonwealth in granting an award of compensation to an injured employe or his dependents or in affirming or modifying and affirming such an award or in reversing the disallowance of such an award shall in addition to such compensation include in such an award or judgment expert's fees if any rendered in any such proceeding payment of which may be enforced in the same manner as the payment of an award may be enforced under the provisions of this act

Section 437 Any party in interest may appear in person or be represented by counsel learned in the law or he may be represented by a member of his duly recognized union or labor organization Such labor representative shall be selected by said union or labor organization and duly approved by the department to practice before any referee or the Board

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

[Section 505 This act shall not apply in the case of an accident occurring prior to the first day of January next succeeding its passage and approval]

Section 507 This act shall become effective January first one thousand nine hundred and thirty eight

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and member of the House, I feel that to permit a bill of this impormtance to go without saying something upon the floor of the House at this time would be a case of great neglect upon my part.

This bill is numbered 99 and is known as the department bill which re-enacts Workmen's Compensation in Pennsylvania, and your attention is called to the fact that two years ago there was a bill here that did the same thing under number 1199. I call your attention to the fact that the provisions of this Bill No. 99 are very similar to those of No. 1199, but many of them have been extended and there are many more uncertainties placed in this bill, so that it is a much more radical bill than 1199.

I also want to call your attention to the fact that neither at the Session of 1935 nor this Session has there been an attorney representing labor or a representative from the Attorney General's Department appearing before the committees or the members of the House to analyze or to explain or to tell why such a radical bill should be introduced at this time. It is to be regretted that a bill that would give workmen's compensation or give compensation to workmen in such a large amount as this would do should come up at this session. It is also to be regretted that if any bill were to be presented that it would be so radical a bill. It has been argued before the committee and at the open hearings, at both the Session of 1935 and 1937 that it was the same old story, that the employers of this State were coming back opposing things which labor was asking, opposing workmen's compensation, and that they could very easily pay more, and that they made the statement that their business would not warrant the increases that were asked for, and that they were unjustly treated.

It is true that the employers of this State came in and protested against Bill No. 1199. It is also true that certain employers have come in this time and protested against Bill No. 99. Now I feel that the first thing I should do, as a qualified expert, is something to make this record complete.

When the first compensation bill was introduced in this House, I was a member of the House and considered the bill very carefully. That was in 1911, and in 1913 I was a reporter and made daily reports, and followed the bill then being considered, which was defeated at that time. In 1913, when this bill known as the Workmen's Compensation Law was passed the first time in this State, I was a member of this House. I voted for the bill and served on the committee. That was eighteen years ago. Immediately after that session I was engaged by the Central District of Pennsylvania, some of the largest bituminous coal operators, to become compensation attorney or a specialist for them. I followed that work for twenty-two years. I feel that in representing the self-insurers and in analyzing those bills that have come along and in adjusting over ten thousand cases, having analyed them at these various sessions and since the law went into effect for different organizations, and having carried many original test cases through the courts, and having checked every one of the Supreme Court decisions amounting to about three hundred, and having analyzed every word, sentence and clause in the Workmen's Compensation Act, I believe I am qualified as a compensation specialist.

Perhaps the smart thing to do would be to vote "aye" on this bill and go back home and say what I did for labor, but knowing the importance, knowing all those things myself personally, and all the facts that might come in, knowing that this bill will mean an expense to the employers of this State of a least $3.56 per every dollar that was paid, I feel that the effect of it not only on the employers but also on the employes of my own district would be so great that it would be a liability to the employes rather than a benefit. Now, then if a reasonable bill should come along instead of this bill, with compensation for a small amount, that would be more like it, but here is the most radical bill in the United States. Here is a bill that goes far beyond any bill that has ever been asked to be passed in any State in the United States. Now, they say to us that we can easily pay it, they say to us we have been able to pay every time they have passed any amendments increasing workmen's compensation. I say to you we did appear every time a bill was proposed by the Department of Labor and Industry in opposition to the bill as presented for this one reason: the entire bill is a radical bill and the things that were said before by us in opposition to other bills are as equally true today as they were then. It was said then that we were telling things that were lies and that we could not verify our statements, that if the things we said were true there would be some facts and figures to prove them.

Now let me particularly direct attention to the self-insurers of this State. The self-insurers of this State carry approximately fifty per cent of all Workmen's Compensation risks. That work has been done splendidly; the Department of Labor and Industry will testify to that. Not only that but every man who has investigated will testify to that. We have three kinds of insurance for carrying these risks: one is the self-insurers where you are permited to carry your own insurance, the next is your State where you pay your premium and have your risk carried and the other is the insurance companies that are permited to do business in Pennsylvania. The record of the self-insurer in carrying half of this insurance is certainly very good. They are all proper, and right, and should be maintained. Now, then with this measure you are proposing today to increase workmen's compensation so that it will be three dollars and a half more where one dollar was paid before, I say to you that the coal industry of this State, which pays sixty per cent of all the compensation in the State, will not be able to pay it, and that you give West Virginia, a competing state, a very great advantage againts us. In the light of the things that are taking place, in the light of the unemployment bills that have gone through for taxes, and in the linght of old age, and in the right of these extraordinary taxes, and the uncertainty of the future from a business standpoint, and all the facts and figures that have been out by specialists on business, it seems to me that this House ought not to pass a bill so radical as it is passing here without at least saying a few words on it.

I want to say to this House that in the session of 1935 I was here checking things and I was watching workmen's compensation because I was a specialist. I was a member of the State Chamber of Commerce and I am not ashamed of the work that I did. I have also for fifteen years been a director of the Self-Insurers Association and I am not ashamed of that, and for a compensation specialist to sit in this House and to permit such a bill to go by would be a reflection upon him or anybody who claims to be a specialist in this thing. Each one will vote according to his own conviction, of course, but it seems to me it ought to be made a matter of record without passing this bill over to the Senate and putting the responsibility on it without any debate or without any remarks, as was done in the Session of 1935.

I have been on committees to analyze these bills at different times. Here are some of the things that I want to say about this bill in the light of my own experience. I say that House Bill No. 99 if enacted into law will give Pennsylvania the most drastic and expensive workmen's compensation in the entire United States. I will not take the time of the House, but I do want to state to the members of this House that I have analyzed every particular provision in this bill clear through, and everyone who would like to know anything about it can come to me and I will be glad to explain to them how I arrived at the facts and figures and why the Department of Labor and Industry has not been and is not now in a position to give the exact facts and figures as to the costs of self-insurers.

Now, this is the reason: take the coal field, for instance. The overhead costs in a coal field where a large bituminous or anthracite operator attends to his work—the overhead is something that does not come down to the Department of Labor and Industry. He writes the agreements, he takes care of the law, he reports just those things, but the maintenance, the overhead, the carrying on of the compensation department, compensation attorneys, compensation doctors at the mines, and these other people who assist at the mines, contributions to the hospitals, and the rehabilitation. Which goes very often way beyond the thirty day period, sometimes we have to pay as much as a thousand dollars, or more, for a single patient perhaps a year later—all those things take place and never reach the Department. When I say to you that these facts and figures are correct, I want the House to believe it, because we have facts and figures to justify it, coupled with an experience extending over a period of twenty-two years. It is not political, there is no such thought in it as being political, because there is not a thing in it political one way or the other.

Now these people who are injured are entitled to the very best treatment that can be given them without destroying the industry or at least crippling the industry; there is no question about that. What we differ on is how far we should go and what we differ on is how it is going to affect the bituminous or anthractie industry. I speak particularly of the bituminous industry because that is where I live and where I have practiced law for over forty years—forty-four years to be exact. Just take it in Pennsylvania as compared with the adjoining states, just the maxium. In Pennsylvania they propose to make the maximum $25.00 a week and the minimum $12.00. In New York they have $25.00 and the minimum is $8.00, and it does not hit the employer who has four or less. In New Jersey it is twenty and ten. In Maryland it is twenty and eight. In West Virginia, our competing state, from the bituminous stand point, it is sixteen and eight. In Ohio it is eighteen seventy-five and five.

Now there is one other feature which makes it difficult for us to compete and that is the question of the computation of the wage basis. There is the Jenseen case, and in the final decision of the Supreme Court—

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Wilson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILSON. I will, Mr Speaker.

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask him from what bulletin the gentleman is reading the story that he is reciting to this house.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, this is a little bulletin that was put out by the State Chamber of Commerce, of which I am a member and it is the basis of some of my figures here and it is supposed to be correct.

Now, then, in West Virginia they have a different way of computing wages and it is much more favorable to the employer and it is the same way in all of these other states. I want to call your attention to one other thing. In some of the industries you are only permitted to work for five days, but the compensation Bill No. 1199, as it was, and under this bill you will have to multiply that by at least five and a half. I do not think that I have been able to discover a single thing here that would protect the employer. I am only speaking here as a specialist, and to make it a matter of record that the members of the House were informed before they cast their vote and to explain why I cannot vote for so radical a bill. I want to further state to this House that when workmen's compensation runs for so long a time as is provided here—a case may run for fifty years—is a very long time for the bituminous industry to absorb and take care of.

It is well known that the coal industry is largely made up of wages at the expense of the coal industry. It is also well known that the coal industry is limited to certain counties. The bituminous counties are close, nearly all of them, to the West Virginia and the Ohio line. I want to say we will be unable to carry on if this bill goes through.

It may be that the gentleman who sponsored this bill or the Department has some information that I don't have. It may be that there will be amendments in the Senate. That was true before but it may not happen this time. I want to say that the bill is not a reasonable bill. I say that if it had been step by step and gradual that by this time we could have a very much more extensive bill than we have and could have done it without very much trouble, without very much criticism, but when a radical bill like this bill is proposed the people who are being affected by it most are obliged to say something against it in protest.

I realize full well that the gentlemen on the other side say it is a Department bill, and that we can easily pass it through, but the facts and the figures show that it cannot be successfully carried on for any length of years by the bituminous and anthracite operators of this State. It is unfortunate that the bill is so radical, it is also unfortunate that it is such a bill that we cannot all vote for it and feel it is a good thing. The facts and figures show that it is not a good thing. They show that it would be so uncertain that litigation would follow. It is unfortunate that some lawyer for labor or somebody from the Department of Labor and Industry did not place a bulletin on our desks here to show what it will actually produce.

I want to say in conclusion that these figures are not complete at all, that I have given you; they are just an outline of what this bill will do. I can present facts and figures to you that are correct, because I am able to do so based upon my training and experience, and I can show you where the Department of Labor and Industry is mistaken and tell you what the expense will be, because all the expenses are not reported, because only a small proportion are reported by the self-insurers. The small people are not here to be heard, but they are vitally affected and when you harm them you harm the outlying districts.

I want to thank the gentlemen on the other side for their indulgence in giving me this opportunity to make this explanation. I consider this bill an unreasonable bill, and I could not permit this bill to pass by without taking your time to put these remarks on the record.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is an ideal bill for everybody in the State of Pennsylvania. For twenty-one years labor has been knocking at the doors of the Legislature to liberalize the Workmen's Compensation bill. Outside of the increase in the rate from ten to fifteen, nothing has been done to liberalize our Workmen's Compensation law from 1915 up to the present time. Both political parties in their last two campaigns, in their platforms, agreed that the Workmen's Compensation law in the State of Pennsylvania must be liberalized. This bill represents that liberalization. I am glad that the gentleman on the other side mentioned the fact that he was a member of the State Chamber of Commerce, because when this bill was presented to the House and referred to the Committee on Labor, on January 12, the Committee on Labor thereafter had several hearings and invited everyone interested in this bill to be present, in order to get their views. The day before the public hearing before the committee, the Chairman of the Committee on Labor received a letter from the State Chamber of Commerce to the effect that they would not appear before the Committee in connection with the Workmen's Compensation bill because they felt it would be of no use. Why they took that attitude I do not know, but nevertheless when the letter was referred to the committee, the committee naturally felt that the State Chamber of Commerce was not opposing the bill. If they were opposing the bill, it seems that they did not like the color of the committee before which they had to appear. The only people that presented themselves to the Committee on Labor to express their views in opposition to House Bill No. 99 were the coal people. We had several hearings with them and the coal operators all agreed before the committee that they were not opposing any liberalization of the Workmen's Compensation bill in the State, and they have not up to this time submitted either to the sponsor, to the Department of Labor, or to the Committee on Labor their views as to what they can do and what they cannot do with reference to compensation. The Committee on Labor takes the view, and rightfully so, that every one in the State believes the compensation law would be liberalized, and we feel that this is a liberalized compensation bill, an ideal bill for the workers of the State of Pennsylvania, which will place Pennsylvania at the head of the list so far as workmen's Compensation is concerned. I ask the members of the House to vote for the bill.

Mr. ACHTERMAN in the Chair.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Wilson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, in addition to compiling the report for the State Chamber of Commerce, may I ask the gentleman from Jefferson whether or not he is now engaged in reporting compensation matters for any company.

Mr. WILSON. Yes, Mr. Speaker I am. That is part of my business. I am a compensation attorney, but I want to state this to this House, that when I am here I am here representing the people of my district, and I also want to state that I was the only Republican so far as I know, to change a Democratic county without any effort at all and to come back here, and that was one of the reasons, because I went on the stump and gave them the facts and figures.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Jefferson tell the members of the House whether he is familiar with the commission that was appointed by Governor Pinchot to investigate conditions under the Compensation Act several years ago?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I know that there was a commission appointed. I know some of the gentlemen who were on the commission I have seen the report but I do not now remember its support. I also remember that they talked about some occupational diseases and various other things, such as silicosis and things of that kind, but they did not all agree. The remarks that I have made today are based upon my own personal experience. I do not represent the Chamber of Commerce or any bituminous or anthracite coal industry, but reflect my own personal feeling, based upon the experience I have had, without regard to any committee which has been appointed or anybody else, because I hold myself out as a compensation expert. I feel it is not being immodest for a man of my age and experience to say that to this House. The figures I have given here today are based upon my own personal knowledge.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman refer to the Kulp Commission?

Mr. WILSON. Well, I don't refer to the figures of any commission, but the facts and figures I have given here today are based upon my own personal knowledge.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Jefferson known that the recommendations made in the present House Bill 99 are substantially the recommendations of the Kulp Commission made during Governor Pinchot's regime?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that they are. Even so, they wouldn't be a recommendation to me because they came from a commission that was appointed by Governor Pinchot.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Jefferson know what the medical benefits are which are paid under the West Virginia compensation law? Does he know the minimum medical benefits under the West Virginia compensation law?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I have the figures here but I can not state them offhand, but I know that this bill will go farther and the cost of the bill will be much greater than the cost under the West Virginia bill.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know what the West Virginia provision is on medical benefits?

Mr. WILSON. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker, at the present moment, but it was all gone over at the time we figured these matters out.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Jefferson, who so modestly gave his experience in some twenty or thirty thousand cases in the past forty years, exemplifies the tendency or idea of his party towards the Workmen's Compensation Law of this State.

As the gentleman from Luzerne, the Chairman of the Labor Committee, very well said, Pennsylvania needs a liberal Workmen's Compensation law. Just because benefits are to be increased under this present House Bill 99 is no reason to say that the State law has been a fair and reasonable Workmen's Compensation Law.

I might say to the gentleman from Jefferson that there is some resemblance between 99 and 1199 because 99 is an offspring from 1199. I might say to the gentleman from Jefferson that the Kulp Commission, appointed by Governor Pinchot in 1933, filed a report. Let me say to the gentleman from Jefferson that on that committee were such men as Dr. C. A. Kulp, Chairman; Hon. Arhtur C. Diehl, Workmen's Compensation Referee; Shippen Lewis, Dr. Ferguson and Hon. Harry B. Scott. After an investigation by the committee for a consideration length of time, involving some seven thousand cases, they made recommendations which are practically copied verbatim in House Bill 1199. They found that the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Law was inadequate, they found that the minimum allowances were inadequate and the medical benefits did not meet the requirements of other states which had a similar Workmen's Compensation Law.

Let me say to the members of the House that the expression of the gentleman from Jefferson typifies the attitude of the Chamber of Commerce for the past twenty-five years in regard to the Workmen's Compensation Law. Thirty-nine states have a shorter waiting period than Pennsylvania. Thirty-six states have a higher maximum weekly allowance than Pennsylvania. Of forty-seven states, mark you, Pennsylvania is last when it comes to liberal provisions for medical compensation. Just bear in mind that in Pennsylvania an injured workman is only permitted to collect medical compensation for thirty days, not exceeding one hundred dollars. We are woefully lacking in that respect. As his Excellency, the Governor, well said, when he addressed this joint assembly on January 5th, Pennsylvania should be in the vanguard and not draw up the rear in workmen's compensation.

I will give a few illustrations to the gentleman from Jefferson. I represent a man who sustained a broken back two years ago. He has had an operation to his back and is still getting medical aid and surgical attention, yet, all that he can be paid under the Workmen's Compensation Law as it is today is the sum of one hundred dollars, yet his medical and surgical expense has been approximately three thousand dollars, many times more than the medical benefits and more than the compensation that he receives. The Chamber of Commerce naturally disapproves a provision of that kind. Seventeen states have more liberal provisions on a proper wage at the age of twenty-one. Twenty-seven states offer more liberal terms governing the maximum period and the total amount of compensation payable. Fifteen laws place no limitation.

I say to you, members of the House, that in 1935, in the session of the legislautre, we saw the necessity of such a law, in view of the fact that both Republicans and Democrats alike in the 1934 election pledged themselves to a more liberal Workmen's Compensation Law. The Democrats made an effort to redeem that pledge, and we did it in the 1935 session. What happened to the bill at that time is now history. The Republican Senate killed the bill; in fact, when the bill came back here I did not know it was the same measure, but we do know what happened to it. We know what happened to those Senators who attempted to kill such liberal provisions as are contained in House Bill 1199, and I say that those members of the House who use the same tactics, in attempting to keep from the workmen of the Commonwealth a Workmen's Compensation Law that meets the provisions of the State of New York, the State of Michipan, the neighboring State of West Virginia and the State of Ohio, will meet the same fate as those brothers in the Senate who killed this bill in the last session. I say to the members of this House that this is an opportunity for all of us to redeem the pledge we made in the campaign of 1934. Let us give to the workmen of Pennsylvania a decent Workmen's Compensation Law. With that in mind, I concur in the request of the Chairman of the Labor Committee in asking all of the members to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Weiss, whether or not House Bill 99, is passed, would be the most expensive and the most liberal Workmen's Compensation Law in the United States.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from Jefferson, I will say that this bill will place Pennsylvania in the vanguard of liberal states when it comes to Workmen's Compensation Law. It will not be the most expensive bill in the nation because where it increases the cost of compensation today, it will only put those industries back to the point where they should have been paying the cost of workmen's compensation for the past twenty years.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, if he can name any state which anywhere near approaches us, so far as coal is concerned, so far as the coal industry is concerned.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Yes, Mr. Speaker, West Virginia. The only difference in the West Virginia bill is that their rate of five and one-half dollars per week differs from ours. That is the only difference in the cost of workmen's compensation in West Virginia, as compared to ours. In addition, their maximum and minimum payments are different, and they make payments for life. Their medical benefits are identical wtih the provision of the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act, sponsored by the administration.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny if it is not true that the maximum rate in West Virginia is sixteen dollars a week.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that the minimum rate in West Virginia is eight dollars a week?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, how does the gentleman reconcile his statement as to the figures that West Virginia pays, so far as the coal industry is concerned?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, as I said a moment ago, in case of death, they provide payment of wages for life; in case of injuries, permanent injuries and otherwise, they provide indefinite medical attention and hospitalization. These are the principal features of the bill that add to the compensation cost. And may I suggest to the gentleman from Jefferson that this is not only a compensation question, it is a social problem, where industry must bear its fair share and burden of taking case of this problem of compensation, which will result in reducing the relief load that the taxpayers of Pennsylvania have been compelled to pay.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny if the latter part of his answer was responsive. I desire also to ask the gentleman, if he believes that the bill that is in force in West Virginia is so liberal and so fine, that he would be willing that the bill from West Virginia, in all of it forms, be substituted for House Bill 99.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I will say to the gentleman from Jefferson that living conditions in West Virginia are different from those in Pennsylvania. I do not want Pennsylvania to be taking up the rear, I want Pennsylvania to be in the vanguard, I want Pennsylvania to be known all over the nation as one of the most liberal states when it comes to workmen's compensation.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, the sponsor of this bill, if he does now concede that House Bill 99, if not amended, would be much more liberal and much more expensive that the very liberal bill, to which he has referred, which is in effect in West Virginia.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Yes, Mr. Speaker, according to the Chamber of Commerce statistics.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I asked for the gentlemen's opinion and not for the opinion of the Chamber of Commerce. I would like his own personal opinion on it.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to be as modest as the gentleman from Jefferson, but I again say that the enactment of this bill will redeem the pledge of a liberal party in this Commonwealth and carry out the instructions of many of our leaders, who feel that Pennsylvania has been long lacking in a liberal workman's compensation law, and in accordance with the request our Governor made to the General Assembly that Pennsylvania should be in the vanguard and not draw up the rear with a liberal workmen's compensation law.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I submit that the gentleman from Allegheny is making a political speech and not answering my question. I would be very glad if he would answer the question whether it is his opinion that House Bill is much better, more liberal, than the bill which is now in force in West Virginia.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, it is one of the finest bills introduced in this House. I might say that the Chamber of Commerce has bitterly opposed this measure. I will go further and say that a lot of the large utilities, some of whom have friends in this House today, favor many of the provisions of this bill and they have been meeting the requirements of this bill for some time past, even though it had not been enacted into law.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not my purpose to dwell too long on this bill, but I want to say to you that I do not come here to speak for the Chamber of Commerce. If the gentleman from Allegheny desires to speak disrespectfully about the Chamber of Commerce, that is his business.

In the first instance, when I rise to speak, I do so for the purpose of putting on the record my experience as an adjustment expert. I disclaim representing the Chamber of Commerce of the floor of this House, and I will say to the gentleman from Allegheny that I have been sent here by my people to tell exactly what I know and what I think. That is something that the gentleman did not do in the session of 1935. I want to say right now that the membership of this House who are in back of this bill bill would not have said a word relating to House Bill 99, they would not have spoken a word for or against it in explanation of any of its provisions, if I had not risen to my feet and said something about it. That is why I am here. I think I have said enough, but it appears to me that this is the most radical, the most expensive and the most liberal bill in the whole United States, if it goes through. That is all.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I favor this bill because it in the interest of the man who labors. I believe if we had more bills that favor the laboring man and less bills that favor the loafers this State would be much better off. I have never heard of an industry going broke or leaving the State because it had men who work, but I have known of industry going broke because they had men who loaf. Let us support any bill that favors the laboring man.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

REASONS FOR VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 99

Mr. SCHUMACHER filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting in favor of this bill because I believe that the laboring man is entitled to adequate compensation. However, I do so with much misgivings as I am afraid it will place additional costs on certain Pennsylvania industries who are already hard put to compete with similar industries in states who are not as fair as Pennsylvania labor.

Mr. STACKPOLE filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am opposing House Bill 99 for the following reasons:

Just let me make it clear that I favor this bill in principle. because I feel that labor as well as anyone else should be taken care of when injured or catching a disease while at work.

However, as a representative to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives it is my duty to represent the best interests of the greatest number, and I am confident that House Bill 99 does not serve those interests.

House Bill 99 will increase the costs of Pennsylvania manufactured products over those of many other states and as a result prices will have to be raised. If I were convinced that the people of the United States would favor Pennsylvania products at a higher cost to themselves, because Pennsylvania had a fairer compensation law, I would unhesitatingly vote for this bill. But experience has shown that the public does not take into consideration a manufacturer's treatment of labor when purchasing his product.

Any bill which tends to increase the cost of manufacture to the industries of one State without similarly increasing the cost to the same industries in other States becomes an unfair bill no matter how fair the provisions of that bill may be, and House Bill 99 is just such a bill.

If House Bill 99 is a good bill in principle, and I believe it is, it should be a Federal bill, so that if it were passed, the industries of all states would work under exactly the same compensation requirements. If this is not the case industries will move to those sections of the country where conditions are most favorable and it is our duty as Pennsylvania Legislators to guard against such a move on the part of Pennsylvania industries. After all the biggest sufferers will be the laboring people who are not able to follow as rapidly as the industries leave.

In summing up, it is my belief that any bill, for compensation, taxes or any cause whatever, which affects the costs of competing products of more than one State should be Federal in scope and for that reason I must oppose House Bill 99 and am therefore voting "No".

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG filed the following reasons for his vote:

I vote against House Bill 99 not because I am opposed to a liberalization of the present act but because this Bill is so drastic that it would work a great and unfair hardship to both employer and employe especially, so to the small industries of my district.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Section 9 This act shall become effective on the fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven except that the Governor shall have power to appoint the members of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission as herein provided at any time after the final enactment of this act to the extent necessary for such purposes this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the fact that the members of the House are very tired and have had a long, hard afternoon's work I am going to make my remarks very brief.

Mr. Speaker, when I first became interested in politics I did so as a follower—as did the rest of my county—of that great liberal Gifford Pinchot who was elected Governor of this Commonwealth on two occasions.

Mr. Speaker, those who differ with me may do so but I am still proud of having supported him, and I offer no apologies. He carried my county which showed that the people of my county thought as I did in the matter.

When he was elected Governor the last time he appointed to the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania a number of men who are now serving on that Commission. Some of them I do not know; some of them it has been my privilege to know and to know fairly well. Among those were Jay Goodnough who was on two occasions Speaker of the House of Representatives in which we are now seated. He is a man of distinction, a man of attainments, a man of unquestioned integrity, and able, faithful, loyal, and conscientious public servant. He is the Chairman of this Commission who is being ripped out of office by this bill. Let me call the attention of the members of this House to the fact that no one at any time or place has ever laid a specific charge against Jay Goodnough in any way affecting the performance of his duty to the public.

Let me call the attention of the House to the fact that when Mr. Stahlnecker and Mr. Goldberg were appointed to the Commission that many of the utility kings then said and I quote them, "This Commission is going to be no bed of roses for the utilities of Pennsylvania." I want to say to you, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, that I know these men to be capable, honest and conscientious public servants. I am not going to take the time of this House to read into the record a list of their attainments, but I shall ask the Speaker of the House in view of the fact that these men have had no specific charges leveled against them to add to my remarks this written statement, instead of my reading it.

The SPEAKER. If there are no obections the supplemental remarks of the gentleman from McKean will be added to his remarks.

The Chair hears none and the remarks of the gentleman will be extended on the record.

Remarks of Mr. KANE extended on record.

Twenty million dollars are being saved annually by customers of Pennsylvania utilities because of rate reductions made during 1933, 1934, 1935 and 1936, the years during which a majority of the present members of the Public Service Commission have served. This is a new mark for rate cutting in the state over a like period.

Of the total savings approximately $17,412,000 resulted from the Commission's informal conference method with utilities, the remainder being made by utilities on their own initiative, or resulted from formal rate cases.

Customers of electric utilities profited most; 39 electric companies making annual reductions approximating $14,879,600. Other savings were: 24 gas companies $1,306,300, 25 water companies $987,200, eight steam heat companies $158,700, and two toll bridge companies $55,000.

Five telephone companies made reductions amounting to $2,740,400. This figure does not include the large savings accruing to subscribers resulting from the Commission's order of February 21, 1933, directing the Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania to discontinue the extra monthly charge on hand-set instruments to subscribers using them 24 months.

As of March 1, 1935, two years following the date of the hand-set order, 173,047 subscribers of the Bell Company had been relieved of the extra charge, this resulting in a saving to those subscribers of approximately $520,000 for the year ending March 1, 1936. Since then other telephone companies in the state have followed the Commission's order as to hand-sets.

In the depression years reductions approximating $3,363,000 were made in 1933, $931,000 in 1934, and $9,161,300 in 1935, a total of $13,455,300. In 1936, with the country emerging from the depression, reductions approximated $6.672,800.

In 1937, hte Commission has secured an additional three million dollars in annual reductions.

The Commission on April 2, 1934, by formal resolution declared that 6 per cent (instead of the 7 per cent allowed previously) constituted a reasonable return upon the fair value of property used in rendering public service, in effect expressing the opinion that publis service companies should reduce their charges in keeping with the lessened incomes of their customers.

Supplementing this, the Commission in October 1934, sent letters to some 50 utilities requesting rate reductions. These letters were followed by similar letters to other companies in December of that year and the companies were then called to Harrisburg for informal conferences.

In 1935 and again in 1936, as fast as analyses of company records could be made by its limited staff, all those utilities who appeared to be earning over 6 per cent were called in for conference, and the reductions followed.

The Commission's 6 per cent resolution of April 1934, plus its rate reduction letters of that fall, were the power behind the great bulk of these reductions. The Commission points out that without the reduction in rate of return from 7 per cent to 6 percent made early in 1934, a large part of the reductions made in 1935 and 1936 could not have been secured.

The Commission in a precedent shattering decision on January 7, 1936, authorized the Borough of Myerstown, Lebanon County, to build and operate its own municipal light and power plant. The Commission thereby for the first time gave a municipality the right to enter into active competition with an existing utility, departing from a policy enunciated by its predecessors in 1916, of non-competition with an existing utility. The borough is served by the Metropolitan Edison Company, which appealed the Commission's decision to the State Superior Court.

Among other high lights of the Commission's work in the four-years period are:

1. Beginning in 1933 provided protection for the public by requiring adequate insurance coverage be carried by truck, bus and taxi operators, operating under its jurisdiction.

2. Smashed the hold that the three big corporate taxicab companies in Philadelphia had on the city and gave taxicab riders better service at lower rates.

3. Disposed of complaints of the City of Pittsburgh against the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company, as well as the investigation instituted by the Commission on its own motion into the company's rates, resulting in bus fares in Pittsburgh being cut from 25 cents cash to 20 tickets for $2, the equivalent of 10 cent fare. Permitted for the first time competitive bus service in Pittsburgh.

4. Ordered the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company of Allentown to make a substantial reduction in rates for natural gas in Williamsport and vicinity, which order has been appealed by the company to the Superior Court.

5. Ordered the Scranton-Spring Brook Water Service Company to reduce rates in its Spring Brook Division approximately $500,000. The company has appealed the order to the Superior Court.

6. Has been fighting steadily since 1933 for lower freight rates for bituminous coal from Pennsylvania soft coal fields.

7. Suspended on its own initiative tariffs filed by five gas companies fixing rates for natural gas service in Dauphin, Cumberland, York, Chester, Lehigh, Berks Bucks, Northampton, and Lebanon Counties pending hearing on tariffs and application of Pennsylvania Gas Transmission Company to transport the gas.

These major investigations of interest to rate payers were started by the present Commission and are continuing:

1. A general inquiry to determine if the law or Commission regulations have been violated by certain Pennsylvania operating utilities in dealing with their parent, the Associated Gas Electric System. This inquiry concerns rate-payers in 31 counties.

2. Inventory and appraisal of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company in connection with the proposed reorganization of the company under Section 77B of the Federal Bankruptcy.

3. Inventory and appraisal of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company, one of the largest utilities of its kind in the State, to ascertain if the company should not make rate reduction in addition to that of $1,500,000 obtained by the Commission in August 1935. The Commission again through informal conferences secured a reduction of $700,000 from the same company in December 1936. The company operates in 28 counties.

4. Investigation instituted by the Commission on its own motion into the rates and practices of the Edison Light and Power Company, of York, which case is now in process of hearing.

5. In November 1936 started formal rate proceedings on its own motion against the Smethport Natural Gas Company, of Smethport, the United Natural Gas Company, of Oil City, and the Manufacturers Gas Company, of Pittsburgh. Natural gas consumers in McKean, Clearfield, Venango, Crawford, Mercer, Jefferson, Butler, Clarion, Elk, and Warren Counties are affected.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I, too, am mindful of the fact that the hour is late and the fact that we are going to have one public hearing at seven o'clock and another one at eight o'clock. but the responsibility is not mine, but that of gentlemen who insisted that this bill should be brought to a vote today.

I came into this House in 1925 and in 1931 the Governor, whom by colleague from McKean has just mentioned, Gifford Pinchot, attempted to rip out the Public Service Commission. Governor Pinchot, as we all know, waged a very vigorous battle against the utilities in the State of Pennsylvania. I was a member of the committee to investigate utilities in 1931, and I opposed Governor Pinchot and his program because he demanded the right to hire and fire the members of the Commission, and I felt that it was improper to place in the hands of the Executive of Pennsylvania that additional power. I feel today the same way about it. I am opposed to House bill 850 because it is clearly an attempt to pack the Public Service Commission by the Executive in order that he may enforce his own peculiar or particular ideas of the way the Public Service Company law should be administered in Pennsylvania. I do not want the Public Service Commission to administer the law according to the dictates of any one. That is a part of the province of the Commission as a quasi judicial body, to determine the questions before them under the law as they find it. I agree with the gentleman that it is a tragedy there is so little heard over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on the action of the Democratic party in its attempt to rip out the Public Service Commission without preferring any charges against the Public Service Commission other than what I heard on the floor of this House last night, when the gentleman who is now in the Speaker's Chair said that the Commission had not served ehe public. I served in this House when Jay Goodnough was Speaker. I was on the other side politically from the Speaker, but I know that he is fair and impartial. In the times it has been my duty as a practicing attorney to appear before the Public Service Commission or to contact the Chairman of that Commission, I know the fair and impartial way in which he approached a problem. I have known quite intimately almost every other member of that Commission during the time that I have been here on the "Hill". I waged many a battle with Mr. Stahlnecker as Governor Pinchot's Secretary, and many a time tried to drive him off the floor of this House. I know Mr. Goldberg when he was a Deputy Attorney General. I know his ability and his knowledge of the law. He was highly respected by every one who came in contact with the Attorney General's department. The only complaint I have ever heard against Mr. Goldberg in the course of the last few years, since he has been on the Commission, has been that he was inclined to view the law too strictly in his interpretation of the Public Service Company law.

I might go on down the line if I had time and recite instance after instnace of the things I know about the men on the Public Service Commission, but I think it is an outrage that men of this calibre and this character, against whom there has been no complaint filed, and who have been performing their duties in accordance with the law as laid down,—that these men should be ripped out of office in a thirty day period, as this bill provides for their going out of office on the 15th of March. I said to you in the first place I was opposed to this bill because it is an attempt to do that which I felt Mr. Pinchot was doing in 1931, that is, to control the Public Service Commission and give him the right to hire those Commissioners that possibly would do his own bidding. The Public Service Commission is not an agency of the Executive; it is an agency of the legislative branch of the government, and when you allow the Executive to usurp the legislative powers you will break down down that which our constitution, not only in this State but in our nation has attempted to set up. The second reason I am opposed to this bill is that it is a flagrant attempt on the part of a party to seize the offices which are now held by men who have not been enrolled as members of their party. In other words, it is a plain attempt to rip out of office Republicans and give the appointments to Democrats.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I accept the apology of the speakers on the other side. In view of the fact that it is late and having made their brief statement, I wish to ask the members of this House to support House Bill 850 because I feel, and I know the members here feel, that it is in line and in keeping with the general policy of the new administration to stop the shadow-boxing which has been going on the part of the Commissioners heretofore. It is not a usurpation on the part of the Executive in an endeavor to capture any other branch of the givernment, because the appointments, which will of necessity have to be made by the Chief Executive of this State, must be ratified by the Senate, which is a branch of this Legislature.

This bill is not necessarily a reflection on the personalities of the members of the Public Service Commission, but it is a reflection on the work and the nonfeasance on their part to give the people of Pennsylvania what they should have had for years. If we were to keep them in office, we would not heed the mandate of the people of Pennsylvania in putting into force the regulatory measure which we have before us at tonight's hearing on House bill 851. We must have men who are in line and in keeping with the times; we must have people in office on the Public Service Commission or the Public Utilities Commission, which will take its place, we must have people of the kind who will take the interests of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into consideration, and if any member of the present Public Service Commission has heretofore done his job properly, there is no reason in the world why the Chief Executive may not re-appoint him. I say this in all fairness, that this is in keeping with the general policy of the new administration of Pennsylvania. We feel that there ought to be a change. I say that we must wipe the slate clean. This Bill 850 has been proposed and I feel it is in line with the companion measure, House bill 851.

I ask the members of the House to support this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether I understood him right when he said "we are going to wipe the slate clean."

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is correct, I did so state.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean to infer that there might be just a slight Democratic smear left on the slate?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, I feel in wiping any slate clean we must have the slate blank and start writing over again on that slate.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very much. It was my understanding that one of the Commissioners at least was to be retained.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I am opposed to this bill because my old friend and neighbor, Hon. C. J. Goodnough is being tried by drum head procedure and thrown into the dungeon without cause. Mr. Goodnough has served in this House for nearly 20 years and during two administrations was its Speaker, a position he filled with satisfaction and ability. In the Public Service Commission his leadership has been efficient and fair and has won for him the respect and confidence of the people. It has been intimated on the floor of this House that while this is true the justification for his sentence is: He has been guilty of death bed repentence. This is a wrong assumption. Mr. Goodnough has held public office for over 30 years and never in that time has he been other than a clean courageous servant of the people. He has an honorable record. I therefore protest against his political assasination.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 557 as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Water and Power Resources Board for payment into the Flood Control Fund for flood control purposes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of eight million dollars ($8,000,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated out of the General Fund to the Water and Power Resources Board for payment into the Flood Control Fund in the State Treasury for the purpose of making the same available for the purposes for which such Flood Control Fund is appropriated by law Provided however That not less than four million dollars ($4,000,000) of the sum appropriated by this act and paid into the Flood Control Fund shall be used and expended only for flood control work and improvements on and along the Susquehanna River and it tributaries

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. Weiss and I have stood shoulder to shoulder in matters of flood control and bills relating to our rivers and our river basins through both sessions, he from Allegheny County and myself from Bucks, he representing the western end of the State and I the eastern. I want to bring to your attention just a few facts that relate themselves very materially to this whole program, and I ask your indulgence for just a minute.

This subject of flood control is a stupendous one and it is one that requires very careful consideration and so I would ask you to consider certain facts in relation to this subject matter as a whole and it relates to this appropriation. You remember last night that the bill for five million dollars—four millions for the Susquehanna and four millions for the western end of the state and the amendment, I believe, was agreed to. I have not since read the bill but I believe that that statement is correct. Am I right, Mr. Weiss?

Very well, I here no denial of that. Now there are before the United States Senate certain bills that have to do with flood control. I believe there are eight divisions of these United States in flood control districts. One of those bills has to do entirely with the Atlantic seaboard as one unit. This bill has been introduced by Senator Barkley of Kentucky and Senator Buckley of Ohio. These two gentlemen are Democratic Senators. Their bill takes in the whole Atlantic seaboard on flood control. I would like, further, to call your attention to the fact that there is also the Wagner bill, which sets forth that flood control damages practically north of Mason and Dixon's line were to be assumed by the Commonwealths and the States. I would like, also, to direct your attention to the fact that south of that line the United States Government has practically stood all of that expense. So, we have this bill which is now before the United States Senate, together with these facts as I have stated them. I would remind you, further, that these three great States of New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania are involved in the development of rivers that are in Pennsylvania or on the boundary of Pennsylvania, particularly the Susquehanna and the Delaware valleys, and will involve ultimately an expenditure for New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania of something like four hundred million dollars. Now in these three States there are twenty-six million people and their contribution to the Federal Treasury last year was one billion three hundred million dollars, thirty-four percent of the total income of the Federal Government, and we re asked today for land damages in these States for these improvements.

In the TVA, involving seven States, there are ten millions of people and their contribution was forty-nine million dollars to the Federal Treasury last year and yet they are receiving all the money necessary for land damages, and so it is true in the Mississippi and so it is true in the west, and so it is true in all plans for the building of dams. I want to again direct your attention to the fact that we are now here appropriating eight million dollars, whereas it is the purpose of the Executives of, I think, five, six or seven States to go to the Federal Government and ask the Federal Government that we be relieved here in the north of this unfair burden and that we put upon the same basis as the southern and the western States. So I ask if we cannot hold back this appropriation until such time as an effort can be made by our Governor to accomplish something along the same lines.

I believe that the Governor of this Commonwealth with the pleas that he has made in other affairs and with his approach to the Federal Government and the White House is perfectly capable and can, if he is so directed, bring this whole subject to the attention of the Federal authorities. I have in committee a resolution to that end. I look upon this subject as a stupendous one, ane that involves the expenditure of many millions of dollars, and that expenditure should be approached in its biggest and broadest way, and with that approach I believe that this problem can be solved in a very liberal manner. I believe, also, that a partial solution of the present labor problem will be reached, and I believe that the ultimate development will solve the particular problem that is ours, that relates to the hard coal industry and our difficulties in that area.

Now without further indulging upon the members of the House I ask that we do not move too rapidly or too fast in the appropriation of this money but that we hold it back in the hope that we may save at least eight million dollars and that Federal money may take its place and that this whole work may be consummated as it should be, as a whole and not piecemeal. We have one of the biggest developments that is to be had and for four hundred million dollars it will be complete, while the expenditure in the TVA is one-third complete and yet they have spent one hundred and sixty-eight millions today. So with a particular, practical approach to the Federal Government I ask that our Governor through my resolution, invite the Governors of the adjoining States to join with him, to seek a rightful and equitable adjustment of this whole thing, so that this flood control may be brought to its proper, its ultimate, and its speedy finish.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are other aspects of this bill that do not appear on the surface and only those who were in attendance at the committee meetings would understand them. I wish to call your attention to those aspects, they are local. Now this bill on the face of it is merely an appropriation of eight million dollars; the proviso that was put in last night by amendment was that four million dollars of that would be expended on the Susquehanna watershed and the other four million of course on the western watershed. Originally it was proposed to put five million on the western watershed. That is all I want to touch upon. Plans were shown to the committee and they embraced five or six large catch-basins on the western watershed. The Susquehanna watershed was to be taken up later. Your attention is called to the fact that nothing was placed upon those maps to show what damage would be done locally to those five or six counties. It so happens that nearly all of these projects are personally known to me and I would be doing my full duty if I didn't call attention to the facts of what it would do to those counties. The mere spending of the eight million dollars is but the start of a campaign that will run into hundreds of millions of dollars, perhaps; it only going part way. If you put that into the headwaters of the western watershed, you go into the counties of Jefferson, Clarion, Indiana, Warren and other counties, and you must take into consideration how it is going to affect those counties. The Army engineers have presented their facts and figures so far as daming is concerned but nothing was said about improvements. There are two places that will cause damage to Jefferson County and partly to Clarion. A dam is to be erected on Red Bank Creek as a part of the program and this is what is going to happen. It will back water up for twenty miles from Mayport and Brookville to a depth of about three feet of water under the Brookville Bridge. It will destroy a one million dollar brick plant, it will destroy the Pennsylvania Railroad for ten or twenty miles, that is, the low grade division, it will destroy many miles of improved State highway and other highways and will result in a lessening of the valuation of property for taxation purposes in Jefferson County by one-fifth. In other words, there would be about a million dollars less valuation once they are through in Jefferson County. It will take two million dollars of those five million dollars to pay for land to build this dam nad in so doing it will work a hardship on Jefferson County. I ask you to consider any of you who are not going to be affected in your home county by this undertaking if they are going to take one-fifth of your valuation away from you,—I will try to make this brief. I want to read to this House a resolution that was passed by the County Commissioners of Jefferson County which reads as follows:

Whereas, The Federal Government in connection with the State government is contemplating the erection and construction of dams on several of the tributaries of the Allegheny River in connection with the Floor Control Program, and

Whereas, It is contemplated to construct and erect a dam on Red Bank Creek above Mayport to a height which will cause slack water in the Borough of Brookville to a depth of three feet, which is more than twenty miles from the breast of the dam, and

Whereas, The construction of said dam as contemplated will inundate the Borough of Summerville, portions of Union and Silver and Clover townships, in Jefferson County, and

Whereas, The assessed valuation of the land which will be inundated will total approximately one million dollars, which is approximately five per cent of the total assessed valuation of Jefferson County, and

Whereas, Said inundation will cause the loss of manufacturing plants employing over two hundred persons, and

Whereas, The Commissioners of Jefferson County are not objecting to the principles of flood control, but are for plans and ways and means of flood control with the least property damage, and

Whereas, The Honorable Henry I. Wilson, Representative in the General Assembly from Jefferson County, has suggested the building of a greater number of smaller dams on Red Bank Creek in order that less damage will be caused to the real estate in Jefferson County by inundation and otherwise:

Now, therefore, be it Resolved, by the Commissioners of Jefferson County, in regular session assembled this 23rd day of February 1937, in their offices in the Court House at Brookville, Jefferson County, Pennsylvania, that they request Federal engineers and the Committee on Forestry in the House of Representatives and other officials directing the Flood Control Program of Pennsylvania to devise ways and means of controlling the flood waters on Red Bank Creek, a tributary of the Allegheny River, by providing for the construction of a greater number of smaller dams in order that less damage will be done to real estate in Jefferson County.

(Signed)
M. C. SUTTER
G. O. SCHUCKERS
S. EMORY KUNTZ

Attest: MARGARET E. LEACH,
Commissioners' Clerk.

I do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of a resolution duly adopted by the County Commissioners of Jefferson County at a regular meeting held on the 23rd day of February 1937, in their offices in the Court House at Brookville, Jefferson County, Pennsylvania.

[SEAL] MARGARET E. LEECH.
Commissioners' Clerk.

I want to call your attention to the fact that the improvement on the dam at the Mahoning stream will do the same thing. It goes into Indiana County and into Jefferson and possibly a part of Clarion County. The neighborhood will suffer greatly and we believe that these plans are not the best plans that could be adopted. The only reason that I am speaking at this time is that it has been announced that those are the plans that are to be carried through and no reference was made to the damage that would be done. Four million dollars on the western watershed will only pay for two of these dams, to get the right of way, and will result in that much less assessed valuation, as I have already stated.

I place this matter before the House and ask you to consider it, nad understand that I vote against this bill against my own opinion, because of the fact that I am for flood control, but this particular manner of handling it, if it is to be handled, is not such as I care to endorse.

Mr. STOCKMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to make perfectly clear in concluding, a matter that I did not take up in my remarks, that I am for this bill, its necessity of passage. However, I feel that we should hold the passage and the appropriation of this money until we have had some contact with the Federal authority in an endeavor to save this expenditure, if possible. That is my appeal. I am not criticizing any of the plans of the army engineers or the Department of Forests and Waters engineers. That is a matter for them to decide, but I do think that it might be well for us to hold up on this until we can make some proper contact to save what we can.

On the question, recurring.

Muir,	Sproul,	Turner,	Wilson,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1059 (Senate Bill No. 276), entitled

An Act making an appropriation for the expenses of the joint legislative commission created by Senate Concurrent Resolution Serial Number 102 approved thirteenth one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, the purpose for which he has requested this bill to be put on the postponed calendar?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad that the gentleman from Philadelphia, has asked me that question.

I have heard a great deal of comment on both sides of this House as to the amount of this appropriation $25,000 for this committee. I understand in the original resolution there was no provision for the expenditure of any money. We are now asked to appropriate $25,000 which is far beyond any investigating committee that I have known at any time in the history of my experience in this House. Therefore, I thought I was being kind to the Speaker in asking a few moments ago if he would not desist in following the proceedings and stop me from making a speech, and therefore, I would like to ask that this be placed on the postponed calendar because we can talk it over a bit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the noes appeared to have it.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the very amicable gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, I withdraw my motion to place this bill on the postponed calendar, as the gentleman says he will let it go over in its order.

BILL PASSED OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OMINSKY asked and obtained permission for House Bill No. 1059, Senate Bill No. 276, Printer's No. 63, to be passed over in its order.

The SPEAKER asked and obtained permission for House Bill No. 115, Printer's No. 255 to be passed over in its order.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 111, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred six of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred forty-three), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the re-settlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds, of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth", by making further provision for the appointment of mercantile appraisers.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 228, entitled:

An Act imposing an annual license tax for the privilege of operating, maintaining or controlling within this Commonwealth a store or stores as herein defined; prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax and its disposition; and providing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1128, entitled:

An Act requiring unemployment relief orders to be presented for payment within a certain period, otherwise to be cancelled and the moneys appropriated for their payment to be escheated to the Commonwealth and credited to the current appropriation for unemployment relief purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 602, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred and two of the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," empowering directors of departments to appoint persons employed in their departments; and assigning the fire department to the department of public safety.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 917, entitled:

An Act providing for the licensing of all persons engaged as blasters, except in anthracite or bituminous coal mines or on farms; requiring examination for such license; providing for the payment of a fee for examination and for the issuance and renewal of licenses; and providing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, March 10, 1937

The Senate met at 12 o'clock a. m.

The PRESIDENT PRO-TEMPORE (Mr. Harvey Huffman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George Walker Buckner, LL. D., offered the following prayer.

Our Father, as a privilege, rather than a duty, we come to Thee in thanksgiving and prayer.

Often, with the manna of Thy grace about us, our lives are scant and lean. We have not, because we ask not; and even though we ask, we receive not, because we ask amiss, for we would not consume Thy bounty upon our own desires.

In the name of the Great Unselfish One, may we envision Thy purpose in the challenge of the Cross.

Help us to glorify the Royal Law, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Into the laws of all lands, and the life of Thy world, may we write Thy love in letters of living light. In His Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. DiSILVESTRO, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Section 3 The Governor is hereby authorized to appoint three competent persons learned in the law as judges of said court until the first Monday of January succeeding the next municipal election one of whom shall be designated as president judge for said period

Section 4 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is the bill creating an additional Common Pleas Court in Philadelphia County. I opposed this bill at the time of its passage in the Senate, and it has come back here—perhaps on the principle of chickens coming home to roost. Speaking of that reminds me—I often think of the General Assembly as a hen sitting, or setting, on a nest, hatching out executive eggs; and some of these eggs are good and some are rotten, and many of them are nest eggs. Now, we are unscrambling courts, and this is the other way around, this is scrambling a court.

We have in Philadelphia Mr. John B. Kelly, who is our Peerless Leader, and who, himself, has adopted the epithet of Jack the Ripper. When he is not at the Executive Mansion I see Mr. Kelly breakfasting with Governor Earle at the Bellevue-Stratford, and deciding what eggs are to be hatched out by the General Assembly; but you remember that phrase—that proverb, "Do not count your chickens before they are hatched." The other morning I read in the daily press that the Governor and Mr. Kelly—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair reminds the Senator that the question before the Senate is as to whether the Senate shall pass finally the bill as amended in the House.

Mr. WOODWARD. Yes, Mr. President, I will speak on the bill in a moment. I am against the amendment, and I am against the whole bill, which includes the amendment, because I think it certainly must be unconstitutional to appoint judges to courts that are not in existence. The Governor selected eleven judges for three courts, of which this is one; three in the Family Relations Court, five in the Court of Small Claims, and three in this No. 6 Court of Common Pleas. They are all selected, whereas the Assembly has not yet created these courts.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair again reminds the Senator that the only question before the Senate is this bill, not the Family Relations Court or the Court of Small Claims The Senator is not talking on the bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the amendment is to make this bill immediately operative, is it not?

The PRESIDENT. It is.

Mr. WOODWARD. Well, Mr. President, I am speaking against that. I do not want it immediately or eventually. I have only a few more words, Mr. President. I do not want to oppose—I do not want to oppose any measure which would enable my colleague, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, to be a judge in the Common Pleas Court, or my friend Mr. Ladner; and, in fact, the Governor has appointed as President Judge of this court Mr. Goodrich, who is my tenant, and if the President Judge gets $14,000, or $15,000, of course I will get my rent; so I am really going against my own interest.

That is destructive criticism. Now the constructive criticism is, if you set up one Common Pleas Court throughout the State in 1939, you need not set up an additional, a No. 6, Common Pleas Court in Philadelphia at this time. The Governor, in his budget message, said that it will take $535,000,000 to run this government, and we spend $5,000,000 additional for the courts, and each of these additional judges would get $15,000, and I think that can be saved.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 304, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," by adding thereto new sections, providing for the issuance of certificates of indebtedness or special revenue bills in counties of the second class; and providing that they shall not be subject to taxation.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 391 (House Bill No. 333), as follows:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (P. L. 178) entitled "An act taxing certain stocks of building and loan associations for State purposes" and presribing the effect of such repeal

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the Same That the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (P. L. 178) entitled "An act taxing certain stocks of building and loan associations for State purposes" is hereby repealed

Section 2 The repeal of said act shall not relieve any building and loan association from the payment of any taxes payable under the provisions of such repealed law for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six on reports filed during the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven nor for any previous tax year nor prevent or stop the collection of such taxes in accordance with existing laws in force at the date when this act becomes effective

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as folows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 286, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and sections one, three, six, fifteen, sixteen and eighteen, and to repeal section nineteen of the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1379), entitled "An act creating in counties of the third class a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the county commissioners; providing for their salaries, payable by the county; abolishing existing boards; defining the powers and duties of such board; regulating the assessment of persons, property, and occupations for county, borough, town, township, school, and poor purposes; authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors, a solicitor, engineers, and clerks; providing for their compensation payable by such counties, abolishing the office of ward, borough, and township assessors, so far as the making of assessments and valuation for taxation is concerned; and providing for the acceptance of this act by cities," making the provisions of said act mandatory in cities located in such counties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1

Deitrick,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 316, entitled:

An Act providing a method through payroll deductions for the payment of delinquent taxes, penalties and interest and costs due to political subdivisions by public officers and employes paid from moneys in the treasury thereof; and conferring powers and imposing duties on the city controller, city treasurer, receiver of taxes and bonded paymasters.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does this bill make it mandatory on the corporate authorities to deduct delinquent taxes from salaries of the employes, or does the Act merely make it discretionary?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, it makes it mandatory.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, notwithstanding the answer of the sponsor of the bill, a very careful reading of it indicates that the provisions are discretionary, and not mandatory. The bill gives to the corporate authorities levying the tax the power to collect, or to deduct from the salaries of employes that are paid out of the public fund, the delinquent taxes that may be due from those employes; but it does fix the limit of deduction that can be made, and fixes the limit at twenty per centum of the salary; and it invests the corporate authority, or the taxing power, with the right to say whether it shall deduct five per cent., ten per cent., fifteen or twenty.

Now, that particular feature of the bill opens up the door to the temptation of selecting the employees, and from the favored ones they will deduct five per cent., and from those that are not so favored they will deduct ten per cent. In other words, this bill, making it discretionary with the corporate authorities as to the percentage of delinquent taxes that may be deducted, will open the door to what we call, in our popular language a "racket," where it will permit the corporate authorities to favor those from whom they do not want to collect the delinquent taxes, and persecute those that might not be favored by them. That feature of the bill is very bad; it is indefensible.

The second objection to this bill is that it changes the mode of collection of the debt-collection of taxes. The bill is mistitled. This bill is, in fact, an attachment bill, permitting the municipalities, or the corporate authorities, to attach the wages of employes—something that has not been known heretofore.

The third very serious objection that we find to this bill is this, that it states the tax collector shall certify to the corporate authorities, or the taxing powers, the names of those who are delinquent in their taxes and who receive their salaries out of the township treasury; and then it makes the corporate authority the collector of the taxes. Illustrating that principal: here, we might say, is a school teacher who owes the township taxes. The duplicate is originally sent to the tax collector, and when he does not collect the taxes from the school teacher he merely certifies the fact to the School Board, and then the School Board becomes the tax collector in place of him who is the duly elected tax collector; and the School Board will take money out of the one pocket out of the school treasury, money they already have, and pay it over to the tax collector. The only thing that remains for him to do is to endorse the check over to the School Board and collect two per cent. commission on that money—money that the School Board already has in the school treasury. Yet this Act will require the School Board to make a warrant to the tax collector of that same money, and all the tax collector will do is endorse that check back to the School Board and collect his two per cent. commission for the collection of tax money,—on money that is already in the school treasury. And the same thing is true as to the Road Boards; this Act permits the same thing.

Another serious objection to this law is this: that it is not a general law but is a special law covering only a particular class of delinquent taxpayers. There would be no objection to a general law, but this Act merely applies to delinquent taxpayers who happen at the same time to be public employes; and that particular feature of the Act makes it contrary to the provisions of the Constitution; it is special legislation and class legislation.

Earlier in this session there was a similiar Act of Assembly introduced, and passed, applicable to the City of Philadelphia alone; and at that time I took occassion to say that it would not be very long until we would be flooded with further legislation along that line, covering other municipalities; and when we have passed this law—when we have passed this law giving the tax collector the right to attach the wages of these public employes, there is no logical, sensible reason why, then, we should oppose the demand of the groceryman, of the butcher, or of the milkman, who furnishes those essentials of living that keeps the delinquent taxpayer alive, keeps life, keeps warmth in his body, keeps him alive so he can pay taxes. If the municipality can attach wages for taxes, how can we deny the grocerman, the butcher, the milkman and the coalman from demanding the right to attach the wages of these employes, and other employes, so that they may get what is due them for furnishing to these employes, or the employes of others, the very necessities of life, that keep the delinquent taxpayers alive and able to work so that they can earn money to pay taxes? .

Mr. PRESIDENT, this bill, as well as the previous one covering the City of Philadelphia, I doubt very seriously whether we have given sufficient thought as to the future reactions and what these bills will lead us to. I have pointed out just merely the few objectional features. The one that is most noxious is the one that makes the corporate authorities the tax collectors for the tax collector, by merely writing for him a warrant on money that is already on the public till, so that the tax collector may just endorse that warrant, and keep out his two per cent, and return the warrant to the corporate authorities. And the second very noxious feature is that this Act violates the Constitution, and should not be passed.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, does the Senator from Fayette not believe that the tax eater should pay for what he eats?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the tax eater the Senator from Indiana is talking about is not fed by the person for whom he works, but it is the groceryman, the milkman and the man that furnishes the necessities of life that keeps him alive.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, is he not paying the same tax form which he receives his pay?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that is true, but the man that pays that tax into the municipality is that groceryman, that butcher, that milkman and every other inhabitant of the township or the school district.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, interrogating further, if the Senator from Fayette had an employe who had obtained goods from him, or had borrowed money from him, would he not, if he had an equitable right, deduct that, or, at least, twenty per cent of that from his pay check, if the Senator, as his employer, were paying him?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that right we have now in this Commonwealth; and in my own opinion the corporate authorities of the Commonwealth have the same right to deduct from the salaries of their employes any debt or claim they have against the employes—without the passage of this law.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, do I understand, from the Senator from Fayette, that this merely simplifies existing rights of a municipal subdivision?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, it may be declaratory of a right which they now have but which they do not exericse.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. Prseident, despite what the Senator from Fayette says I still maintain the Act is mandatory. It was so made, to eliminate the possibility of political preference, which he states might be possible. It was deliberately made mandatory. It says "shall", as you will read in the Act. That is the possibility of this type of legislation. In a garnishee proceding I do not think the point well taken. In the garnishee proceeding you have three parties—the employer, the employe and the person who makes the garnishment. Here you have simply the employer, which is the political subdivision of the State, and the employe; and we are simply asking the employer to make deduction from the wages of the employe of a percentage of the wages, in order that the debt of the employe to the fund from which he receives his wages may be paid. I do not see how this Act would have anything to do with the garnishee law.

I think the point is far fetched; and that this Act has nothing whatsoever to do with the garnishee law.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I feel impelled to say a word on this measure. As an attorney, I think I have yet the time to advise anyone who came into may office against paying an honest debt. We are levying taxes here, and I believe in everybody's paying his taxes; but as to those who derive their livelihood at the expense of the taxpayers, I certainly do believe that they should pay their own taxes.

Now, I know of several persons—I was surprised to have it brought to my attention—in my own county, and these employes are Republicans, and I do not intend to defend anyone, whether he be a Republican or a Democrat, if he is receiving his salary at the expense of the taxpayers, I believe he should pay his taxes; if he does not want to pay his taxes I think he should give up his employment; and if this bill makes him pay, I believe we should pass it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 10, 1937.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for appointment:

Fred L. Dearborn, of New Milford, Susquehanna County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in the Township of New Milford, Susquehanna County, (to fill a vacancy), until the first Monday in January, 1938.

ALDERMAN

John H. Jacobsen, of Lebanon, Lebanon County, for appointment as Alderman in the ninth Ward of the City of Lebanon, Lebanon County, (to fill a vacancy), until the first Monday in January, 1938.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

TRUSTEE OF SHAMOKIN STATE HOSPITAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 10, 1937.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Jacob Ralph Brobst, of Bloomsburg, Columbia County, as a member of the Board of Trustees of Shamokin State Hospital, vice J. Paul Garrett, of Herndon, resigned, for the term of four years, and until his successor is qualified.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 68, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 68, Printer's No. 31, recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with this bill I should like to state to the members of the Senate that in the body of the bill reference is made to two Acts of Assembly dealing with deficiency judgments, the Act of 1934 and the Act of 1935. Those Acts were declared unconstitutional by reason of a decision of the Supreme Court. This bill deals with judgments which were entered by default under provisions of those Acts, and makes it mandatory on persons desiring to open those judgments to do so within a period of three months from the date of the passage of this bill.

The Senate passed this bill, and the House approved it, but we have found that in its title it refers to the Act of 1935 only, and has no reference to the Act of 1934. In order to correct this error, I made the following motion:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 68 passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President. I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. Prseident, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 1, line 4 of the title, by inserting after the word "act" and before the word "approved" the following: "approved the seventeenth day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and forty-three) entitled "An act to protect the owner of mortgaged property during the present emergency by limiting the amount of deficiency judgments during a certain period" and the act"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended"

It was agreed to

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate

RECALL OF NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

RECALLING NOMINATION OF TRUSTEE OF SHAMOKIN STATE HOSPITAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 10, 1937.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In accordance with the power and authority vested in me as Governor of the Commonwealth, I do hereby recall my nomination of March 8, 1937, for the appointment of Jacob Ralph Brobst of Columbia, Lancaster County, as a member of the Board of Trustees of Shamokin State Hospital.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, from the Committee on Constitutional Changes reported, as amended, Senate Bill No. 264, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article fourteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding section eight.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GILSON, from the Committee on Public Utilities, reported, as committed, Senate Bill No. 484 (House Bill No. 850), entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, board, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," as amended, by abolishing the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, terminating the terms of the members thereof, and creating, as successor to such commission, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; defining, in part, the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and transferring to such commission the records, employes, property and equipment of the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in, and complete, all pending proceedings, legal or otherwise, instituted before, by, or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing that all certificates of public convenience, contracts, orders, and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed, changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, this bill is reported out with the understanding that after it has passed two readings it is be recommitted to the the same Committee for the purpose of a Public Hearing.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMPSON, from the Committee on State Government, reported, as committed, Senate Bill No. 315, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Forests and Waters to acquire, in the name of the Commonwealth, the farm in Derry Township, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, under which is located Indian Echo Cave, and to operate and maintain the same as a State park, and make and enforce rules and regulations for the preservation and visitation thereof; requiring the department to charge admissions to the cave; and making an appropriation.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee to ask that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations, in view of the fact that it provides for an appropriation.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read bills in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

The Rev. OSCAR F. R. TREDER, Pastor St. James Church, Bedford, offered the following prayer:

God, our Father, Preserver and Disposer of all things, to Whom appertaineth Counsel, and Wisdom and Understanding; send down of Thy Wisdom to direct and guide the General Assembly of our Commonwealth. Let us not try to be wiser than Thou; let the spirit of Thy people, their understanding, will and conscience, be preserved blameless, and make them worthy of the heroic ideals and traditions of their forebears. Grant us, O Lord, such boldness that we may set our faces as a flint, and not be ashamed, but, contending valiantly for the truth in social righteousness may out of weakness be made strong, and conquer in Thy might. And mayest Thou, God, Who art the Alpha and the Omega, and Who worketh in us both to will and to do of Thy good pleasure, be Thyself the beginning and end of our work. Amen.

RESOLUTION No. 48.

In the House of Representatives, March 9, 1937.

Whereas, Notwithstanding the improvement in economic and unemployment conditions there remain thousands of young men who are unable to secure work, but who are not on relief rolls because supported by other members of the family; and

Whereas, In many cases such families are required to subsist on meager incomes, and should have additional income to maintain an American standard of living; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to provide for admission of young men to the Civilian Conservation Camps, coming from the low income families not on relief, and that a quota not exceeding thirty per centum enrolled in such camps be selected from such families;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION No. 4 FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 4.

In the Senate, February 22, 1937.

Whereas The present Legislature is faced with the problem of raising revenues through the enactment of certain tax measures and

Whereas The present legislature as all past Legislatures has had presented to it the general argument that the taxes imposed under the laws of this State were so high that they were responsible for driving many industries out of the State and

Whereas The arguments advanced against certain types of taxation have been presented to the Legislature by persons who were the representatives of individual companies or their associations so that the members of the Legislature could not rely upon the facts and figures presented in substantiation of the arguments advanced and

Whereas The arguments advanced have failed to set up a wide and accurate comparison state by state tax by tax so that the members of the Legislature could not clearly see the soundness of the conclusions reached and

Whereas The members of the Legislature desire to have presented to them facts and figures gathered by persons who have no interest in the conclusion to be reached so that they may know if Pennsylvania has taxed any industry more than any of the adjacent industrial or mining states that enjoy equal economic advantages incident to the costs of the operation of any industry such as nearness to markets raw materials costs of power and available labor and

Whereas The members of the Legislature desire to be presented to them a complete set-up of all the taxes imposed upon industry both by local governments and the State and then to have similar figures compiled for the states enjoying similar economic advantages therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House of Representatives who together shall constitute a Joint Legislative Committee whose duty it shall be to make a careful thorough and impartial investigation of the total tax burdens placed upon industries in Pennsylvania and other industrial and mining states and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall conduct an investigation to ascertain the number of industrial or mining concerns which have left our State and the reason given therefor and to ascertain the total tax burdens imposed by the States to which the said industrial or mining concerns have moved and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall conduct an investigation to ascertain the number of new industrial and mining concerns which have moved into Pennsylvania and the reasons therefor and to ascertain to what extent the question of taxation was the cause of the transfer of such industry to this State as well as to ascertain the tax burden imposed by the State from which the industry has moved and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall have the power to engage and employ such experts and assistants as the committee shall determine are necessary and such experts and assistants and the incidental expenses in conjunction with this investigation shall be paid out of any appropriation made by the General Assembly for the purposes embodied in this concurrent resolution and be it further

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved That said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at this session as early as possible or if impossible then at the next session of the General Assembly

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

APPROVAL OF HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 22.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 9, 1937.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Resolution No. 22, Printer's No. 81, reciting that it is the sense of the General Assembly that two appropriations made to the Department of Property and Supplies by the Act of August 7, 1936, (P. L. 126), namely, one of $500,000 to be expended for the elimination of fire and other hazards to safety in State-owned institutions, and one of $500,000 for the erection, construction and repair of State armories, be expended despite the unavailability of Federal funds for such purposes.

L. 208) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing and excise tax for a limited period of time on the net income of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment and collection of the tax and appeals to courts conferring powers duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" as amended by extending the provisions of the act for a further period of time reducing the rate of tax further defining net income making further provisions for filing reports on a fiscal year basis and for the filing of consolidated reports providing for the settlement and re-settlement of taxes and review and appeal therefrom imposing duties and conferring powers on the Auditor General and making further provisions for the retention of records by corporations and for interest penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the title and all the sections of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment and collection of the tax and appeals to courts conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriations and providing penalties" as amended hereby re-enacted or further amended as the case may be to read as follows

An Act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment [and] collection [of the tax and appeals to courts] settlement and re-settlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties

Section 1 Short Title Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Corporate Net Income Tax Act"

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Corporation" A corporation having capital stock joint-stock association or limited partnership either organized under the laws of this Commonwealth the United States or any other state territory or foreign country or dependency and doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership join-stock association or corporation The word "corporation" shall not include building and loan associations banks bank and trust companies national banks savings institutions trust companies beneficial life and limited life insurance companies mutual fire mutual casualty and mutual life insurance companies and foreign stock companies registered in this Commonwealth and therein engaged in doing business as life fire and casualty insurance companies and surety companies [and trust companies]

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Net income" 1 In case the entire business of the corporation is transacted within this Commonwealth net income for the calendar year or fiscal year as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government subject however to any correction thereof for fraud evasion or error as finally ascertained by the Federal Government Provided That additional deductions shall be allowed from net income on account of any Federal taxes paid [to the Government of the United States] during such calendar or fiscal year for the preceeding calendar or fiscal year or accured during such calendar or fiscal year for such year as the case may be and on account of any dividends received from any other corporation And provided further That in the case of stock life casualty and indemnity insurance companies doing business on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policy holders out of net income

2 In case the entire business of any corporation is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows

(a) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The remainder of such net income shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible prop- situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditure of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employes and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from (1) sales fees and commissions except those negotiated or affected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth [and sales otherwise determined to be attributable to the business conducted on such premises and] (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises owned or rented by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts [from sales] attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

"Person" Every natural person association or corporation Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to association shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation shall be subject to and shall pay for the privilege of doing business in this Commonwealth a State excise tax at the rate of six per centum per annum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of six per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accuring to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six [and] a similar tax at the rate of ten per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accuring to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred [and] thirty-six except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of ten per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred [and] thirty-seven and a similar tax at the rate of seven per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight except when a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to which case such tax at the rate of seven per centum shall the department as required by section four of this act in be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accuring to such corporation during the fiscal years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight

The tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws

Section 4 Report and Payment of Tax For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred [and] thirty-six [and on or before the fifteenth day of April] one thousand nine hundred [and] thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight and one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department a report under oath or affirmation of its president vice president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act Such report shall set forth

(a) A true copy of its return to the Federal Government of the annual net income arising or accuring in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portions of said return as the department may designate

(b) If no return was filed with the Federal Government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and

(c) Such other information as the department may require

The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

Every corporation [at the time of making the report required herein] upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for [the] such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid [on or before the fifteenth day of May] within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the [time] times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of [twelve] six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until sixty (60) days after settlement and after at the rate of twelve (12) per centum per annum until paid except that any taxes found due as the result of an appeal to the court of common pleas or any appellate court shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date such Taxes are due and payable until paid Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for re-settlement a petition for review or an appeal to court [if such payment is accompained by a protest that the whole or any part of such payment is not justly or legally due] If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it [or assigned to any other person or corporation for use in the payment of any obligation to the Commonwealth] in the manner prescribed by law

If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

If any corporation [shall certify to the department that] closes its fiscal year [does] not [close] upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and [that it] reports to the Federal Government as of such date or [that it] would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government [then] such corporation shall [be permitted to] certify such fact to the department of Revenue and shall make the report herein required within [sixty (60)] thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all other respects to the provisions of this act

If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The Department [shall] may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly a majority of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income Provided That consolidated reports may be made only by corporations making consolidated returns to the Federal Government

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to [the payment] interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act [at the rate of six per centum]

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department [of] showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any deduction made from the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the Board of Finance and Revenue shall have the power and its duty shall be to hear and determine any petition for the refund of taxes alleged to have been overpaid and upon the allowance of such petition to refund such taxes out of any appropriation made for the purpose or to credit the account of the corporation entitled to such refund All such petitions must be field with the board within two (2) years of the date of such change or correction Any person aggrieved by the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue in the determination of any petition for the refund of taxes alleged to have been overpaid may within sixty days appeal to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the board in the manner provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlements

Section 8 [Determination and Re-determination of Tax Penalties and Interest Due (a) If within a period of two years after the filing of the report the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of tax made by any corporation under the provisions of this act or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession] Settlement and Re-settlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made

(b) Promptly after the date of any such [determination] settlement the department shall send by [registered] mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation [Within thirty (30) days after the date of any such determination such corporation may file with the department a petition for re-determination of such tax Every petition for re-determination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitled him to such re-determination and shall be supported by affidavit of an officer of the corporation that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true to the best of his knowledge information and belief The department shall within ninety (90) days after the date of any determination dispose of any petition for re-determination Notice of the action taken upon any petition for re-determination shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of re-determination by the department] The tax imposed by this act shall be settled re-settled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of re-settlement review appeal and except as herein otherwise prescribed refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) [Within thirty (30) days after notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for re-retermination filed with it the corporation against which such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue shall prescribe The petition shall be supported by affidavit of an officer of the corporation that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true to the best of his knowledge information and belief The Board of Finance and Revenue shall dispose of such petitions filed with it within ninety (90) days after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within ninety (90) days the action taken by the department upon the petition for re-determination shall be deemed sustained The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for re-determination or it may re-determine the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioners] If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a re-settlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

under the department shall re-settle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such re-settlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The re-settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the re-settlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) [The department or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within ninety (90) days may within sixty (60) days appeal to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlements

(e)] If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and [determine] subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes, penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which [determination] settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and [assess] settle the tax imposed by this act Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 858, entitled

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs towns and townships to acquire construct reconstruct improve better and extend revenue-producing undertakings to maintain and operate the same and to prescribe revise and collect rates fees tolls and charges for the services facilities and commodities furnished thereby and in anticipation of the collection of the revenues thereof to issue certificates payable solely from such revenues regulating the issuance of such certificates and providing for their payment and for the rights of the holders thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows

Amend title, page 1, line 1 of title, by inserting after the word "townships" the following: "with the consent of the electors thereof"

Amend sec. 3, page 3, line 3 and 4, by striking out the words "In addition to the powers which it may now have and insert in lieu thereof "If the consent of the electors of the municipality shall first have been secured to any undertaking as hereinafter provided"

Amend bill, page 8, by inserting after line 28, the following section: "Section 9. Referendum. The consent of the electors to any undertaking authorized by this act may be secured at any general or municipal election by the submission of a proper question in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth, which question shall be certified to the county commissioners by the governing body of the municipality at least sixty days before such election. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners to submit such question to the electors of the municipality at such election in the manner provided by law for such questions. If a majority of the electors voting on such question vote in favor of the same, the municipality may proceed with the undertaking in the manner provided by this act, but if a majority shall vote against such question, the municipality shall not proceed with the undertaking except as the result of any future referdum authorizing the same.

Amend sec. 10, page 9, line 8, by striking out the figure "10" and insert in lieu thereof "11"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection?

Mr. ROTHENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I regret to have to object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was ordered to be transcribed for third reading be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, am I in order to speak upon the purpose of the amendment and the motion at this time?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order to debate the question to reconsider the vote.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Spaeker and members of the House, I am asking for reconsideratoin of the vote by which this bill was transcribed for third reading in order to submit amendments requiring submission to the voters of the powers embodied in House Bill No. 858. The bill permits by resolution of the governing body, by resolution only, adopted at a regular meeting—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking on the merits of the amendments and not on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will please confine himself to the question, which is the motion to reconsider. The point of order of the gentleman from Allegheny is well taken. The gentleman may not discuss the merist of the bill or the proposed amendments at this time, as they are not before the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I quote from a section of the bill merely by way of asking the House to vote for this motion, without discussing its merits?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has the right to give his reasons for wanting to reconsider. General discussion of the bill is out of order or a discussion of any amendment is out of order at this time.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would ask the House for their consideration in voting for the reconsideration of the vote ordering the bill to be transcribed for third reading in order that I may introduce amendments and have a vote thereon. These amendments have just been read for the information of the House, and if the House decides to vote down these amendments that is its privilege.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the provisions of section 4, on page 4, of House Bill No. 858 are so broad that the members of council of any municipal body may merely by resolution decide to take over or undertake (page 2) a number of public improvements, utilities, or engage in the business thereof. It provides that only by the adoption of a resolution at a regular meeting by a majority of the members of the governing body present. Such resolution shall take effect immediately and need not be laid over or published or posted. In other words, I think the provisions of this law are so drastic or so broad that the members of any municipal body present may undertake those things which should be submitted to the voters of a particular municipality for their approval. I ask the members of the House to vote against this bill because I do not believe that such powers should be undertaken or assumed by the governing body of any municipality without first submitting the question to the voters of that municipality.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Rothenberger.

Mr. ROTHENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is not as broad as the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, has indicated. If you will note section 7, page 8, of the bill, it states distinctly that "No municipal liability on Certificates Revenue anticipation certificates issued" shall be incurred as the result of any improvements brought about by any municipal subdivision. Now on the certificates themselves this entire section is written in, and, further, you will note in that section of the bill that these certificates issued as the result of any improvement shall not "constitute a charge lien or encumbrance legal or equitable upon any property of the municipality." Now, the people will know what they are buying when these anticipation certificates are issued, the purchasers will have their eyes open, and the old doctrine of "Let the buyer beware" prevails, so that they are only getting what they buy, and I say there will be no attempt upon the part of any councilmen or commissioners to institute a lot of improvements and issue certificates causing an encumbrance or charge upon the tax payers of that municipality. It is a bill that will favor a lot of municipal subdivisions with improvements, with the availability of Federal funds, and I ask the membership to vote "aye" on this measure.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the fact that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, has called my attention to section 7. That does not, however, interfere with the powers about which I spoke, which I think are too broad, and I do not see why it is not a good thing for a municipality to have the voters pass upon it. I ask the House to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1059 (Senate Bill No. 276), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the expenses of the joint legislative commission created by State Concurrent Resolution Serial Number 102 approved January thirteenth one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out the words "twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00)" and insert in lieu thereof: "ten thousand dollars ($10,000)"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether his objection is to the insertion of the amendment at this time or is it to the reduction of the appropriation from $25,000 to $10,000?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the query of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, I would say that it is to the insertion of the amendment at this time.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would to ask the gentle- from Philadelphia whether he objects to the reduction of the appropriation from $25,000 to $10,000.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would say, in answer to the gentleman, yes.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he does not believe in view of the experience that we have had with many investigating committees in the House that the sum of $10,000 is a sufficient amount to give to this committee at this time.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question submitted by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, I would say that I cannot say at this time whether it will be sufficient as proposed in his amendment. Some committees have been able to work under an appropriation of $5,000 whereas other committees did not have enough even with an appropriation of $25,000.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it is true also, is it not, that a lot of committees have worked without any appropriation whatsoever?

Mr. OMINSKY. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to transcribe this bill for a third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of my motion that the vote be reconsidered is for the purpose of offering an amendment to reduce the amount from $25,000 to $10,000.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the noes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, forty-four members having voted in the affirmative and eighty-seven in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is an appropriation for $25,000 to the committee which is investigating the finances of the city of Philadelphia. Whether the whole $25,000 will be expended or not the committee is not in a position to say at this time. However, in order to get the facts, and present those facts to the Legislature, stenographic notes have had to be taken, in volumes. This should not have been necessary, but in order to get the required information from the people who are holding office in Philadelphia the committee has had to do a lot of cross examining. I have heard it said around the House here that if the chairman of that committee would stop talking so much the stenographic notes would not be so heavy, but I am here to say to the members of this House that this is a tougher job than any dentist ever had to extract the required information from those people in Philadelphia. If there is anyone here who can suggest a procedure to make those people in Philadelphia give quicker and clearer answers, I am satisfied that the expense will be cut down a whole lot.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am glad that the gentleman has been so frank about the matter. I know he is a member of that committee and I also know, from my experience on the floor of this House, that he is not very loquacious, and, therefore, I was not aiming at him in cutting down the amount. I have heard the very thing said that he has just stated, and not only have I heard it but I have read it in the papers. I know that if the stenographers are taking down a great many of the remarks and the side remarks that are being made during this investigation the $25,000 will not be sufficient to pay for the notes of testimony. Now, my objection to the expenditure of this amount of money—I thought I was being extremely generous in moving for an appropriation of $10,000—is that I do not believe that the committee really needs any money at all, because they have set out to find if certain things are true, they have set out to rip out certain offices in Philadelphia, and why waste a lot of the tax-payers money in an investigation in gathering testimony when they know just exactly what they are going to do and what to do. Therefore, I believe they would save much time if they would just introduce a bill here, as they have already done in a number of cases, and then keep on ripping and ripping until they get what they are after. That would I think, result in a great saving of money and time.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when this committee presented certain bills to the House after they had found out certain things through their investigation, there were certain members on the other side of the House who said that the committee should have presented a report here before they attempted to pass the bills. In order to get the report and the proper information that money is being spent for stenographic notes. We are just trying to comply with the request of the members on the other side of the House, that they get a full and comprehensive report. That is what this committee is going to do and that is what they are going to get.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when I stood on the floor of the House and objected to the presentation of a bill ripping out some office in Philadelphia—I do not know which one because there are so many of them that I cannot keep track of them—but ripping out some office I said that they had the cart before the horse, in that the committee had no report. Now, then, this is just bearing out what I said, they have no report here and by the time the Legislature is over they will have all these fellows ripped out of these offices and then what is the good of the report. There is no use in having it because we get no value out of them any way.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it had not been my intention to further speak on this bill, but I do not like the insinuations on the part of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner when he says that the committee already knows what they are going to do and what they want to do. It seems to me that the committee has acted as fairly and impartially as it possibly could. They are in Philadelphia to get a true picture of what is happening in those departments, and unless they have these hearings, properly subpoenaed records and so on, they will not be able to get the requirde information. It seems to me rather strange at this late stage in the advancement of the bill that an objection should be made to the appropriation. No objection was made to the appropriation in the Senate as I understand It. No objection was made to it either on first or second reading. No objection was made to it before it was put out on the floor of the House. Apparently the committee has stepped on the toes of some friends of members on the other side of the House at this stage and, in order to be able to stifle the work of the committee, they are endeavoring to cut the appropriation. We have advanced in the investigation in Philadelphia pretty far, and we feel that the committee is doing a good job. They have saved hundreds of thousands of dollars for the tax payers of Philadelphia and they will have saved hundreds of thousands of dollars more before the investigation is through and indirectly it will result in a saving for the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Therefore, the full appropriation of $25,000 is necessary and if later the committee is advised that $25,000 is more than they need, the bill provides in that case that any unexpended fund shall be returned to the general fund.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 115, as follows:

An Act to amend section two thousand one of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred thirty-two) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by fixing minimum compensation for patrolmen in such cities

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two thousand one of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred thirty-two) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2001 Appointment Number Rank Compensation and Qualifications of Policemen The council shall fix by ordinance the number rank and within the following limitations the compensation of the members of the city police force who shall be appointed in accordance with the civil service provisions of this act No policeman shall after his appointment and qualification hold at the same time the office of constable Council shall prescribe all necessary rules and regulations for the organization and government of the police force

The compensation of patrolmen shall in no case be less than the following amounts Fourteen hundred dollars per annum for the first year of service and an additional annual increment of one hundred dollars for each year of service after the first year not however exceeding seven such annual increments All patrolmen employed in any city shall from the time this act becomes effective be entitled to compensation in accordance with this act including the increment credits accrued for service prior to the effecitve date of this act Provided That the compensation of a patrolman shall not after the effective date of this act be reduced below the amount he is receiving at the time this act becomes effective for the reason that he has not sufficient annual increment credits to entitle him according to the proceeding provisions of this act to the compensation he is then receiving or be reduced for any other reason whatever

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 115

Mr. BOYER filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting against House Bill No. 115 only on the broad basis that this bill absolutely conflicts with fundamental principle known as "Home Rule."

Mr. SIMON filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting against this measure because I believe each municipality should have the power to set the salaries of its officers.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting against House Bill No. 115 because it is against home rule and is unjust to small cities.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 743, entitled:

An Act to provide for the leasing of land within the beds of streams lakes and other bodies of water wholly or partly within or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth when such land is owned by the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Water and Power Resources Board requiring lessees to establish an amortization fund for improvements placed or erected upon such land granting certain preference and exemption rights to municipalities of the Commonwealth and prescribing penalties

Habbyshaw,	Turner,	Winner,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 869, as follows:

An Act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement negotiated by Commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and Commissioners of the State of Ohio relative to the development use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes

Whereas Commissioners for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and Commissioners for the State of Ohio negotiated a compact or agreement relative to the development use and regulation of Pymatuning Lake and the State owned land surrounding said lake for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes and

Whereas Such compact or agreement has been executed in duplicate one for each State on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by and through the Water and Power Resources Board and on behalf of the State of Ohio by and through the Conservation Division which compact or agreement is contained in the following words

This Agreement made and concluded between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania acting by and through its lawfully authorized agency namely the Water and Power Resources Board as party of the first part and the State of Ohio acting by and through its lawfully authorized agency namely its Director of Conservation as party of the second part

Witnesseth

Whereas By Act of Assembly of Pennsylvania approved May 2 1929 P. L. 1503 as amended by Acts of May 5 1931 P. L. 84 April 24 1933 P. L. 67 and July 9 1935 P L 619 the Department of Forests and Waters of Pennsylvania acting through the Water and Power Resources Board was authorized inter alia to complete the work begun and continued under an act approved July 25 1913 P L 1270 entitled "An Act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary hereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation" and did duly complete said work whereby there was created a lake or reservoir now known and hereinafter called Pymatuning Lake extending in part across the boundary line between said States of Ohio and Pennsylvania into the State of Ohio and

Whereas The primary purposes of the project by which said lake was created was to conserve water draining said swamp all of which has its source in Pennsylvania as well as control floods and regulate the flow of water in the Shenango and Beaver Rivers and secondary thereto permit the water and the land surrounding the same to be used for fishing hunting recreational and park purposes under such terms and conditions as the Water and Power Resources Board might determine in such way or ways as in the opinion of the said Board will not materially interfere with the primary purpose in said acts of assembly and hereinbefore specifically referred to and

Whereas In view of the fact that a certain part of the lake extends into the State of Ohio whereby it is necessary and desirable that the use of the lake for the secondary purposes namely hunting fishing and recreational use be uniformly provided for as well as to guard against inconveniences and mischiefs which might hereafter arise from the uncertainty of jurisdiction within and on said lake to the end that the lake may be adequately policed and conflicts of jurisdiction for the arrest and punishment of offenders be avoided

Now Then Therefore in order that law and justice may in all such cases be executed and take effect upon said lake from shore to shore in all parts and places thereof where the lake is a boundary between said states the said parties hereto do agree for and in behalf of their respective states in the manner following

It is hereby agreed that the entire Pymatuning Lake or Reservoir subject to the primary use thereof by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for regulating the flow of the water in the Shenango and Beaver Rivers as in Paragraph 9 hereinafter more specifically mentioned shall be open for recreational use equally to the citizens of both contracting parties save as restricted as to hunting fishing and boating in this agreement set forth or hereafter mutually agreed upon by both parties but no person shall be permitted to hunt or fish therein or thereon unless the lawful holder of a fishing or hunting license authorizing him or her so to do issued by the proper authorities of Pennsylvania or of Ohio

2. Arrest and Prosecution of Offenders

That each state shall enjoy and exercise a concurrent jurisdiction upon the water (but not upon the dry land) between the shores of said lake including the islands therein with respect to the arrest and prosecution of offenders but in such sort that any boat or vessel fastened to or aground on the shore of either state shall be considered exclusively within the jurisdiction of said State but that all capital and other offenses trespasses or damages committed on or over said lake the judicial investigation and determination thereof shall be exclusively vested in the state wherein the offender or person charged with such offense shall be first apprehended arrested prosecuted or first brought to trial it being the intent of this agreement that an offender may be pursued and arrested anywhere on or over said lake or shores thereof or islands therein regardless of the boundary line by any peace officers or persons of either State authorized to make arrests whether the offenses be committed on or over any part of the lake on the shores or islands therein regardless of the state in which the place where the offense was committed lies

3 Islands

All Islands within the lake shall be considered as part of the State of Pennsylvania

4 Pollution of Water

The lake shall forever be protected against pollution of its waters by industrial trade waste individual or municipal sewage from shore to boat and the discharge of any noxious or deleterious substance liquid or solid into the waters of the lake which is or may become inimical or injurious to public health or to animal or aquatic life is hereby expressly forbidden

No sewage may be discharged into the waters of the lake except after complete treatment and then only upon permit first approved by the Health Departments of both states.

5 Boats and Vessels

No power or motor boats nor hydroplanes or aquaplanes shall be permitted anywhere on said lake except such police or administration motor boats to the number which shall be mutually agreed upon by the parties hereto Sail boats row boats and canoes shall be permitted provided they first obtain a license from the respective State of which the owner is a resident under such regulations as each party to this agreement may now have or hereafter adopt

Any person possessing a duly issued fishing license by either state shall be permitted to fish anywhere on the entire lake between the low water marks (except such portion thereof as is closed to fishing by Paragraph 8 hereof or such further portion as may hereafter by regulation be mutually agreed to by the parties hereto) but no fisherman shall be entitled to fish from the shores of the state of which he is a non-resident unless he complies with the non-resident fishing license law of said State

In order to permit the fish to fully propagate and develop no part of the lake shall be open for fishing until July 1 1937 and thereafter shall be closed in each year between December 10 and June 30

Until otherwise mutually agreed to by both parties hereto the creel size and season limits for the respective kinds of fish caught shall be such as may hereafter be agreed upon between the two States

7 Reciprocal Hunting Rights

Reciprocal hunting rights are hereby granted to the licensed hunters of each state on the water of that portion of the lake both in Pennsylvania and Ohio over the area bounded on the south by an east and west line crossing the State boundary 0.5 of mile north of Simons Ohio and on the north by a line drawn between the point at which the Padanaram Road crosses the State boundary and a point formerly known as the Pollock Bridge but such reciprocal hunting rights hereby granted shall extend only to such wild migatory birds as are covered by the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty and Federal Laws adopted thereunder

Hunting in such portions of the lake as are not included in the area above described and designated shall be and

remain under the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

No permanent blinds shall be erected anywhere on the lake and shores thereof but this provision shall not be interpreted as forbidding the use of a boat as a blind temporarily moored to or grounded on the shore of the lake or islands thereof

8 Wild Game and Fish Sanctuary

A The Game Commission of the State of Pennsylvania having established a wild migratory bird and game sanctuary or refuge in that part of the lake located northwest of the Pennsylvania Railroad Crossing it is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall be interpreted as entitling the residents of either state whether licensed to fish or hunt or otherwise to fish hunt or trespass or enter upon said sanctuary for any purpose whatsoever Anyone so doing shall be amenable to prosecution therefor under the Game Laws of the State of Pennsylvania applicable to game refuges.

B The Conservation Division of the Department of Agriculture of the State of Ohio having established a fish sanctuary and game refuge in the following portion of the lake

Being the southerly parts of Lots Numbers 79 and 80 Richmond Township all of Lot Number 41 and all of Lot Number 42 except the westerly 1000 feet thereof in Andover Township Ashtabula County Ohio

Beginning at a point in the west line of Lot Number 79 that is 1523 feet south of the north line of Lot Number 79 also being the center line of Padanaram Road thence southerly along the County Highway along the westerly side of Lot Number 79 1869.5 feet to the north line of Andover Township thence westerly along the northerly line of Andover Township 939.7 feet to the northwest corner of Lot Number 41 thence southerly along the highway that marks the westerly line of Lot Number 42 1000 feet to a point thence of Lot Number 42 thence easterly along the north line of lot Number 42 1000 feet to a point thence in a southerly direction parallel to and 100 feet easterly from the westerly line of Lot Number 42 2734 feet more or less to the southerly line of Lot Number 42 thence easterly along the said southerly line of Lot Number 42 5180.4 feet to the Ohio and Pennsylvania State Line thence northerly along said Ohio and Pennsylvania State Line 7297.6 feet more or less to a point that is 1523 feet southerly from the north line of Lot Number 80 thence in a westerly direction 1523 feet southerly from and parallel to the north line of Lots Numbers 79 and 80 5260 feet more or less to the place of beginning

It is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall be interpreted as entitling the residents of either State whether licensed to fish or otherwise to fish in hunt trespass or enter upon said sanctuary for any purspose whatsoever Anyone so doing shall become amenable to prosecution therefor under the laws of the State of Ohio applicable thereto

It is expressly agreed that nothing herein contained shall operate to deny limit or restrict the right of the Water and Power Resources Board of Pennsylvania or any authority established hereafter by said State to exercise such power to at any time now or hereafter raise or draw off so much of the waters of the lake as in their sole judgment may be necessary to maintain or regulate the flow of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers in furtherance of the primary purpose for which said lake was established and said Water and Power Resources Board shall without let or hindrance have the full right irrespective of other considerations to release so much of the water as they may deem proper to maintain the flow of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers irrespective of its effect on the level of the lake or use thereof for other purposes

Habbyshaw,	Stockham,	Winner,	Woodside,
Snyder,	Turner,	Wood,	Yeakel,
Sproul,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 855, entitled:

An Act to authorize the Secretary of Highways to disregard terminal points in relocating State Highway Routes under certain conditions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Arnold.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ARNOLD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Fayette to explain this bill.

Mr. ARNOLD. Mr. Speaker, this, I think, is a sort of an anniversary for me in connection with my friend on the opposite side of the House. It has been possibly some two years, almost to a day. I do not know whether he remembers it from that particular angle or not.

The bill before us has to do with the terminal points of highways as they cross county, township, municipal and state borders on a continuous road. I think a reading of the act would be the best explanation I can give. It is very short and is as follows:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same that when the Terminal point of one or more State Highway Routes is described as being at the boundary line of a county township municipality or adjoining State and the highway continues beyond such point the Secretary of Highways shall have authority to relocate such State Highway Route or Routes in accordance with the provisions"—and note this particular point—"of present or future laws governing the relocation of State highways without limitation on account of such terminal point," and so on.

The bill makes it possible for roads to be located in accordance with all present or future laws in county, township, municipal and state borders, where it is desirable to relocate them for a better road or anything that will give it a more desirable approach to or through these municipalities or over these borders.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I might say that the explanation is just about as clear as the bill. I do not know whether it is because of the lunch I had but it is just about as clear as mud. Do I understand from the gentleman that the meaning and purpose of this bill is that if at the present time a road is described as ending, we will say, at the boundary line between Pennsylvania and New York, if there should be a relocation of the through road that then they can relocate the line in Pennsylvania, is that the purpose?

Mr. ARNOLD. Yes, Mr. Speaker, as to its State borders. The bill is more comprehensive than that; it applies to county, township, municipal and State borders, and where all present or future laws will be satisfied, with the exception of this one point of a registered terminal point, that that terminal point can be moved to this new location.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I must confess that most of the language of these highway bills is so vague it is pretty difficult to understand what may be in the mind of the Secretary of Highways. I think that is the way they are intended to be, but what I am trying to find out is this, will it permit the Secretary of Highways to determine that he wants to move a terminal line, we will say, from down here at Carlisle to Harrisburg?

Mr. ARNOLD. It would, Mr. Speaker. Owing to the difficulty that we are apparently having at the present time to make the minority floor leader understand this bill, as I think we should all understand it, I ask, Mr. Speaker, that this bill go over in its regular order until we can have further explanation given to the minority floor leader.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 855, Printer's No. 232 was passed over at the request of Mr. ARNOLD.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Provided however that no part or portion of any street hereinbefore described shall be taken over as a State highway under the provisions of this act until after such part or portion shall have been legally opened by the city authorities in the same manner as other streets are now open which form a part of the same route as herein described

Section 3 The city streets or sections thereof hereinbefore described shall be taken over by the Commonwealth through the Department of Highways not later than the first day of September one thousand nine hundred thirty--seven subject however to the following exceptions

(a) No city street or part thereof described in section two of this act shall be taken over by the Commonwealth if an order or decree for the improvement thereof has been issued until there has been full compliance with the terms of such order or decree

(b) No city street or part thereof described in section two of this act shall be taken over by the Commonwealth if a contract for the improvement thereof has been entered into between a contractor and the Commonwealth or the city authorities or both until the contract has been completed

(c) No city street or part thereof described in section two of this act shall be taken over if an agreement has been entered into between the city authorities and the Commonwealth or any other party for the maintenance or construction of such street even though no formal contract has been executed pursuant to such agreement and no work has been done until the terms of the agreement have been fulfilled

Section 4 This act is not intended and shall not be construed

(a) To place upon the Commonwealth any duty to regulate traffic or police the streets herein taken over by the Commonwealth but such duty shall be and remain the obligation of the cities

(b) To place upon the Commonwealth any obligation for the maintenance construction reconstruction or resurfacing of said streets other than the base or surface courses

(c) To place upon the Commonwealth through the Department of Highways any obligation to maintain construct or reconstruct any structure of any kind or character whatsoever situate upon or forming part of any city street or section thereof described in section two of this act except that the Secretary of Highways may assume the obligation to maintain construct or reconstruct drainage structures with a total spanned length not exceeding feet measured along the center line of the street

than storm or sanitary sewers and which were the sole obligation of the city prior to the passage of this act Responsibility for the construction reconstruction and maintenance of any other structures shall remain with the city person association or corporation responsible therefor at the date of the approval of this act

(d) To authorize any assessment to be made against the Commonwealth by reason of or to assist in the elimination of any grade crossing or the alteration or reconstruction of an existing overhead or undergrade crossing on any street described and designated in section two of this act and no such assessment shall hereafter be made under any act of Assembly heretofore enacted

(e) To place upon the Commonwealth any obligation under any franchise or franchises heretofore or hereafter granted by the city to any public utility company nor to transfer to the Commonwealth from the city any rights under any such franchise or franchises heretofore granted

(f) To place upon the Department of Highways any authority to regulate traffic parking or the general use by the traveling public of the streets or sections thereof taken over by the Commonwealth for maintenance or improvement under the provisions of this act Provided however That the Department of Highways shall be and is hereby authorized to close to traffic all of the streets or sections thereof described in section two of this act during such time as improvements are being made thereon and in such case the city shall establish and maintain a suitable detour in accordance with the provisions of section ten of this act

Section 5 After the streets described in section two of this act shall have been taken over by the Commonwealth they shall be maintained constructed reconstructed and resurfaced by the Department of Highways at the expense of the Commonwealth and such construction reconstruction and resurfacing shall be of such type as shall be determined by the Secretary of Highways with the approval of the Governor and repairs and maintenance shall be of such type as shall be determined by the Secretary of Highways The obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction reconstruction resurfacing or maintenance as hereinbefore provided shall be limited to that part of the street or section thereof between curb lines as established at the time of passage of this act but shall not include the portions of such streets which are or may be used and occupied by the structures or surface facilities of any public utility company Provided That it shall nevertheless be lawful for the Department of Highways to enter into agreements in the discretion of the Secretary of Highways with the Commonwealth of the cost of construction reconstruction or resurfacing of the streets or sections thereof taken over by the Commonwealth under this act

Section 6 The maintenance of said streets authorized under the provisions of this act shall not include snow removal or street cleaning and shall be limited to the portions of the street between existing curb lines available to vehicular traffic

Section 7 The Department of Highways shall not change the width lines or grades of the streets taken over under the provisions of this act or any section thereof but such changes as may be approved or recommended by the Secretary of Highways shall be made by the city as heretofore by an ordinance duly passed in accordance with laws applicable thereto and in the event of any change of width lines or grades in accordance with the provisions of this section the city shall be responsible for the payment of any damages which may be occasioned thereby in the manner provided by low such damages to be as certained and paid in accordance with the laws applicable thereto.

Section 8 Before the Department of Highways shall proceed with the construction reconstruction or resurfacing of any of the streets or sections thereof as described in section two of this act the city after being notified of the contemplated improvement shall take the necessary steps to compel all public utility companies to make any necessary replacements or renewals of any of their structures located within the lines of the improvement prior to the commencement of work and shall agree that the said street or sections thereof when completed shall not be torn up or opened for a period of five years except in emergency cases and subpect to the same conditions and restrictions as are now provided by law with reference to the opening of State highways in boroughs

Section 9 No opening shall be made in the surface of any improved street which is maintained by the Department of Highways under the authority of this act until and unless a permit has been obtained for such opening either from the city authorities or from the Department of Highways pursuant to an ordinance passed subsequent to the approval of this act authorizing the Department of Highways to act for the city Where a permit is not obtained from the Department of Highways as above provided the city shall require a cash deposit or bond conditioned upon the proper restoration of the surface and shall be responsible to the Department of Highways for the cost of the restoration of such surface in accordance with the adopted standards of the Department of Highways for the particular type of construction Any person firm or corporation opening the improved surface of any street or highway without having first obtained a permit as hereinbefore provided shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars and in addition thereto the costs of prosecution and surface restoration charges and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five days

Section 10 Before the commencement of any work authorized under the provisions of this act the city shall upon notice from the Secretary of Highways so to do establish and thereafter maintain at its own expense an adequate detour for the accommodation of the traveling public for such length of time as may be necessary or until the improvement contemplated has been completed and accepted and the street or sections thereof opened and made available to public travel Such detour when established as herein provided shall be marked and posted by the Department of Highways at the expense of the Commonwealth

Section 11 Cities are hereby authorized to incur or to increase their indebtedness by the issue and sale of obligations of the city in the manner and subject to the limitations provided by law for the purpose of assistaing in the improving constructing reconstructing or resurfacing any of the streets or sections thereof the improvement of which is authorized in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 12 All moneys received by the Commonwealth under any contract or agreement for sharing the cost of the maintenance construction reconstruction or resurfacing of any street or section thereof under the provisions of this act shall be deposited in the Motor License Fund and as much of the money in the Motor License Fund as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Highways for the purposes of this act

Section 13 It is the intention of the General Assembly that if this act cannot take effect in its entirety because of the judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction holding unconstitutional any part or parts thereof the remaining provisions of the act shall be given full force and effect as completely as though the part or parts held unconstitutional had not been included herein

Section 14 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

Section 15 This act shall become effective the first day of September one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 988, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight hundred seventy-four of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" authorizing counties to rent and lease road

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Cliff S. Patterson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Washington if I place the correct interpretation upon the wording of this bill as amended. Will this bill put counties in direct competition with privately owned equipment companies in so far as the rental of equipment or machinery which those counties own is concerned.

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I think possibly it would. It permits counties to rent or hire out their machinery within the counties. It does not specify whom they shall hire or rent to.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I thank the gentleman from Washington. It seems to me to be a rather questionable practice to start in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to allow our municipal subdivisions of counties and cities to set themselves up in business, competing with private companies, when those companies pay taxes to the county with which to oppose it. I would like to ask the gentleman from Washington if he will let this bill go over until I have had an opportunity to discuss it further with him.

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I will be very glad to have the bill go over.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 98, Printer's No. 236 was passed over at the request of Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 935 as follows:

An Act requiring counties of the third class to repay moneys heretofore recovered on forfeited recognizances in certain cases and providing for the recapture of such moneys from future fines and forfeited recognizances payable to law and library associations

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever heretofore the county commissioners sheriff or district attorney of any county of the third class shall have collected any money upon any forfeited recognizance duly estreated to such county and the same has been paid over to any law and library association for the purchase and maintenance of a law library as provided by law and where the defendant in the case subsequently surrounded himself to the jurisdiction of the proper court or was subsequently apprehended and returned to the jurisdiction of the court the che county commissioners shall repay out of the funds of the county to the party from whom such money was collected the amount so collected on such forfeited recognizance and so turned over to such law and library association exclusive of all costs paid or incurred by the county in such proceeding and no future payments shall be made to any such law and library association from fines and forfeited recognizances collected by the county commissioners sheriff or district attorney until the full amount paid out by the county as required by this act shall have been recovered by the county from such fines and forfeited recognizances and paid into the county treasury

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts general local or special inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the measure just passed is one that is a step in advance in the relationship between the states and in the promotion of interstate cooperation. In conjunction with that I have a very interesting letter from Dean Wigmore of the Northwestern School of Law, which I would like to have made part of the record following the vote of this bill.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the letter will be spread upon the Journal in connection with the vote on this bill.

The Chair hears none.

"Northwestern University School of Law,
McKinlock Campus,
Chicago, Illinois

John H. Wigmore

February 17, 1937.

The Council of State Governments,
Drexel Avenue and 58th Street,
Chicago, Illinois.

Gentlemen:

"I thank you for sending me your report upon the growth and progress of the Council of State Governments since its creation in June, 1935.

"It is particularly gratifying to me to note the rapid progress of your movement for state cooperation. The Committee on Interstate Compacts of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, of which I was Chairman, in its August, 1921, Report emphasized the desirability of interstate cooperation, to overcome inconveniences and obstacles due to lack of uniformity of the laws and policies of the States. In that Report our Committee were the pioneers. But our dream is now coming true. And the Council of State Governments has become the appropriate agency for organizing the necessary machinery.

"Fifteen years of further observation only confirm my previous conviction that interstate cooperation is essential to settle many difficulties arising from a lack of coordination of States' activities. It is highly satisfying to witness the development of a working machine calculated to preserve the independence of the States and to avoid the necessity of further increase of Federal powers.

"It is now important that every State in the Union which has not already done so establish its Commission on Interstate Cooperation. The program is sound both from the standpoint of law and of political science. Because the full realization of the purpose which prompted the creation of the Council depends upon the wholehearted cooperation of all of the States, it would be unfortunate if any appreciable number of Legislatures failed to create Commissions on Interstate Cooperation during the current sessions.

Very truly yours,

JOHN H. WIGMORE."

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 333.

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws 178) entitled "An act taxing certain stocks of building and loan associations for State purposes" and prescribing the effect of such repeal

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House signed the same.

RESOLUTION

"HOLLAND HERING FISH RESOLUTION OF THANKS TO THE ELK LODGE OF HARRISBURG"

Mr. HERING offered a resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 10, 1937.

Whereas, The Benevolent and Proctective Order of Elks very kindly extended to all the members of the General Assembly an invitation to share a fish dinner with them: and

Whereas, Many of the members accepted the invitation and enjoyed themselves thoroughly; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House and Senate hereby express their thanks and appreciation for the expression of goodwill and cordial hospitality extended to them by the Elks of Harrisburg and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be tramsmitted to the Secretary of the B. P. O. Elks' of Harrisburg.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hering.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell the House whether or not they were served Holland hering?

Mr. HERING. That I cannot say, Mr. Speaker, because it was not Friday.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. VALIBUS offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as folows:

In the House of Representatives, March 10th, 1937.

Joseph H. Schwartz, a member of this House from 1921 to 1926, passed away at his home in the Borough of Plymouth yesterday at the age of 76.

Born in the City of New York he was educated in the public schools of that city and at the College of the City of New York. He located in Plymouth in 1876 and became one of the leading citizens of his community, engaging in business for a period of forty years. At the time of his death, he was president of the First National Bank of Plymouth. He was interested in his community, serving as a trustee of the Wyoming Valley Homeopathic Hospital, and was one of the organizers of the First Fire Company of Plymouth.

His death is a great loss, not only to his family, but to his community and his State.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends its sincere sympathy to the members of the family of the Honorable Joseph H. Schwartz in the great loss they have sustained, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WINNER offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

STATEMENT BY MR. TROUT.

Mr. TROUT asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, a few minutes ago we passed House Bill No. 1183, Printer's No. 283, which provides for taking over approximately one hundred and fifty miles of highways in the City of Philadelphia. I have no objection to that bill and voted for the bill. However, I do believe that Legislation of this kind should be followed with Legislation covering other parts of the Commonwealth so far as highways are concerned. In the Session of 1935 this House appropriated $200,000 to the State Planning Commission and they received from the Federal Government an appropriation of $800,000, which gave them approximately $1,000,000 to work out plans for the taking over, maintenance and the building of highways. It seems to me that highway legislation should be coordinated with the report of that State Planning Commission, and, Mr. Speaker with that in mind, I offer a resolution and ask unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the reading of the resolution at this time? Is there objection?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, is the request of the gentleman merely for the purpose of having the resolution read?

The SPEAKER. For the purpose of having the resolution read. The Chair hears no objections.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 10, 1937.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Department of Highways, in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Public Roads, is at present engaged in making a State-wide Highway Planning Survey; and

Whereas, The purpose of this survey is to gather much needed factual information wheih is necessary for the orderly and logical development of our road system; and

Whereas, The estimated cost of this survey is approximately One Million Dollars of State and Federal Highway Funds; and

Whereas, The members of the Legislature have no definite knowledge as to when this survey will be completed and the final report of same be made available to the members of the Legislature; and

Whereas, There are certain legislative measures confronting the Legislature which, if enacted before the final report of the Statewide Highway Planning Survey, may result in a serious set-back to the orderly, future development of our highway system,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that upon notification of the adoption of this resolution the Secretary of Highways be requested to lay before the House a report of the progress that has been made by the State-wide Highway Planning Survey and a preliminary outline of results to date.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objections?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution was filed with the Clerk.

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the reason for the objection,—I think it has been explained personally to the gentleman from Lancaster, but I wish to make the explanation to the membership of the House. I was fortunate enough earlier in the day to have seen a rough copy of the report and survey that has been made, and I can assure the membership of this House that the Department of Highways is very much concerned about an expeditious presentation of that report and survey, and that no good would accure from the immediate consideration of this resolution, as the Department of Highways is actually now in the process of presenting that report and survey.

STATEMENT BY MR. ALEXANDER

Mr. ALEXANDER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Highways, and with the permission of the Chairman, I am making the following statement after interviewing the Department of Highways and I am doing this because of requests that have come to me from members of the House concerning the offering of bills for taking over highways in townships. I have been informed by the Department of Highways that all members having bills of that sort shall prepare them and have them ready to offer during the next four or five days during which we have time to offer bills. That comes direct from the Department. All the members who have bills to offer will present the same between now and March 18, which is the final closing day for the offering of bills.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. OMINSKY, FINNERTY and SHEPARD.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 49.

In the House of Representatives, March 10, 1937.

Whereas, Many worthy students living in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do not have the financial means to attend institutions of learning at which tuition is charged; and

Whereas, All of the present institutions of learning in this Commonwealth, with very few exceptions, have from time to time, so advanced their tuition, that many who formerly might have taken advantage of those institutions, are no longer able to do so; and

Whereas, Many institutions which were originally founded for the specific purpose of providing educational opportunities for worthy students who did not have the financial means to attend the then existing educational institutions, but these later institutions for one reason or another or for no reason at all, have advanced their tuition fees, so that they have moved into the very class of institutions they were never intended to be a part of; and

Whereas, Many worthy students, in an attempt to earn these large tuition fees have taken positions of various types, which have over-taxed both their physical and mental capacities, the effects of which in many instances were not discovered until later years in their lives, and in addition thereto, many of these students find on graduation that they have not been adequately trained either for proper employment or to make a livelihood sufficient for the responsibilities of family life; and

Whereas, Many of our institutions of learning are producing too many graduates imbued with economic royalistic aspirations instead of with the training and inspiration to advance the cause of human happiness and to advance the well-being of humanity rather than to further the exploitation of it; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three members of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House shall appoint four members of the House of Representatives, who together shall constitute a joint legislative commission whose duty it shall be to survey, investigate and determine the need of and desirability of creating a Commonwealth institution of learning to be located in the eastern part of the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the said joint Legislative commission shall report to the Governor and to the General Assembly of its conclusions and recommendations as it deems desirable.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WINNER. RESOLUTION No. 50.

In the House of Representatives, March 10, 1937.

Whereas, References have been repeatedly made to the General Election of November 3, 1936, in the Halls of the Legislature, in public statements and addresses, and in radio broadcasts originating in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the effect that the result was a "Mandate of the People," or "The People have Spoken," or "The Voice of the People;" and

Whereas, The expressions referred to above have been used to convey the meaning that, "The Mandate of the People" was unanimous, that "The People have Spoken" with and the same thought, and that "The Voice of the People" was heard with none dissenting; and

Whereas, The official election returns for the vote cast at the General Election held in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, November 3, 1936, for candidate for the office of President of the United States, show but 2,353,788 votes cast for Franklin D. Roosevelt, and 1,784,317 votes cast for his opposition, making an approximate ratio of 1 1-3 to 1; and

Whereas, Recent requests on the part of the now President of the United States, the aforementioned candidate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to pack the Supreme Court of the United States, was not contemplated or mentioned at any time prior to the General Election of November 3, 1936; and

Whereas, It is reasonable to infer that many of our citizens would not have voted, would not have spoken, would not have let their voices been heard, for Franklin D. Roosevelt had he been known to contemplate or mention his designs and purposes in regards to the Supreme Court of the United States prior to the day of his election; therefore be it

Resolved, That condolence is hereby offered to all citizens of the Commonwealth who must listen to the expressions "Mandate of the People," "Voice of the People," "The People have Spoken" used in the Halls of the Legislature, in any public statement or address, or in any radio broadcast originating in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by any office holder of the Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on State Government.

RESOLUTIONS REFERRED

By Mr. TROUT. RESOLUTION No. 51.

In the House of Representatives, March 10, 1937.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Department of Highways, in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Public Roads, is at present engaged in making a State-wide Highway Planning Survey; and

Whereas, The purpose of this survey is to gather much needed factual information which is necessary for the orderly and logical development of our road system; and

Whereas, The estimated cost of this survey is approximately One Million Dollars of State and Federal Highway Funds; and

Whereas, The members of the Legislature have no definite knowledge as to when this survey will be completed and the final report of same be made available to the members of the Legislature; and

Whereas, There are certain legislative measures confronting the Legislature which, if enacted before the final report of the Statewide Highway Planning Survey, may result in a serious set-back to the orderly, future development of our highway system,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that upon notification of the adoption of this resolution the Secretary of Highways be requested to lay before the House a report of the progress that has been made by the State-wide Highway Planning Survey and a preliminary outline of results to date.

Referred to the Committee on Highways.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, is House Bill No. 1183, Printer's No. 283, still within the control of the House?

The SPEAKER. The transcribing clerk was sent to the transcribing room for the bill and will report in a moment. For the information of the gentleman, the bill is still in the possession of the House.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, would it be possible for this House to retain control of that bill until Monday evening by a request concurred in by all of the members?

The SPEAKER. That is correct, if the House so orders.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I make the request that House Bill No. 1183, Printer's No. 283, be retained by the House until Monday evening.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Van Sickle requests that House Bill No. 1183, Printer's No. 283, be held in the possession of the House until the session next Monday evening. This bill passed finally this afternoon.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of House Bill No. 1183, I agree to the request of the gentleman from Northampton.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the request of the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Van Sickle, is granted. The Chair will direct the proper officials to retain possession of the bill until the session next Monday night.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 15, 1937. No. 29.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 15, 1937.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

O, the depth of Thy riches, and wisdom, and knowledge. Unsearchable are Thy judgments, O God, and Thy ways past finding out!

Yet the wonder of all mysteries is Thy love. Approaching from our distance we are constrained to humility and dread; drawing nigh, we behold our Father's face, and a love which casteth out fear.

Help us, our Father, in this spirit to take up our tasks. May we meet as man to man, as friend and friend, seeking only the distinction of true ministry, in the service of our day and generation. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed will state his question of personal privilege

Mr. REED. Mr. President and members of the Senate

Expressions of grave concern are heard today over the future welfare of the American Commonwealth. Such sinister rumors and dark forebodings contain within themselves certain elements of good for they create a wholesome and sincere desire in the breast of the true citizen to investigate and determine the conditions of government as they actually exist. It is true that never before in the history of our country have there arisen such numerous and complex problems to annoy and agitate the public mind as exist today, and in their distribution the people of Pennsylvania, perhaps, have received more than their just share . If this be true, it cannot be sucessfully denied that there rests upon the public officials of this great Commonwealth, heavy and important responsibility, and upon the members of this Legislature a duty of the most extensive significance. Every honest citizen is cognizant of the fact that in the preservation of the Republic rests not only his own welfare but also the welfare of those who come after him.

In considering this propcsition it becomes the bounden duty of every Senator of this Chamber to give unselfishly of his time and energy to an honest and careful study of every subject, every measure, that comes before this body. As I listen to the timorous and the suspicious, as I talk to the cinic and the critic, as I view the conditions that at present surround us, I am convinced that we have before us a problem of State that has within it ingredients of the most dangerous and destructive nature. It is a problem that has come down through the ages, and while it has lain in a semi-dormant state until recently, it has suddenly broken forth and now spreads itself in constantly increasing strength over the whole economic and social structure of this great Commonwealth. I refer to the subject of unemployment relief. As I broaden the discussion, to point out the dangers, both social and economic, that lie coiled up in this subject, I do not wish to mislead anyone into believing that we should abrogate the scriptural exhortation to feed the hungry, clothe the naked and administer to the sick and afflicted. As in the days of old, we are yet today our brother's keeper, and we must not fail in any duty we owe him. This is the good, wholesome, constructive, charitable side of the problem. But there is also a material and selfish phase to this problem, inherently dangerous and destructive, as demonstrated by events far back through the annals of world history, and wise will we be if we commit ourselves to a careful scrutiny and unbiased study of all its aspects.

We must note with growing concern the continued increase in relief expenditures in this Commonwealth. This situation is particularly alarming because of the fact that economic conditions in Pennsylvania have continued to improve with the daily expansion of national prosperity.

View, if you will, the figures as they exist under the Talbot Act of the Special Session of 1932, at the beginning of the depression. You will find that this Act provides for the appropriation of $12,000,000 for relief, $1,500,000 thereof for September, 1932, $1,500,000 for October, 1932, $2,500,000 for December, 1932, $2,000,000 for January, 1933, $2,000,000 for February, 1933, $1,500,000 for March, 1933. Let us now examine the report of the Executive Director of Relief, released on Monday, March 1st, 1937. That report shows that for the week ending February 20th, 1937, direct relief expenditures "exclusive of Administration and Special Programs," totalled $1,183,550.10. That for the preceding week ending February 13th, 1937, the sum of $1,167,271.60 was spent, exclusive of Administration and Special Programs; that for the week ending February 6th, 1937, there was spent $1,150,798.60; that for the week ending January 30th, 1937, there was spent $1,127,989.30; that for the week ending January 23rd, 1937, there was spent $1,114,512.90; that for the week ending January 16th, 1937, there was spent $1,069,452.60; that for the week ending January 9th, 1937, there was spent $1,045,444.00; that for the week ending January 2nd, 1937, there was spent $1,024,251.10; that for the week ending December 26th, 1936, there was spent $1,011,438.20; that for the week ending December 19th, 1936; there was spent $980,642.68; that for the week ending December 12th, 1936, there was spent $953,011.30; that for the week ending December 5th, 1936, there was spent $937,342.90; and for the week ending November 28th, there was spent $916,257.60.

What is the cause of this amazing growth? Is it due to the fact that men beyond middle life are without employment, through no fault of their own, and as a result are forced on relief to sustain themselves and family? If this be true it creates a danger of the most serious consequences. I maintain it is fundamentally wrong, both economically and socially, to drive a man from industry solely because he has passed beyond the age or middle life. I maintain that to do so destroys within him his self respect, his self reliance, shuts out hope, and makes of him a weaker father, a discouraged husband, and a less loyal citizen. If on the other hand, industry is such today that it burns out men at middle life, then the system that controls it is wrong and must be changed, for man must be considered higher in the eyes of his country than the physical machine he operates, and surely he was created to acquire his livelihood by honest toil under a plan that would not deny him labor at such an early age.

Are our relief roles being burdened by the admission of our unemployed young men? If this be true a most serious and critical situation is upon us. This great Commonwealth is spending millions of dollars today to educate and train our young people into high and honorable standards of citizenship. They go forth from our schools, strong and vigorous, full of hope and ambition, desirous to enter upon the labors of life. Finding employment, they become the strong pillars of our social and economic order; but, when without success, they tread again and again the paths towards employment, hope finally deserts them, wholesome ambition departs from them, and they then fall upon relief or descend into the caverns of iniquity and crime, never to return. A system that forces a young man on relief is wrong. Life on relief, in time, will snuff out that innate desire in every young man to rise up and become great. This great nation was founded and developed by men who possessed those noble qualities of faith and industry and by them were they carried forward to high and honorable achievements. I doubt if the spirit that impelled our good Lieutenant Governor as a breaker boy to seek the higher and nobler things of life would have so successfully and significantly prevailed if this boy had been a recipient of the dole. I doubt if we would be privileged with the presence in this Chamber of the good Senator from Fayette, if as a boy in the mine driving himself forward and upward, he had been cast into the condition of ease through relief. The present and the past are full of like cases, demonstrating fully that the road to success is from within. Place our young men on relief and that desire within to succeed will sicken and die. No nation of the past has ever succeeded that stifled the ambition of the young; and no nation of today will grow and develope that nurtures its young on the food of the dole.

The cry goes out today from a million patriotic throats: "Rescue the Youth and save America." Major W. H. Drane Lester, of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, recently said, "One of every five criminals is a boy or girl under the age of twenty-one. In 1935, almost four hundred thousand youths were arrested for all types of crime."

Mr. President, it is essential that idleness be removed from our young people legally qualified to work. It is necessary, Mr. President, that our young men and women be denied relief, and given work, so that human ambition to do may grow and develop through honest toil. Accomplish this, and the dark cloud of fear that hangs over us will disappear.

There is another phase of this relief problem that adds to our disturbance. As our relief roles grow, greater does the tax burden become, and fewer become the taxables able to pay. When and where will this end? Will that terrible day ever come when all people will demand their share of the public bounty, and none will be willing to assume the necessary tax to provide for the same? May that day of consternation never come. Let us then with courage begin now to curtail, by wholesome means, the growth of this monster. To do so may save the farmer. Today, in many parts of our State, the farmer can not make his taxes and he and his famliy leave the land, with the same danger to the State that Oliver Goldsmith discerned with regret and fear in his native Ireland back in the Eighteenth Century, when he said:

"And trembling, shrinking from the spoilers hand, Far, far away Thy Children leave the land,"

* * * *

"But a bold peasantry, their country's pride.
When once destroyed,
Can never be supplied."

* * *

"If, to the City sped—what waits him there?
To see profusion that he must not share:
To see ten thousand baneful acts combined
To pamper luxury and thin mankind;
To see those joys the sons of pleasure know
Extorted from his fellow creature's woe."

To save the farmer is but a part of our duty. We must protect all of our people from the dangerous influence of this colossal and expanding relief system, and in doing so we will render invaluable service to this Commonwealth. We can learn a valuable lesson from a study of the "Fall and Decline of the Roman Empire," by Gibbons, wherein we find that by vigorous exertions the study Romans obtained, in the course of three succeeding Centuries, an absolute Empire over many countries of Europe, Asia and Africa, but when idleness and ease crept into Roman society, corruption, decay and destruction followed.

Queen Elizabeth of England once said to her Parliament: "I have desired to have the obedience of my subjects by love, and not by compulsion." She early saw that every rebellion could count for support on the host of what she termed "broken men" in her kingdom, and that their mere existence indeed was an encouragement to civil war. She immediately put into practice a plan providing for the employment of the worthy and the punishment of the vagabond, and history records that her reign was marked by great progress and lasting prosperity. These examples we must not carelessly cast aside. Our duty to our State and Country compel us to give careful and courageous thought to these experiences of the past and apply them to the problems of the present.

Mr. President, there may be many important subjects come before this Senate at this session, but the one that runs the deepest into the fabric of our Government, the one that spreads itself out furthest over our social and economic life, I agree with the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, and the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is the subject of Unemployment Relief; and when we actively enter upon the consideration of this problem in the near future, let us do so, free of selfishness, prejudice and bias, and with a determination to effect a solution that will add to the welfare and happiness of all the people of this great State and Nation.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 304, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" by adding thereto new sections providing for the issuance of certificates of indebtedness or special revenue bills in counties and providing that they shall not be subject to taxation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following new sections to read as follows

Section 354 Certificates of Indebtedness The board of county commissioners of any county is authorized to borrow from time to time on the credit of the county in anticipation of its revenues and not to exceed in amount the amount of such revenues such sums as may be necessary to meet expenditures under the appropriations for each current year including such amounts as are to be raised by the county for road park or other special purposes Such amounts shall be obtained and secured by the issue of certificates of indebtedness or other evidences of indebtedness which shall be termed revenue bills or be known by such other names as may be approved by the controller and shall be in such form as may be designated by the controller and which shall be redeemed out of the proceeds of the tax levy in anticipation of the collection of which such certificates of indebtedness or other evidences of indebtedness were issued Such certificates of indebtedness termed revenue bills or other designation may be issued by the county commissioners in their discretion in multiples of ten $(10.00) dollars each and at such a rate of interest as the board of county commissioners shall prescribe and shall be sold at not less than par by the controller at private sale in such manner and at such times as he deems it for the public interest so to do and such certificates of indebtedness termed revenue bills or other designation so sold as aforesaid may only be used by the holders thereof and shall be received by the county treasurer in the payment only of taxes for the current year of the county of issue when such taxes shall become due and payable and shall be taken by the county treasurer for the payment only of such current taxes at the par value thereof and any accrued interest thereon

Section 355 Special Revenue Bonds or Special Revenue Bills The board of county commissioners may issue revenue bonds certificates of indebtedness or other evidences of indebtedness for purposes other than to meet expenditures under the appropriations for each current year such bonds certificates of indebtedness or other evidences of indebtedness to be redeemed out of the tax levy for the year next succeeding the year of their issue and the necessary appropriation therefor shall be made by the board of county commissioners in the budget for each year Such bonds certificates of indebtedness or other evidences of indebtedness may be designated or known as "special revenue bonds" "special revenue bills" or by such other name or title as may be approved by the controller and shall be in such form as may be designated by the controller and shall be issued at such times and at such rate of interest as the board of county commissioners shall prescribe and shall be sold at not less than par by the controller at private sale in such manner and at such times as he deems it for the public interest so to do Such special revenue bonds or special revenue bills shall be received by the county treasurer in payment only of county taxes levied for the year next succeeding the year of the issue of such certificates or special revenue bills.

Section 356 The certificates of indebtedness or revenue bills authorized in sections three hundred fifty-four and three hundred fifty-five shall not be considered as an increase of the indebtedness of the said counties under the act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (P. L. 65) and its amendments and supplements but they are hereby declared tax anticipation warrants or bills and shall not be taxable under any law heretofore or hereafter passed taxing the bonds notes or general certificates of indebtedness of counties.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I move that the question together with further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 265, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 2, by striking out the word "honorable" and insert in lieu thereof: honorably

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to say a word, that this is an amendment setting up a graduated income tax ,and evidently the state printer is not in favor of a graduated income tax. When this bill was before the 1935 Session, the Appropriation Committee corrected in the pink paper, and it was correct, and when the bill came on the white paper, the printer dropped one word out. Now, in 1937, he changed the adverb to an adjective, which is corrected in the amendment. I suggest, Mr. President, that we have a joint legislative investigating committee on the State Printer.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 287, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act, approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 1012), entitled "An act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less, either with or without security, to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities; fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor; requiring the licensing of lenders; and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act," as amended; reducing the interest rate on small loans.

be recommitted to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 379, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 1122), entitled "An act providing that every advertisement and notice required by authority of law or rules of court to be published in any county in the Commonwealth, or in any city coincident to the boundaries of a county, may, in addition to the publication of such advertisements or notices required to be made in newspapers published and printed in the English language be also published by the public officer body or court directed by law or rules of court to publish such advertisement or notice in newspapers printed in the English language in one or more daily or weekly newspapers printed in a foreign language or languages; such newspapers printed in a foreign language or languages to be printed in and have general circulation in the county or the city coincident to the boundaries of said county, for at least three years continuously before the publication of such advertisements or notices; and further providing for the prices to be charged for publishing such advertisements or notices in any such foreign newspapers, how often the same shall be published and the stipulation and regulations under which the same shall be published," as amended, by requiring that certain newspapers shall be printed in certain counties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McCREESH, Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HOUSE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR HOUSE BILL No. 199

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

An Act to amend clause (f) of section two hundred eight of the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 7), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties"; providing for additional credits in civil service examinations for persons who were engaged in the military or naval service of the United States during any war in which the United States was engaged, and who were honorably discharged from such service.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate concur in the resolution from the House of Representatives.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House had concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, March 15, 1937.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 22d, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 22d, at nine o'clock.

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE TAX BURDENS PLACED UPON INDUSTRIES IN PENNSYLVANIA AND OTHER INDUSTRIAL AND MINING STATES

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, February 22, 1937.

Whereas The present Legislature is faced with the problem of raising revenues through the enactment of certain tax measures and

Whereas The present legislature as all past Legislatures has had presented to it the general argument that the taxes imposed under the laws of this State were so high that they were responsible for driving many industries out of the State and

Whereas The arguments advanced against certain types of taxation have been presented to the Legislature by persons who were the representatives of individual companies or their associations so that the members of the Legislature could not rely upon the facts and figures presented in substantiation of the arguments advanced and

Whereas The arguments advanced have failed to set up a wide and accurate comparison state by state tax by tax so that the members of the Legislature could not clearly see the soundness of the conclusions reached and

Whereas The members of the Legislature desire to have presented to them facts and figures gathered by persons who have no interest in the conclusion to be reached so that they may know if Pennsylvania has taxed any industry more than any of the adjacent industrial or mining states that enjoy equal economic advantages incident to the costs of the operation of any industry such as nearness to markets raw materials costs of power and available labor and

Whereas The members of the Legislature desire to be presented to them a complete set-up of all the taxes imposed upon industry both by local governments and the State and then to have similar figures compiled for the states enjoying similar economic advantages therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House of Representatives who together shall constitute a Joint Legislative Committee whose duty it shall be to make a careful thorough and impartial investigation of the total tax burdens placed upon industries in Pennsylvania and other industrial and mining states and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall conduct an investigation to ascertain the number of industrial or mining concerns which have left our State and the reason given therefor and to ascertain the total tax burdens imposed by the States to which the said industrial or mining concerns have moved and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall conduct an investigation to ascertain the number of new industrial and mining concerns which have moved into Pennsylvania and the reasons therefor and to ascertain to what extent the question of taxation was the cause of the transfer of such industry to this State as well as to ascertain the tax burden imposed by the State from which the industry has moved and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall have the power to engage and employ such experts and assistants as the committee shall determine are necessary and such experts and assistants and the incidental expenses in conjunction with this investigation shall be paid out of any appropriation made by the General Assembly for the purposes embodied in this concurrent resolution and be it further

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved That said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at this session as early as possible or if impossible then at the next session of the General Assembly

Mr. O'KEEFE, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported as committed, Senate Resolution No. 4.

STATEMENT BY MR. TROUT.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I take it that you are as sincerely interested as I am in seeing to it that every penny of taxes levied in the name of unemployment relief shall find its way into the pockets of the needy.

We all agree it is our bounded duty to provide food and shelter for our fellow citizens out of work through no fault of their own.

I have questioned the authors of certain tax bills recently before us and have assured that their purpose is to raise money for unemployment relief.

But not one of them attempts to safeguard the funds so provided.

All taxes are to be thrown alike into the General Rund and spent indiscriminately as needs arise or desires dictate.

I think this is wrong. I believe when a citizen contributes to unemployment relief he has a right to be assured that the money shall be spent for that purpose, and none other. I believe, also, that those on relief are entitled to know that this money shall be at all times available to meet their needs.

To that end, in a bill I am about to present, I propose to set up in the State Treasury an Unemployment Relief Fund into which all money resulting from unemployment relief taxes shall be paid, to an amount slightly in excess of the sum the Governor in his budget says will be needed; namely, cigarette tax, estimated at $19,500,00; corporation net income $35,000,000; manufacturers tax $15,000,000; gross receipts tax $9,000,000, and emergency gasoline tax $23,000,000, a total of $101,500,000, and no money shall be expended from this fund for other than unemployment relief purposes.

This is slightly more than the $99,000,000 fixed by the Governor, but it is better to have a little more than not enough.

The Legislature sets aside a special fund for the feeding and protection of birds and beasts in our fields and forests. It creates a special fund for the feeding and protection of fish. And it holds these funds sacred. I maintain that we owe at least as much to our unemployed people.

We create a special highway fund and are righteously indignant when it is invaded. How much more important is it to safeguard the money we raise to feed the hungry?

The measure I am about to introduce is designed to prevent the raiding of relief funds and to protect as far as possible for the unemployed the moneys we are setting aside for them.

The integrity of our promises to the needy and the interests of the taxpayers alike demand the prompt consideration of the bill which I herewith present.

STATEMENT BY MR. FINNERTY

Mr. FINNERTY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of this statement at this time is to invite you all to be present in the hall of the House tomorrow afternoon between the hours of two and three o'clock, in the discretion of the Speaker. We are going to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. You may go back in history as far as you wish and you will always find that every Irish celebration has a sprinkling of mirth and music and this celebration will follow along those same lines. The singing will be led by the All American Quartette, members of this House. You have heard them before and you know what they can do. The committee will supply song sheets and we expect every one to join in the singing—not that the American Quartette need that help, because they don't. We are going to have an address by a gentleman well able, well qualified to address you. It will be worth your while to come here and listen to him. It is none other than the Commissioner of Insurance, the Honorable Owen Hunt. We would like everybody to be present. There will be no interrogation about your nationality, whether you are Irish or any other nationality. Come and join with us in the singing. We are going to have one surprise number. This number, I am sure, will be delightful as well as enjoyable. I will let you have until tomorrow afternoon to guess what the number will be and I am sure you will be surprised. We are looking for all of you to be present. We will consume about a half hour's time and every minute will be full of dynamite. So everybody be present tomorrow afternoon.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, on Wednesday last I made a request for the unanimous consent of the House to retain House Bill No. 1183 within the control of the House. I at this time withdraw that request and ask that the bill take its usual course.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be noted in the Journal. The bill will take its usual course and be transmitted to the Senate by he Clerk.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, House Bill No. 1164, Senate Bill No. 4, Printer's No. 76, on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,
The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. YOURISHIN.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1164 (Senate Bill No. 4), entitled:

An Act prohibiting the employment of mine workers in the bituminous coal mines unless certificated by a miners' examining board providing for the appointment of such boards and defining their powers and duties and providing penalties

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his question of information.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, can a bill on third reading, postponed, be amended in committee?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to advise the gentleman that a bill on third reading postponed calendar can be recommitted and amended in committee. The bill has not been agreed to on third reading.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1189, entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act, approved the ninth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws six hundred thirty-seven), entitled "An act making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund to the Department of Highways for allocation to, and expenditures in, cities of the first class and the various second-class townships of the Commonwealth for the maintenance, construction and reconstruction of city and townships streets, roads, and bridges during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, and one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven; requiring townships to reduce their tax rates for road and street purposes for said years; and providing for the use and maintenance of road building machinery and equipment, belonging to such townships, by the Department of Highways in carrying out the purposes of this act," providing for the unexpended balance of the funds to be added to the appropriation made by any other act for the same purpose.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to,
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, before Novemer 3rd of last year the Speaker and perhaps many more members of this House pledged to the people of their respective communities an effort to reduce and lighten the burden of oppressive taxation that is being imposed by local authorities upon real estate. This bill, which is now up for final passage by this House, is tangible evidence of whether those pledges were just political hooey upon our part or whether it was a solemn covenant which we gave our people and which we will now fulfill.

This bill, House Bill No. 1189, Printer's No. 248, is an innocent looking bill and it is apparently a harmless bill inasmuch as it is intended only to amend an existing law, and yet when we study it and become familiar with the purposes and intent of the act which it seeks to amend we realize, when boiled down, it means that this Legislature is repudiating a promise and taking back from the people of second class townships of this Commonwealth approximately two million dollars, which was intended to be used and appropriated for the sole purpose of reducing local taxation. So, in reading this bill, it is only necessary to read the amending clause and have a knowledge of the act which it is intended to amend.

Back in 1935, this Legislature in the hope and intent to give to the people at home some relief from the oppressive burden of local taxation passed and made into law an act known as the Furman Act, by which ten million dollars was appropriated from the Highway Fund, one million dollars for the use of cities of the first class, and nine million dollars for the use of townships of the second class, upon the sole condition that the supervisors of some fifteen hundred townships of the second class should reduce their road taxes proportionately, and in that bill it was provided that all unexpended proportions of this nine million dollars, which according to the Governor's budget (as it appears upon page 47) $2,625,000—according to the Furman Act of 1935, passed by this Legislature, the $2,625,000 was to be paid over on March 1, 1938, to the townships to be expended by them for the purpose set forth in the Act, and the purpose set forth in the Act is that the township supervisors by reason of that State-aid might reduce your people's local taxes proportionately. Acting on the strength of that provision, relying upon the integrity of the agreement with the Department, and depending on the solemnity of an appropriation made by this House many of those township supervisors have reduced their taxes and thereby lessened the possibility of receiving any local aid in keeping up their roads. This money was to have been paid over to them in March of 1938. The intent, the purpose and the result of this bill will be to cancel and to violate that agreement, will be to sacrifice the interest of the local townships, because it is proposed to strike out by this bill that portion of the Furman Act of 1935 that would have permitted the payment of $2,625,000 to the township supervisors and to be added to the appropriation made by another act appropriating funds for the same purpose for the years 1938 and 1939 which may be enacted. It can truthfully be said that that may not be enacted.

In other words, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, summarizing this bill we have a bill that in two years time is directly violating and cancelling not only an agreement made between a Department and the supervisors themselves but violating an Act of this Assembly by which an appropriation was made and on the strength of which township supervisors have reduced their means of income for the keeping up of the roads. Now we are going to take away from those gentlemen who have relied upon your word and my word $2,625,000, and we are going to tell them, "Now, get along the best you can." That is the answer they wish us to give to the people of the Commonwealth to whom we pledged, on November 3rd, our honor to reduce local taxes.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Highways for the purpose of a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Perry.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PERRY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that $2,625,000 were to be returned to the township supervisors to be expended according to the Furman Act?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is discussing the bill and not the question to recommit. I dislike, Mr. Speaker, to raise the question against my friend from York but as he raised the same question on me the other day I have no other alternative.

The SPEAKER. The point of order raised by the gentleman from Delaware is well taken. The only question before the House at this time is the motion to recommit.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my request to interrogate the gentleman from Blair. I desire to discuss the motion to recommit and shall preface my remarks by indicating to the membership of this House that where an individual discusses the merits of the bill prior to making a motion to recommit he apparently gains an advantage over the membership of this House, that under the circumstances should not deprive an individual, who wishes to discuss a motion to recommit, of an opportunity of discussing the very same thing that the gentleman has discussed prior to making the motion. I wish to oppose the motion to recommit without discussing the merits of the bill. Apparently this bill has been fully discussed in the Committee on Highways and I will ask the membership of this House to vote "no" on the motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Perry.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. PERRY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Blair, if under his interpretation of the prior act, the act that this bill seeks to amend, $2,625,000 was to be returned to the townships on the first of March, 1938.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from York, I would say that in that bill, together with the statement made in the Governor's budget, on page 47, it was estimated that had that bill been complied with, $2,625,000 would have been turned over to the supervisors of the townships of the second class.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Blair for what purpose that money would be used.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, according to the title of the bill it would have been for the reduction of taxes, because under the bill it was first required that the township supervisors, in fixing the tax levies for the years 1936 and 1937, should reduce the State tax levy for road and street purposes by an amount approximately equivalent to the amount to be expended by such townships under the provisions of this act.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Blair says this money was to be utilized to reduce taxes. May I ask the gentleman from Blair, was not this money to be utilized in the maintenance of township roads which, in turn, would reduce the taxes.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from York may I quote the title of the Act of 1935 set forth in this bill amending the Act which says: "requiring townships to reduce their tax rates for road and street purposes for said years," and do other things.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. May I ask the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Speaker, was not $2,625,000 to be utilized under the Furman Act for the maintenance of township roads which would relieve the townships of that maintenance, and therefore, reduce the taxes of the townships.

Mr. PERRY. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that that was not, to the best of my knowledge the intent of an agreement entered into when this bill was passed in 1935 between Messrs. Ingham and Keeley and Mr. Thompson representing the State Association as town supervisors. The definite understanding and agreement, I was informed at that time, being that the unexpended portions were to be returned to the township supervisors for use by them.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Blair for what purpose was this $2,625,000 to be utilized by the township supervisors?

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, not having been here in the Legislature at the time but having read the newspapers I inferred that it was for the purpose of reducing local taxation.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Blair how the taxes were to be reduced.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, may I again quote and requote a section of the Act passed, which explains it much better by saying that the proper officials of each township if they have not previously done so shall at the time of fixing the tax levies for the years 1936 and 1937 reduce said tax levy for road and street purposes by an amount approximately equivalent to be expended by said townships under this act.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have indulged in a little bit of equivocation here. If the gentleman from Blair had read the full title of the Act and had called the attention of the membership of the House to just exactly what the Act of 1935 did, I feel sure that this is all that would have been required in order to get a direct and full answer to the interrogations which I submitted to him, which he apparently failed to do. This act of 1935 contains these words in the title: "An Act making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund to the Department of Highways for allocation to and expenditures in cities of the first class and the various second class townships of the Commonwealth for the maintenance construction and reconstruction of city and township streets, roads and bridges during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven requiring townships to reduce their tax rates for road and street purposes for said years" and requiring a commensurate reduction in the taxes.

Now apparently when the gentleman from Blair says that this money shall go to the township supervisors for their own use, he does not mean that the township supervisors were going to stick all this money in their pockets and have a good time and go out on a spree, but they were going to use that money for the maintenance of the roads. I would like to have further interrogated the gentleman from Blair if he should have given me a direct answer to the question which I would have submitted. I would have liked to asked him if the $2,625,000, which was to be returned on March 1, 1938, was to be used in the maintenance of roads, why did the township supervisors require the $2,625,000 if the Commonwealth is taking over the entire maintenance of all the township roads. I cannot believe that the gentleman from Blair desires that the township supervisors ought to have this $2,625,000 as a play thing. That money was provided by the Commonwealth for the maintenance of the roads and if the Commonwealth takes over the entire maintenance there is no reason why the township supervisors should have the $2,625,000. I think that is the real explanation of this Act. With the passage of the Act it takes over the entire maintenance of the township roads and of course the townships will be thereby relieved of the taxes for all road purposes in the township. I feel sure that we would be derelict in our duty if we were not to amend the Act of 1935 so as to utilize the $2,625,000 for the purposes of the Commonwealth rather than for the purposes of the township supervisors. That tax would be nothing when the State takes over the entire maintenance.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York whether under House Bill No. 1189 the State takes over all of the township roads.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the State does not, but it has been duly publicized that the program of the present State Highway Department is to take over all the township roads, and I can assure the gentleman from Delaware that if the State does not take over the maintenance of all the township roads, there will be no necessity to pass House Bill No. 1189 and the Department of Highways will not press for its passage.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that once before this House passed a resolution telling the townships that they were going to give them a certain amount of money for their roads and then failed to carry out that agreement?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that must have been under the Pinchot Administration.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, was that not true in 1935?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I do not know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of fact that did happen in the Session of 1935. Therefore, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from York.

Mr. Speaker, if the State intends to take them over why not allow this bill to remain until such time as we have the proper legislation before us and know that such legislation will pass the legislature.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, it is just a matter of procedure. The bill can lie over in the Senate. There is no necessity for holding one bill up after having advanced it so far and then pulling it out, and then advancing another bill so far and pulling it out. It is a part of an entire program and you can't pass that entire program instanter.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from York a few minutes ago accused my colleague from Blair of some sort of action in reference to the interpretation of the act. I can't remember the exact words that he used but he said, at least, that we were trying to duck around the question. Now it seems to me that the answers of the gentleman from York to the interrogation I have made are a full confirmation of what the gentleman from Blair has just said, to wit, that so far as this act is concerned the gentleman from Blair is correct. At some time in the nebulous future when the Highway Department gets around to it and it is finally decided by the Administration that we are going to take over all the township roads, then such a bill may start on its way in the Legislature, and whether it is passed or not is another matter. Therefore, I think the gentleman from Blair was perfectly right in his request that this bill be recommitted, but since that motion has been voted down, I say that this bill should not be passed until we know exactly what is going to be done, so that the second class townships will know this time that they are not being fooled.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1109

Mr. SNYDER filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting against House Bill No. 1189 because many townships that did not have relief labor could not avail themselves of balances due them from the Parkinson and Furman Acts for P. W. A. road improvements, and consequently will lose the above amount which was due them

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 855, entitled:

An Act to authorize the Secretary of Highways to disregard terminal points in relocating State Highway Routes under certain conditions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Arnold.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ARNOLD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it is our understanding that under this bill it merely provides that where a road has been relocated in another state or in a county or township and the State route ends at the line of a township, county or state in which the first road is to be relocated, this bill will give to the Secretary of Highways the right to relocate the road so that the terminal points will come together.

Mr. ARNOLD. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the act that is correct.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 988, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight hundred seventy-four of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" authorizing counties to rent and lease road machinery.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that on Wednesday last, when this bill was up for third reading and final passage, several members were absent I desire to ask the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson the same question that I asked him at that time, that is, will not the passage of this bill place the county commissioners in the position of renting road machinery in direct competition with private business.

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I would not say "direct competition." It gives them the right to rent their equipment to political subdivisions.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman that if these political subdivisoins could not rent the equipment from the commissioners they would, of necessity have to rent the equipment from private companies.

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state that he believes it is good practice for this House to pass legislation that places political subdivisions in the Commonwealth in competition with their taxpayers.

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, I would say it all depends with whom they are in competition.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 9, page 6, line 25, by striking out after the word "the" the following words "General Fund" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "State School Fund and shall be available for the payment of any appropriations made from time to time to the Department of Public Instruction for payment to school districts of the fourth class for the salaries of members of the teaching staffs of schools of such districts in accordance with the provisions of law."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1128, entitled:

An Act requiring unemployment relief orders to be presented for payment within a certain period otherwise to be cancelled and the moneys appropriated for their payment to be escheated to the Commonwealth and credited to the current appropriation for unemployment relief purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 602, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred and two of the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," empowering directors of departments to appoint persons employed in their departments; and assigning the fire department to the department of public safety.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Flannery, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLANNERY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill for what purpose he desires that the fire department in all third class cities be transferred to the Department of Public Safety?

Mr. FLANNERY. For the simple reason, Mr. Speaker, that the Department of Public Safety in the city that I come from has a contingent item of twenty-five dollars, and the director of that department thinks he is mighty lucky that it is twenty-five dollars and not twenty-five cents, whereas every other department has fifteen hundred dollars down to five hundred dollars as a contingent item. This department has nothing but the public comfort station; this director has one appointee in his office as a clerk. That is why.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor if the purpose of this bill therefore, in accordance with his answer to my other interrogation, is to give the Director of Public Safety in that particular city more appointments?

Mr. FLANNERY. No, Mr. Speaker, it is just merely in accordance with an editorial in one of our Republican papers. Surely it was not the intent of the law that the majority of members should be able to deprive the minority member or members of a fair share of all appointments.

Mr. MOOMAW. That is all, thank you, Mr. Flannery. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, while this particular measure may suit the desires of the sponsor in his home city, however I have had the privilege of talking to people from various cities of the third class who are in opposition to a measure of this kind. In some cities they have the fire department under the Department of Water of that particular city. In some cases the amount of water used is charged, and in view of the fact that such charges are some times placed against the fire department, I feel that it should be left up to the cities of the third class to determine what department they want to operate the fire department rather than make it mandatory in this Legislature. I do not come from a third class city, in fact I have no third class cities in my districts, but there have been some representatives from some third class cities who have approached me on this measure, and I believe that the third class cities themselves can best determine which department would best have control of the fire department in their individual communities. While it might suit in that particular instance, I think it is a matter of local concern in the third class cities for them to determine what department they desire to control the fire department rather than that we here at Harrisburg legislate and make it mandatory in all third class cities in this Commonwealth.

I therefore think this bill should be defeated so that that can be left up to a matter of home rule in those third class cities.

Mr. FLANNERY. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, conditions vary in different cities. The gentleman from Franklin does not come from a third class city. When he started to talk about water I just about knew where he came from. God knows the fire departments belong in the Department of Public Safety, and if there is any department that it should be in, it is the Department of Public Safety. There are quite a few of our third class cities that have it there.

My idea in this is that at times you have got to make laws to get any satisfaction or to get anywhere, and that is my idea in coming here. We have this condition, and I have taken this matter up with several members from third class cities, and they have the fire department in the Department of Public Safety and they all seem very well satisfied with this bill. Now, if the gentleman from Franklin had been at the caucus this matter would not have had to come out on the floor. It is very much easier to talk to a man's face than to talk through a "mike." So I would ask the House to go along on this bill.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in support of this bill. In the first place you will find in practically a majority or about a majority of third class cities that the fire department lies in the Department of Public Safety and comes under the jurisdiction and direction of the director of public safety. First of all the Department of Public Safety is the particular department in which the safety of the people of a particular community lies. The safety of the people lies in the fire department. The second thing and a more important thing, it is not taking anything away from the mayor or from council. The director of public safety under this bill will not be able to make an appointment himself because if you read the provisions of this bill it says: "Provided however that persons employed in the various departments of the city shall be appointed only by the director of the department but shall be subject to the approval of council." Therefore, council being the mayor together with the members, it is not taking anything away from the city itself. Another argument advanced that nothing is being taken away from the city is that civil service today exists in third class cities relative to the fire departments, so that before they can be appointed they must first pass a civil service examination, and then after they are appointed by the director the approval lies in the hands of city council. The sole purpose of this act is to put this fire department in its proper place, and that is in the division of public safety.

Mr. WHALEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the city that I come from for years has always made a habit of giving the director of safety charge of the fire department. At the present time in fact one member of council, our mayor rather, has the fire department and the police department; our director of safety is without any department or any hope of appointment. So I ask the members of this House to support this bill to correct this condition.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 190 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. MOOMAW offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, March 15, 1937.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 190, Printer's No. 147, entitled "An act to amend clause (f) of section two hundred eight of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Act No. 1) entitled 'An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties,' providing for additional credits in civil service examinations for persons who were engaged in the military or naval service of the United States during any war in which the United States was engaged and who were honorably discharged from such service," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for a number of years I have sat in this House and listened to his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, whoever that might be at that time, who has come before the House and delivered us a great many messages. I have always thought it was rather unfair that the members of the House did not have an opportunity to deliver messages to the Governor. I have been here at times when there would appear before the rostrum the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House, and the Speaker would recognize the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House who then would say, "The Secretary to his Excellency the Governor," and the Chair would recognize the Secretary to his Excellency the Governor, who would then hand up a message, and the Chair would then say, "The message will lie upon the table." Then at other times the Governor would come before the House and the hall would be packed and the galleries would be packed with all the people from the departments, and the friends and relatives would be here to hear him deliver his message to the Legislature. It seems to me it would be very nice sometime on the part of the Legislature if we could send the Clerk of the House over to the Governor's Office, and the reception clerk would receive the Clerk of the House and would say the "The Clerk of the House" and turn him over to the third assistant secretary of the Governor and the third assistant secretary of the Governor would turn him over to the second assistant secretary and the second assistant secretary would turn him over to the secretary to the Governor, who would say to his Excellency the Governor, "The Clerk of the House," and the Clerk of the House would then say, that he desires to deliver a message to the Governor. We could then all go to the Governor's office and have one of the broadcast microphones set up and we could have all of the newspaper men in and we could invite their wives and friends and we could go in there and deliver a message to the Governor.

Many members of the Legislature are embarrassed about delivering a message to the Governor, and so it might not be out of the way for me to go before this House tonight and deliver such a message to show you how it might be done and to deliver one of these messages to the Governor. It reads as follows:

Dear Governor:

I see by the morning papers that you have ordered the district attorneys to put all slot-machines out of business.

As one of your ever-faithful legislators I am writing to tell you some of the folks back home are all riled up the way you have butted into "Charley" Margiotti's preserves. Down at the cigar store today they were saying that just about the time Charley goes and gets himself all set as District Attorney in each of the sixty-seven counties of this grand old Commonwealth, why you rush right over his head and order all the slot machines out of business.

It's got so the boys back home don't know who is District Attorney; the one they thought they elected, friend "Charley" or yourself, and any way, they say how do you expect them to keep the Roosevelt New Deal and Earle for President Clubs going unless you let them have slot machines? Or does this here order apply only to the cursed Republicans?

If you don't watch out somebody'll get the idea mebbe you don't want "Charley" for Governor next time.

It may be, as you said in your message to the Legislature, "here we are, all liberals together," and I guess you got the idea from seeing how members are so liberal they can vote for a thirty-five million dollar tax bill without even knowing its number, but its different when they get away from the Capitol. Have you ever seen one of them dickering with the grocer for a dozen of eggs? But what's liberal about clamping down on the suckers who keep the clubs going? You ought to know, Mr. Governor, how hard it is to get a political contribution these days, unless you got a blackjack, or something.

And I feel it is my duty, Mr. Governor, as one of your ever-faithful legislators, to give you another tip. In case you sign the horse-racing bill you better think up a good explanation why it is all OK to hand $2.00 over to a bookie under the grandstand but a terrible sin to stick a nickel into a slot machine. Traveling down here today some of us was talking it over, and we voted in favor of the slot machine because you don't have to wait so long to learn you've lost your money.

Yours for more and better liberality,

JOHN Q. DEMOCRAT.

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I remember when a certain member of the House had a reply to a Governor's message. I think we should carry this travesty a little bit further and say "Has his Excellency replied to the memebrs of the House?" He may be asked that, and I would do so by saying as a member of the House said in reply to the Governor's message, "I am flabbergasted."

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is too thin to be flabbergasted.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Finnerty asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SHEPARD.

The Speaker asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. DONOHOE.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 22, 1937.

Whereas, The present Legislature is faced with the problem of raising revenues through the enactment of certain tax measures and

Whereas, The present Legislature as all past Legislatures has had presented to it the general argument that the taxes imposed under the laws of this State were so high that they were responsible for driving many industries out of the State and

Whereas, The arguments advanced against certain types of taxation have been presented to the Legislature by persons who were the representatives of individual companies or their associations so that the members of the Legislature could not rely upon the facts and figures presented in substantiation of the arguments advanced and

Whereas, The arguments advanced have failed to set up a wide and accurate comparison state by state tax by tax so that the members of the Legislature could not clearly see the soundness of the conclusions reached and

Whereas, The members of the Legislature desire to have presented to them facts and figures gathered by persons who have no interest in the conclusion to be reached so that they may know if Pennsylvania has taxed any industry more than any of the adjacent industrial or mining states that enjoy equal economic advantages incident to the cost of the operation of any industry such as nearness to markets raw materials costs of power and available labor and

Whereas The members of the Legislature desire to be presented to them a complete set-up of all the taxes imposed upon industry both by local governments and the State and then to have similar figures compiled for the states enjoying similar economic advantages thefeore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House of Representatives who together shall constitute a Joint Legislative Committee whose duty it shall be to make a careful thorough and impartial investigation of the total tax burdens placed upon industries in Pennsylvania and other industrial and mining states and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall conduct an investigation to ascertain the number of industrial or mining concerns which have left our State and the reason given therefor and to ascertain the total tax burdens imposed by the States to which the said industrial or mining concerns have moved and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall conduct an investigation to ascertain the number of new industrial and mining concerns which have moved into Pennsylvania and the reasons therefor and to ascertain to what extent the question of taxation was the cause of the transfer of such industry to this State as well as to ascertain the tax burden imposed by the State from which the industry has moved and be it further

Resolved That the said Joint Legislative Committee shall have the power to engage and employ such experts and assistants as the committee shall determine are necessary and such experts and assistants and the incidental expenses in conjunction with this investigation shall be paid out of any appropriation made by the General Assembly for the purposes embodied in this concurrent resolution and be it further

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved That said committee shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at this session as early as possible or if impossible then at the next session of the General Assembly

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE BILL No. 68.

An Act limiting the time in which proceedings may be begun to open, revive or strike off the satisfaction of judgments satisfied by prothonotaries under the provisions of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 503), entitled "An act to protect the obligors or guarantors of bonds and mortgages, and owners of property affected thereby, and others indirectly liable for the payment thereof, and owners of mortgaged property affected thereby, by restricting the right to proceed against certain property and persons; limiting the amount of deficiency judgments; and continuing rights, duties, and obligations, established or forfeited under prior laws relating to deficiency judgments."

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 4, by inserting after the word "act" the following: "approved the seventeenth day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and forty-three) entitled "An act to protect the owner of mortgaged property during the present emergency by limiting the amount of deficiency judgments during a certain period" and the act."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, how could a Senate bill come over here with amendments in which we are asked to concur?

The SPEAKER. This bill was recalled from the Governor by resolution, went to the Senate and was amended. The bill is now returned to the House for concurrence in those amendments.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. SPROUL. Do the amendments include those on pages two and three of the act, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that they are only amendments to the title upon which we are now voting.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION No. 18

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 18, Printer's No. 117.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1937.

Whereas, Legislation is pending to amplify the powers of the Department of Forests and Waters in respect to flood control, and authorize this agency to take the necessary steps in conjunction with the Federal Government and other states to safeguard human life and property from future devastating floods; and

Whereas, Present efforts by these agencies appear to be centered in the Susquehanna, Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio River basins; and

Whereas, The Schuylkill River also constitutes a material flood hazard as past experience on many occasions proves; and

Whereas, The Schuylkill River flows through thickly populated territory along its banks are many important industrial establishments which should be afforded like protection from floods; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that in the adoption of a comprehensive flood control program for the Commonwealth, the Water

Power Resources Board should include a survery of the Schuylkill River basin and provisions for the construction of adequate flood control works therein for the future protection of said region;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Water and Power Resources Board by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1937. 132d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1937. No. 30.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 16, 1937.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Harvey Huffman) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. George Walker Buckner, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

PRAYER

May our wandering thoughts be stayed, our restless hearts be still a moment, that we may know that Thou art God, and there is none beside Thee. Verily, since the fool of old said in his heart "there is no God," the wagging tongues of vanity have dinned the clatter of emptiness and vaunt.

Our Father, we need Thee every hour. When we think we need Thee not, 'tis then we may know we need Thee most. Give unto us this day Thy bread of life, that we may be strong in Thee. In this meridian hour of sunshine, may we seek Thy blessing, and dedicate ourselves anew to Thee. In His name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RODGERS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Roberts asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. SIPE.

PETITIONS

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following petitions:

ENDORSING HOUSE BILLS Nos. 584 and 589.

Petition from the Pile Drivers and Dock Wharf Builders endorsing House Bills Nos. 584 and 589.

Also a petition from the Loyal Order of Moose, Lodge No. 65, endorsing these same bills.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE COST OF GOVERNMENT IN THE CITY AND COUNTY OF PHILADELPHIA

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am requested by the Committee appointed under Concurrent Resolution Serial Number 102, to investigate functions and costs of government in the City and County of Philadelphia, to make a preliminary report in connection with three of the departments which have been examined in Philadelphia. They are the Board of Viewers, Board of Revision of Taxes and the Receiver of Taxes. A copy of this preliminary report has been laid on the desk of each of the Senators, and it is not my purpose at this time to burden the members of the Senate with a detailed report. I think, however, in order that they may be acquainted with the problem which confronted the committee, and with the gist of the report, and for the purposes of avoiding the going into details, I should say this: that we found in Philadelphia that the Board of Revision of Taxes had, as I have previously reported, spent in the neighborhood of $700,000 a year for assessing properties in Philadelphia for taxation purposes, and that as a matter of fact, there was no real assessment made; that the proceedings were costly; that the system was unscientific and certainly contrary to every modern idea of assessment; that as a result of this the City of Philadelphia was bearing an unequal and uneven distribution of taxes; that the burden was placed much more heavily on some of the citizens than on others; and that the cost was not in comparison with that in other cities.

We found, for instance, that in other cities the work which was being done in Philadelphia at a cost of some $700,000 annually was being done, on a scientific basis and a much better way, at a lower cost. In the City of Detroit, where 480,000 properties are assessed—compared to the 474,000 assessed in Philadelphia.—the work is done at a cost of $280,000, and this work is done in a satisfactory manner, whereas in Philadelphia it costs $700,000 to do it in a most unsatisfactory manner.

By a previous Act of this Legislature the number of assessors in Philadelphia, at $5,000 each, was reduced from 80 to 40. The work of your committee has disclosed that this work can be done by fewer than 40 assessors, if modern machinery and equipment is installed; and we have recommended that the Board of Revision of Taxes be increased to seven members, to consist of a civil and a construction engineer, two real estate men of experience, two lawyers and one business man. We have recommended that they be appointed jointly by the City Treasurer and City Controller, and that they must have ten year's experience in their particular line of work. Then they in turn, are to appoint twenty-five assessors, at salaries ranging from $2,750 to $5,000 per year, and these assessors also shall be men experienced in real estate work. Their appointment must be made after competitive examinations, held under the auspices of the seven members of the Board of Revision, on questions relating to real estate ability.

Your Committee examined into the functions and cost of running the Board of Viewers, and we found that for a period of ten years the members of this Board, nine in number, have received the same amount of appropriation from City Council each year; that while in 1932 their total awards in damages amounted to $3,000,000, in 1927 they awarded damages aggregating $237,000—yet they spent $90,000 in making these awards, or, at least, the City had to pay out that much in salaries and expenses.

Your committee examined the Department of Receiver of Taxes and found that they had had some 386 employes for a period of seven years; that their total annual budget was $685,000; that in spite of the fact that $15,000 a year is spent for modern equipment, and it was installed in 1931 for the purpose of making out bills mechanically instead of by hand, there has been no reduction of personnel in that department.

Your committee also found that in addition to receiving taxes this department also read and inspected water meters, a function that was transferred from the Water Department in 1927. Our examination of other cities disclosed the fact that this function does not properly belong to the Receiver of Taxes; and we have therefore recommended that this function be retransferred, or returned, to the Department of Water in Philadelphia.

Your committee also found that in other cities, Detroit, for instance—the City Treasurer not only receives the taxes but in addition to that function he also receives and pays out the moneys in connection with the operation of a municipally-owned railway, a municipally-owned waterworks and a municipally-owned electric light and power plant. His department writes checks for some 800,000 employes, and he takes in and pays out every dolar received and expended by the City; and for those functions he spends no more than from $400,000 to $450,000 a year.

In Philadelphia the Department of the Receiver of Taxes, as I said, costs $700,000 annually, although 80 per cent. of the taxes during the year 1936 were received by mail. In view of that fact, and in view of the cost of this Department in other cities, your Committee feels that there is no necessity of a personnel of 386.

It is therefore recommended that, first, the Department of the Receiver of Taxes be abolished and the functions of that Department transferred to the City Treasurer's Office; secondly, that the membership of the Board of Revison of Taxes be increased to seven, and that the personnel of that department be appointed in the manner that I have stated; thirdly, that the Board of Viewers also be abolished, and that Juries of Viewers be appointed from the members of the Board of Revision.

We have made these recommendations, and, I might say to the members of the Senate, this report has been approved by all seven members of the Joint Legislative Committee, the minority members joining with the majority members in the findings and conclusions and recommendations contained therein; and I want to take this opportunity to pay a tribute to the minority members on the committee because of their fairness and their zeal and their help in the work of this committee notwithstanding the fact that there has been great pressure brought to bear, I am sure on both those gentlemen—as I know there has been on all the members of the Committee—by the political party in power in Philadelphia; and these men have unselfishly, and in the interest of the City and the State, performed their duty, and have joined in this preliminary report because they believe, as we all do, that the carrying out of these recommendations will result in the saving of some $990,000 a year to the City of Philadelphia.

We also found that it is unnecessary for the City of Philadelphia to maintain fifty-nine separate paymasters, that we can adopt the theory prevailing in other cities and pay all employes by check, as a result of which we shall eliminate the position of over 100 employes, as well as 59 bonds, costing some $100,000, as well as additional clerks at another $100,000; and all this work can be done by means of the installation of check-writing and addressing equipment in the offices of the City Treasurer and the City Controller.

We have been asked to submit bills to carry out these recommendations, and at the proper time the chairman of the committee will introduce, on behalf of the committee, five bills, which, if enacted into law, will carry out the recommendations of the committee.

We shall file with the Secretary, for reference, a transcript of the testimony taken during the hearings involving these three departments, together with the original copy of the preliminary report.

I should like, also, to say—as I suggested to Senator Woodward I would—that at this time the committee is not reporting on the merit system or civil service. In this preliminary report we have adopted, so far as we could without entering into any controversy on this important subject, the merit system to a certain extent; but Senator Woodward has signed this report with the understanding that the Committee will discuss and make recommendations with relation to the merit system.

(For preliminary report see Appendix)

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I pledge myself to speak entirely on the subject before us, and in order that I be not tempted to wander from it I trust I shall not be interrupted. I am one of the minority members of this Legislative Committee of which the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, speaks, but I have signed the majority report because it does speak of the merit system. I was a little fearful that our active and intelligent chairman had had cold feet with regard to civil service, but I find on page 24 of the report the following:

"This Board should set up and establish competitive examinations for those applying for positions under it, and the persons appointed should be chosen from the list of those who attain the highest average in the examinations."

I also find that this is a preliminary report, and that we shall subsequently have before us the bills carrying these recommendations into effect; but I reserve the right to object if the civil service feature does not appear in the forthcoming bill.

Mr. FREY, from the Committee on Banking, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 399, (House Bill No. 852), entitled:

An Act to re-enact and amend the act, approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 519) entitled "An act authorizing and regulating the re-organization of banks and bank and trust companies" by extending its effective period.

Mr. REED, from the Committee on Banking re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 326, (House Bill No. 554), entitled:

Mr. McCREESH, from the Committee on Banking, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 291, (House Bill No. 553), entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 565), entitled "An act relating to the powers and duties of the Department of Banking and the Secretary of Banking in exercising supervision over, and taking possession of and conducting or liquidating the business and property of, corporations, associations, and persons receiving deposits or otherwise transacting a banking business, corporations acting as fiduciaries, and building and loan associations; providing for the payment of the expenses of the Department of Banking by supervised corporations, associations, or persons, and appropriating the Banking Department Fund; authorizing the Department of Banking, under certain circumstances, to examine corporations, associations, or persons affiliated, or having business transactions with supervised corporations, associations or persons, authorizing appeals to the Supreme Court, and prescribing and limiting the powers and duties of certain other courts and their prothonotaries, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for services rendered under this act; providing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," as amended, by providing for the creation of the Building and Loan Board, the appointment of its members, the payment of its expenses, and defining its powers and duties; and by modifying the powers and duties of the Department of Banking, and by modifying the powers and duties of the Secretary of Banking as receiver of corporations and persons under his supervision; and by making inapplicable said act to certain corporations.

Mr. SONES, from the Committee on Banking, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 397, (House Bill No. 734), entitled:

An Act relating to consumer credit in amounts of one thousand dollars ($1000) or less requiring licenses from the Secretary of Banking restricting licenses to domestic business corporations fixing minimum capital requirements conferring certain powers on the Secretary of Banking limiting interest and other charges providing certain exemptions and imposing penalties.

Mr. WOLFENDEN, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 216, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred four of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," further regulating the adoption and use of names by insurance companies.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. THOMPSON. RESOLUTION No. 52

In the House of Representatives, March 15, 1937

Whereas, In the City of Philadelphia, there are many districts that are densely populated; and

Whereas, In many of these districts, not only are the housing conditions unsafe and unsanitary, but there are no playgrounds or recreation centers in which the children might play; and

Whereas, In one district of Philadelphia, comprising of the sixteenth and twentieth wards, there are crowded together sixty thousand people in an area slightly over one square mile, and within that district there exists not a single playground or recreation center for the children; and

Whereas, In the above-mentioned district, there is a very large percentage of child delinquency, school truancy and accidents involving children. and it is the opinion of many persons that the source of the trouble hereinabove mentioned is due to overcrowding and the absence of playgrounds and recreation centers in this district; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania hereby urge the Mayor and the council of the City of Philadelphia to make an immediate survey of these needs and to institute a broad program of playground and recreation center construction at the earliest possible date; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent, by the Chief Clerk of the House, to the Mayor and to the Secretary of the Council of the City of Philadelphia.

Referred to the Committee on Cities.

[illegible] WESTRICK.
(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 53.

[illegible] the House of Representatives, March 15, 1937.

Whereas, The United States Government under the Emergency Federal Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, and with subsequent amendments, was authorized to grant commissioner loans to any one farmer not exceeding the sum of $7,500; and

Whereas, The rate of interest on such loans was established at the rate of 5% per annum; and

Whereas, Most of these loans were made for a period of thirteen years with no payment required on principal during the first three years of said loan; and

Whereas, the principal of said loan, in most cases is payable during the following ten years, one-tenth each year, plus interest at the rate of 5% per annum on unpaid balances; and

Whereas, The income from farm crops is not sufficient in most cases to meet such payments; and

Whereas, The rate of interest paid on most of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation bonds, through which the Government farm loan, known as Land Bank Commissioner loans, were financed, bear interest at the rate of less than 3% per annum; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memoralizes the Congress of the United States to enact into law some legislation providing that Land Bank Commissioner mortgages of record or made hereafter, shall be amortized over a term of years. so that the payment of principal and interest shall not be greater than 5% of the amount of the original loan, with interest on the unpaid balance not to exceed the rate of 3% per annum; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives is hereby directed to send a copy of this memorial to the President and to the Vice-President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate of the United States, and a copy to each Representative and Senator from this Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

With the information the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in his message to the General Assembly at the opening of this session Governor Earle called to the attention of the Legislature the report of the Sterling Committee and recommended a careful study of this document as a means of reducing "administrative or house-keeping costs of our State Government."

This aroused my immediate initerest because I had given careful consideration and followed the Sterling Committee's work and its report, and have since refreshed my memory by further study.

In his budget message to the General Assembly the Governor stated that "we have conducted Administrative Departments at a cost of $5,600,000 less than our predecessors." As one who has constantly battled for a reduction in the cost of our State Government, I, of course, hail any official who has been able to reduce the cost. From experience, however, I cannot accept so-called economies until I am certain that they are not like some of those set up in the 1935 budget, in which was included a reduction of $5,000,000 in appropriation to the Public Schools which later had to be made up by deficiency appropriations.

I realize from sad experience that no economy program or one that involves a consolidation or change in departments can be successfully carried out without the cooperation of the Executive. Therefore if the Governor be sincerely interested in the Sterling Committee report and a reduction of the "administrative or house-keeping costs of our State Government," I would ask that he intimate to the Legislature his willingness to co-operate in a program to bring this about. It would be a waste of time and money to prepare bills and introduce them to effect such savings unless the Governor stated in advance that he is willing to sit down with a committee from the Legislature such as suggested by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Perry, in Resolution No. 6, Serial No. 14, and study the whole problem.

In order that this statement be not thought just a gesture, I am presenting a plan as a working basis which will reduce the cost and thereby save to the taxpayers $2,000,000 in the coming biennium without reducing the efficiency and services of the State Government.

The budget shows that the difference between the total funds available for 1937-39 estimated to be used and the total budget for the biennium is 12c. Now I know that the Governor has the advantage of a wizard to work on miracle budgets. But I do not want to see him get into difficulty and I am afraid that 12c is not enough leeway even for him. Therefore my suggested saving of $2,000,000 would come in mighty handy.

We have to many departments that should be bureaus. We have too many secretaries heading departments drawing from $10,000 to $12,000 a year.

The following is a suggested plan of reorganization that would not only reduce cost, but make the Government more compact and provide for greater co-operation and in the end in many respects provide greater service to the people at less money.

1—The Department of Banking and Department of Insurance, while dealing with two different kinds of corporations and associations, neverthless have functions that are similar, to wit,—the regulation and examination of institutions handling other people's money. Title Insurance Companies in this State are almost uniformly a part of banking institutions. However, their regulation and examination is in the Department of Insurance. A Department of Banking and Insurance should be set up with one secretary and two directors. While Banking and Insurance would each be a separate division under the Department, there are many activities that could be handled by the same employees, thereby reducing personnel.

2—Department of Welfare. Transfer the State Hospitals from Welfare to the Department of Health; and the Penal and Correctional Institutions to the Commission hereinafter suggested.

The State-Aided Hospitals and Institutions are now examined and inspected by the Department of Welfare. A part of this work could be performed under the Department of Health with the aid of the Medical and Nursing Boards, and the balance is a duplication of work that should be done by the Auditor General.

There should be created a non-paid Penal and Correctional Commission responsible directly to the Governor. This would undoubtedly make for far better policy in reference to these Institutions than the changing ideas of Secretaries of Welfare, most of whom have never had any prior experience in handling such Institutions.

3—Department of Forests and Waters should be transferred to the Department of Internal Affairs, where as a Bureau, it would have more chance of setting up a continuing policy than as a Department under the Executive. In less than two years under the present Administration it has had three different secretaries.

4—Transfer the Department of Mines to the Department of Labor and Industry. This Department now carries on the work of inspection of our manufacturing industries, and there would seem to be no sound reason why, as a Bureau in the Department of Labor and Industry, its safety work and inspection, etc., of our mines could not be carried on as efficiently.

5—Abolish the Department of Revenue, which in the opinion of almost every unbiased student of our State Government, should never have been created. The Treasury Department should be the collecting as well as the disbursing agency of the State. The Revenue Department should be a collection agency, and not an auditing as well as a collection agency.

We have made numerous attempts without success to separate the auditing from the Revenue Department, and confine it to the Department of the Auditor General. The process of handling expenditures of the State Government and of the collection of moneys is so cumbersome that no business concern could live with such a system. Vouchers go through four departments and six pairs of hands.

The Revenue Department has an ever increasing number of jobs. Each new tax bill brings more. And no Governor is willing to give up that patronage.

(In reference to transfer of revenue, there has recently been a very much publicized investigation in the City of Philadelphia in which recommendations have been made for the consolidation of Bureaus and for the transfer of the Office of Receiver of Taxes to the Office of the Treasurer, with the claim that this will reduce the cost. If this be true in Philadelphia, it certainly is true to a greater degree in the State, to wit,—that the transfer of Revenue to the Treasurer, would likewise reduce the cost.)

The State Athletic Commission should be abolished, and the work carried on by a director under a non-paid commission and considerable saving effected.

6—There is overlapping and duplication in auditing. Our plan of State Government is an excellent one, by which the constitutional office of Auditor General is created as a check upon the Executive and the Treasurer. Formerly it handled the settlement work which is done by the Department of Revenue. This tax collection work did not rightfully belong in the Department of the Auditor General, although it naturally developed there by reason of the fact that the making of tax statements was to some degree an auditing performance. All auditing should be separated from the departments and branches of Government and placed within the Auditor General's office. This office should then be made responsible for the proper check on everything under the Government, and facilities should be given to it and it should be encouraged to see that proper auditing is done. The Executive should be as zealous for this as anyone else.

7—There is talk of creating a new Department of Assistance. If this means a secretary and all the assistants that go with Department heads, it will be but creating a new source of expense, that will keep growing at every Session. I believe that a non-paid assistance commission should be created directly responsible to the Governor. It should handle Mothers Assistance, Old Age Assistance, Pensions to the Blind. These funds should be administered by county boards, upon whom should be placed the direct responsibility of administration. If the auditing is done by the Auditor General's Department, the number of employes required to carry out the work of the Assistance Board, should be very small.

8—Unemployment Relief should be confined to those who are really out of employment, and should be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry in conjunction with Unmployment Compensation. Everyone will be registered for Unemployment Compensation. In addition, larger appropriations are being asked by the Governor for the establishment of unemployment offices by the Department of Labor and Industry in the State. Therefore it would reduce the investigations as well as the Bureaus necessary to administer Unemployment Relief if those were handled in conjunction with Unemployment Compensation. If a separate Department is set up that directs Unemployment Relief as well as Mothers Assistance, etc., applicants would have to be investigated by this department and in asking for Unemployment Compensation, would again be investigated by Labor and Industry. Even though there might be a close relation between the two departments to check on applicants, it would certainly seem reasonable that by placing it within the same department, there would be greater efficiency and less cost.

By the foregoing reorganization, which but touches the high spots, and does not undertake a consideration of many minor consolidations and transfers that might produce economies, it may be seen that we have reduced the number of secretaries by five with a gross saving of $124,000 per biennium in secretaries' salaries alone. However this would not be a total saving as it would be necessary to set up directors of bureaus and chiefs to direct the work of many of these departments in their consolidated form.

I do beleive that a total reduction in the cost of the operation of the State Government amounting to $2,000,000 a biennium could thus be made, and that in addition, as set forth above, the State Government would be more compact, more efficient, and that there would be a greater coordination of the functions of the Government.

Governor, it is up to you.

STATEMENT BY MR. ACHTERMAN

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened with a great deal of interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner. The Perry Resolution, to which he referred, is in the Committee on State Government. In addition to that there are several other bills aiming to name a legislative committee that would put into force and effect many changes in the form of our present State Government. Bearing in mind the Sterling Report, to which he refers, that committee has been working on the subject, but we have designated a sub-committee that is now engaged in delving into the subject very deeply. Whether the gentleman from Delaware was aware of this fact or not, I cannot say. At first I had thought that perhaps he was a member of that sub-committee and might be making a report to the House instead of to the committee. However, in glancing over the record, I find that he is not a member of that sub-committee. I do want him to know, however, that this Administration will not treat as lightly the report of the Sterling Committee as did the Administration that named the Sterling Committee. They had an excellent report there, but that Administration never drove very far on the road. Just to allay the fears of the gentleman from Delaware, may I assure him that the Committee on State Government of this Administration will give more careful study and develop further that report than has occurred in the past.

STATEMENT BY MR. SCHOR

Mr. SCHOR asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at the present time the Committee on State Government of the House has under consideration an anti-pollution bill introduced by Mr. LaRue, House Bill No. 153. We have had a public hearing on this measure and both the proponents and opponents of the measure have had an opportunity to speak on it. However, in this Commonwealth there are a great many proponents of this measure who are unable to come here because of their circumstances and because of the fact that Harrisburg is so far from their homes. In their behalf, Mr. Speaker, I wish to present to you a petition signed by fifty thousand citizens of this Commonwealth requesting of the Legislature that House Bill No. 158 be assured of immediate passage.

The SPEAKER. The petition will be referred to the Committee on State Government which has under consideration House Bill No. 158.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Samuel A. Weiss asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. RUFFENNACH.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 964, as follows:

An Act to amend section five A of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" as amended by changing the number and method of appointment of the civil service commissioners in said cities

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section five A of article nineteen of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" as amended by the act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 203) is hereby further amended to read as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities for the purpose of a hearing, further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McDEVITT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, if anyone has requested a public hearing on this bill.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, the Civil Service Commissioners themselves have asked for a hearing and an opportunity to be heard in order to state their position and also to find out what it is all about.

Mr. McGEE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in opposing the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McDevitt, to refer House Bill No. 964 back to committee, I want to say that this bill has been in the Committee on Cities since February 22nd and no request for a hearing has ever been made. The bill itself is self-explanatory and is but a page and a half long. The bill provides for certain changes, the people in Philadelphia know and want these changes and I therefore ask the members of the House to vote the motion down.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want to discuss the merits of the bill because that of course is not at issue. However, I might state that the only change the bill does make is in the number and the manner of appointment of commissioners. It is true that the bill has been in committee possibly a couple of weeks. There is also a history behind its introduction as well as the amendments that were made in committee. We are dealing here with a civil service commission. It is not a question of ripping somebody out of political office. These men say that they would like to have an opportunity to appear before the members of the committee, explain their position, how the commission operates and answer any questions that the committee might put to them, and if after that the committee feels that this change should be made that it can then be submitted to the House for final vote.

I might say that the Mayor of Philadelphia has not spoken to me about this bill, nor any other person for that matter. The commissioners think that it is only fair and equitable that before ripping out a Commission, particularly a Civil Service Commission, that they should be given a hearing. I think that it is a very poor precedent; I think it is poor policy and I do not see how you men can conscientiously or intelligently vote upon a matter of this kind without a hearing. I ask you in all fairness to give these men, who are chartered officers under our charter, an opportunity to explain their position.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

An Act to amend section five A of Article nineteen of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581), entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," as amended, by changing the number and method of appointment of the civil service commissioners in said cities.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 869, Printer's No. 209, on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. LaRUE.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 869, entitled:

An Act to ratify and adopt a compact or agreement, negotiated by Commissioners designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and Commissioners designated by the Governor of the State of Ohio, relative to the development, use and control of the Pymatuning Lake and the State-owned land surrounding said lake for fishing, hunting, recreational and park purposes.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Forestry for the purpose of amendment.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 190

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 16, 1937.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 190, Printer's No. 147, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

BILL AND COMMUNICATION LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. In accordance with the provisions of House Resolution, Serial No. 36, adopted February 8th, the last day for the introduction of bills (except revenue and appropriation bills) is Thursday, March 18th.

If there are no objections, in order to facilitate the work of the Legislative Reference Bureau, all requests for bills filed with the Legislative Reference Bureau by Thursday noon, will be considered as coming within the terms of the resolution. It is, of course, impossible for the Bureau to complete all bills requested this week, so as to have them ready for introduction by the time the House adjourns for the week. Those not completed will be filed with the Chief Clerk as soon as completed and the Members can lift them at that office on Monday next for introduction.

The Legislative Reference Bureau earnestly requests that Members do not during the week, accompany their bill requests with a specified time of delivery. Compliance with such requests is physically impossible.

The Chair hears no objection to this order. Therefore, bills that are in the hands of the Legislative Reference Bureau or any other agency drafting bills by Thursday noon will be considered as coming within the provisions of this resolution. The members will be guided accordingly.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. ALEXANDER, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1284, entitled:

The PRESIDENT PRO-TEMPORE (Mr. Harvey Huffman) in the Chair.

Our Father, on this historic day, we think of one who for these centuries has reigned with Thee in glory.

What must have been the acclaim of Thy myriad hosts, as he entered the gaters ajar! For in earth there hath arisen none greater than He!

We thank Thee for the Emerald Gem of the Seas; for her people, through Patrick, Thy gift to the world and the ages; for the heritage of genius, of passion for liberty and justice, which their sons have brought to every land—to our own in such abundance.

We cherish with Erin her national hopes; ocupied for centuries by an alien force, yet conquered not for a moment, with tears in her heart, and with smiles upon her face she sings on, putting the world to shame.

God of nations, bless her! Father of the races of men speed the era of peace and freedom and brotherhood. Amen.

Resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Mayors and President of Commissioners, Directors of Public Safety and the Chiefs of Fire Departments of all afore mentioned places and the Clerk of the Senate is accordingly so instructed.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, before unanimous consent is given to the immediate consent of this resolution, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Berks County, Mr. Ruth.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Berks County, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Berks if he is certain that the cities and municipalities he has mentioned in this resolution are the only ones in Pennsylvania who rendered the aid spoken of, to Louisville.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I received the resolution in its present form from the Secretary of the State Firemen's Association, who had charge of all the fire companies sent to Louisville, and who assured me they were all included except that of Pittsburgh, and as a similar resolution with reference to Pittsburgh had already been passed, he said this includes the entire group, with that exception, that he had charge at Louisville.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, does the Senator from Berks not feel that Pittsburgh should have been included, or does he feel that the resolution heretofore passed sufficiently recognizes the assistance rendered by Pittsburgh?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, that was the impression of the Association.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have no objection.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

MOTION TO PRINT RESOLUTION

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be printed, because there are a large number of names contained in it and I am sure those men would be glad to have copies of the resolution.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 265, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section one Article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 All property taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax and shall be levied and collected under general laws but the General Assembly may by general laws exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes actual places of religious worship places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit institutions of purely public charity and real and personal property owned occupied and used by any branch post or camp of honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines

Income and other excise taxes shall be levied and collected under general laws but such laws grant exemptions and may impose graded or graduated rates

Agreeably to order,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, we have three bills on today's calendar—this is one, and House Bill No.1, which is given Senate No. 63, the Simon Joint Resolution, is another; and Senator Reed's Joint Resolution, Senate Bill No. 546, on second reading, is the third—and these three bills are inter-related. I would like to make a very brief statement about the differences between these resolutions. The one which we are now considering provides for a straight graded income tax; another, which is the Simon Resolution, provides for an income tax with homestead exemption from real estate tax; and a third, which is the Reed Resolution, provides for a straight homestead exemption from real estate tax. The first two, the Woodward and the Simon Resolutions, passed the 1935 Session, both have been advertised and can therefore go before the people in 1938.

Mr. Simon believes we ought to pass both these resolutions and put both on the Governor's desk; but Mr. Simon forgets that this is one of the few instances in which we can get along without the Governor; a constitutional amendment does not go on the Governor's desk, it goes from us directly to the people.

Now, the Reed Amendment can be voted on in 1939 if the time lock on the constitution is removed.

Mr. Simon has also introduced House Bill No. 1016, which can also be voted on in 1939.

There are two questions involved in our choice: one, are we going to prepare the way for exempting homesteads, usually up to $5,000, from the local tax- Two,—and this is perhaps a partisan question—shall the resolution carry a Democratic or a Republican name?

This graded income tax illustrates the blindness of the old Republican organization. That organization always defeated our efforts, over a period of years, to bring about a graded income tax.

Now, what is meant by "Homestead Exemption?" No one, has ever yet successfully defined a "homestead", not even the judges in the courts but in Florida they have an interpretation by which not only the man who owns his own house and lodges in it, but also if he rents that house, by changing the form of lease, can profit by the homestead exemption. I call it a bad way of doing a good thing. Our Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes has quoted Florida as an example of a successful operation of homestead exemption. In answer to our Chairman's misinformation I would like to read a telegram I received in answer to one I sent to the Tax Commissioner of Florida. His telegram in reply reads as follows: "Tampa, Florida. Florida unfortunately amended constitution so as to provide for five thousand dollars homestead exemption I was opposed to adoption amendment practical results have proven I was correct in my opposition results have been very bad Your State would make great mistake to exempt homestead." Signed, "Peter O. Knight."

Now, another document in the case is from a publication put out by the Public Administration Service, the head of which is Louis Brownlow, who, as you know, is the head of President Roosevelt's Reorganization Committee, known as "The President's Committee on Administrative Management." This is a very interesting paper, I will lend it to anyone who wants it; I will not read it all at this moment, but I would like to read a part, and this is quoting a man by the name of Adam Schantz, Chairman of the National Committee on State and Local Taxation. It is in the nature of a confession; I hope the Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes, who is here, will take note of it.

"I attribute our success in Ohio to a widespread public support by butchers, bakers and candle-stick makers. We avoided even speaking the words 'sales-tax' 'income-tax' and other taxes. We kept our hands off suggestions for new taxes. Had we suggested 'sales-tax' or 'income-tax,' we would have incurred the enmity of groups and individuals. We use simply slogans, 'Save our homes!' 'Fair taxes for real estate.'

"Attempts were made to get us to come out and state where replacement taxes would fall. They knew that would be our 'Achilles' Heel.' I will agree that this is not the enlightened way to look upon the problems of solving our taxation mess."

The quotation speaks for itself. We have a frank statement of the objective, and the tactics employed.

Now, yesterday we had the pleasure of listening to an eloquent address from my neighbor, the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, who warned us against the growing tax burden; and I said to the Senator we cannot blindly proceed with the Simon resolution, opening the door.

The Chairman of the Committee is going to explain that we do not set up the $5,000 exemption in the resolution. No, of course we do not; but we open the door to the $5,000 exemption, and we know what pressure groups will come here demanding the $5,000 exemption. It is impossible to set up the tax duplicates without setting up the $5,000 exemption. There is another side to this question, which is so embarassing, and the speaking of which is treading on such delicate ground, that I put that portion of my speech on a visiting card; but it is small, and I will not read all, even, of this: "Yesterday illustrated the old saying, 'What is the Constitution among friends?' Yesterday our Constitution was amended by three of us in General Assembly met"—and that is as far as I can go without fear of breaking the traditions of the Senate and revealing committee secrets.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, at the request of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, I rise to clarify a few remarks made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, relative to this bill—this Joint Resolution upon which the Senator from Philadelphia has just spoken.

I want to clear up one statement that the Senator from Philadelphia made, and which I think is very unfair and should not have been made by him; and that is, that the Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Changes knew anything about any Homestead Law in the State of Florida. I at no time, in Committee, or in any other place, said anything about any Homestead Law of Florida. I do not know anything about that law, and never professed to know anthing about it; and in the Committee, of which I am Chairman, I at no time brought any matter concerning the Florida Exemption Law before that Committee.

Another statement which has come from the Senator from Philadelphia leaves the insinuation that the Committee on Constitutional Changes and the majority members of this Senate regard the sponsor of a bill as a factor in the determination of whether or not the bill is a sound and sensible bill. He has insinuated that possibly the reason why there may be some opposition to his resolution is the fact that his name is attached to it as the sponsor. I refute that insinuation, and countercharge that if ever a spirit of that kind was shown in the Hall of this Senate it was shown by that Republican majority of which the Senator from Philadelphia was a member in the Session of 1935.

I wish also to refute another insinuation left by the Senator from Philadelphia. Now the Senator from Philadelphia knows well that the resolution that he tagged the "Simon Resolution" has also passed one session of the General Assembly, and that the same session passed the resolution to which is attached the name of the Senator from Philadelphia.

The Simon resolution covers the subjects of graded income tax, graded inheritance tax and the homestead exemption; and that resolution has already been passed by the one General Session, a session at which the Senator from Philadelphia was himself a member; and there was no insinuation that bills were being considered with regard to the sponsors of the bills. It seems that the ones who complain the most are those whom the shoe will pinch more; and these resolutions are resolutions that deal with a subject that is of utmost seriousness and importance to the people of this Commonwealth. The resolutions deal with a subject that has been on every citizen's tongue for many years, and that is the subject of taxation. This subject has been gone over by the people of this Commonwealth in organizations organized for that purpose, and it is a subject that deals with the very backbone of the nation; it deals with taxation on real estate, and it is upon that real estate that the home is erected and the farm is maintained; it is in those homes and on those farms that the destinies of the nation are generally decided; it is in those homes and on those farms that the citizens of America are raised and educated.

As we look over the situation today, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the figures here in our own State Departments will show, without any doubt, that 85% of the taxes paid in the Commonwealth are paid by those who own real estate, while the other 15% are paid by those who own 60% of the wealth of the State—in the form of personal property, such as bonds, stocks and mortgages.

This subject has been discussed throughout the whole State for years, and the citizens of this Commonwealth have been trying, in their minds, to develop some system whereby they could equalize taxation. The taxes have been amassed alarmingly upon the homes and the farms, and they have been amassed to such an extent that at this present moment it is discouraging for any person to own a home or to invest money in a home or a farm; rather, they will seek investment in other lines. Those who do own their homes and their farms sit at their firesides and at their tables worrying because of a feeling of insecurity as to just how soon the tax collector is going to pounce down upon them, or their home and farmland because they are not able to meet this terrific tax burden.

Mr. President, when in a nation a situation is created that discourages the ownership of a home for the purpose of raising and educating children, who are to become the future citizens of America, we have arrived at a very serious point or a stage in our national existence; and I say that it is time, right now, to permit the people themselves to decide whether they want to confer upon their General Assembly the power to decide that problem. I think we should soon come to the point where we ought to do something about relieving this heavy burden of taxation on real estate; and it necessarily follows, then, that if we remove the burden from the home and the farm it must fall some where else and the only logical place for it to fall is upon those who own personal property—some other tangible, taxable property. Of course, the howl about and the opposition to an amendment such as the Simon Amendment comes from those who have their thousands or millions of dollars invested not in homes, where children are raised to become the future citizens of America, but in stocks and bonds and mortgages, which they tuck away in their safe-deposit boxes.

I do not know how others view the subject, but for the last six years this subject has been a very serious one in my mind. I have traveled over practically the entire western part of this State speaking to organizations of real estate owners concerning this burden of taxation on real estate; and I think that the time is here, and we ought not to hesitate, to let the people decide for themselves whether they want to give the General Assembly the power to exempt certain valuations in real estate, so that we might bring back a desire in the people to own homes and farms wherein and whereon they will raise the future citizens of America.

Analyze as you will, investigate as you will, the history of any nation or any race and you will ultimately come to the conclusion that the home and the farm are the backbone of the nation; and if you gather around it this cancerous growth of taxation as we have it today, without any hope of securing the right to relieve it, you will create a spirit in the nation that is not very wholesome.

I think we ought to pass these resolutions, including the Simon Resolution, and let the people decide for themselves whether they shall confer upon the General Assembly the power which will permit us to protect this little man in a little home or on a little farm, and open up the door so that we may place more taxes on and reach of this wealth of the nation that is invested in personal property—in stocks and bonds and mortgages and other sources of taxation other than the home and the farm.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette if in his travels he ever visited Grand Island, Nebraska.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am sorry to say that I do not possess the lavish wealth that would permit me, like the Senator from Philadelphia to travel so extensively. I have never been in the State of Nebraska.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, whether he can say on his sacred honor that he never mentioned the word "Florida" to me.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, on my sacred honor I say that the Senator from Philadelphia was the one that first brought up the subject of homestead exemptions to me, and then I engaged in a conversation with him on that subject.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply want to say that in Grand Island, Nebraska, they have the $5,000 homestead exemption, and Grand Island, I think, is the third largest city in Nebraska; but there are only five homesteads paying any real estate tax, because there are only five homesteads assessed above the figure of $5,000. In the State of Florida the whole cut in the real estate tax duplicates amounted to $387,000,000 in one year which is all to the good.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette whether or not it is a fact that the Governor has no right of veto on these resolutions to amend the Constitution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am amazed at the question of the Senator from Bucks. I would not have asked him such a question, because I know he is learned in the law. The Senator from Bucks, I feel, should realize that I also am an attorney, and know that the Governor does not have the power of veto with regard to resolutions of this character.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Then, Mr. President, I want to ask the Senator from Fayette what would happen if the Woodward Resolution were to pass and the Simon Resolution were to pass and both resolutions were to be approved by the people in 1938,—whether it would not mean that we would not have either resolution; that one would kill the other.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that is not true.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, why not?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the lesser resolution would be amalgamated with the greater; the larger would carry the smaller.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I wish the Senator from Fayette would elucidate that statement.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, elucidate his statement?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will elucidate in legal terms. It would be a merger, Mr. President, and I think the Senator from Bucks knows what a merger is, in legal parlance. There would be a merger there of the Woodward Amendment into the Simon Amendment, because the subject treated by the Woodward Amendment is also contained in the Simon Amendment.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Fayette. I am awfully sorry, however, that I cannot agree with the legal interpretation, or elucidation, of the Senator from Fayette. I honestly and conscientiously feel that it would be a mistake to pass both of these resolutions, to advertise both of them and have the people vote on both; for I am thoroughly convinced from what little legal knowledge I have, that if both of these resolutions were to be adopted by the people we would be right back where we are now and would not get the benefit of either of them. I therefore hope that the majority of this Senate will see the wisdom of my thought and withdraw the Simon Resolution and let the Woodward Resolution be passed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Bucks, if in his wisdom he thinks passing both resolutions would defeat the purpose of both, why did the Republican majority of the Senate in 1935 pass both of them?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, they did not pass them both with my vote.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rather agree with the Senator from Fayette that it would be advisable to let the people decide the question for themselves. I disagree with the Senator from Bucks that the one resolution would nullify the other. As a matter of fact, if the people adopt two Constitutional amendments, both of those amendments will become part of the Constitution. The Legislature then will have the right to pass legislation either under the Simon Resolution, of exemption on homesteads, or it will have the right to act under the Woodward Resolution and pass a graduated income tax without exemption. I can see under no line of reasoning how it would be possible to say that the passage of two resolutions of this character, where one gives greater power to the Legislature than the other, will have the effect of nullifying each other. I think the Senate of Pennsylvania can, without feeling they are going to nullify either one, pass both of these resolutions, and permit the people to decide the very question which is being asked here today.

For that reason I would be very glad to vote for both resolutions.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, as the sponsor of this bill will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, explain something that occurs in the verbiage of the bill? I observe the last paragraph contains the following: "Income and other excise taxes shall be levied and collected under general laws but such laws grant exemptions, and may impose graded or graduated rates"; and I would like to ask just exactly what the Senator considers to be the legal import of the words "grant exemptions". Does that mean "may grant exemptions" or "shall grant exemptions"?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I know the facts pretty well, but I did not want to repeat myself; and I told this sad story of the villianous printer, or printers' devil, who drops the word out. I told that story and I do not want to repeat. I will lunch with the Senator and tell him, or I will tell him now if he insists ; but let me go on—it is just too bad the printer did that; I do not know whether the Senator from Centre who will agree, but I feel that the former Attorney General, Mr. Schnader, must know something about Constitutional law, and I submitted the language to him and he said it would not make any essential difference, that any judge would know what it meant.

If I may go on just a moment, about another matter, Mr. Edmonds wrote a very nice letter to Mr. Simon and said a reading of both these resolutions disclosed that the Simon Resolution was not nearly as good as it ought to be, and suggested a better form of words. I did not bring out, perhaps, that this bill that is in the House now, introduced by Mr. Simon, contains the best wording of any bill that has been introduced, if you are willing to wait until 1939. But if you go back to Mr. Edmonds, I talked to Mr. Fertig about the point Mr. Edmonds raised, and you have the choice between Fertig and Edmonds. Mr. Fertig said Mr. Edmonds' point was not well taken, about the wording of this resolution; so, if anyone is prejudiced either way, he can agree with Mr. Edmonds or Mr. Fertig. I am sorry to have taken so long.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I shall be delighted to accept the invitation of the Senator from Philadelphia to lunch with him.

I do not know who has been throwing the curved balls as far as the wording of these resolutions is concerned, whether it has been the printer's devil or the printer, or who it has been; but there is, I think, plainly in the opinion of everyone who takes a purely legal view of this Woodward Resolution a very substantial constitutional and legal problem raised by the verbiage of this last paragraph. We certainly do not want an income tax law in this State which cannot grant exemptions. The principle of exemptions is fundam ental in the The principle of exemptions is fundamental in the principle of an income tax. It seems to me, in view of this lack of clarity in the Woodward Amendment, that we are in the position where we have practically no alternative to passing both of these resolutions, and sort of leave the future in the lap of the gods and hope for the best public solution.

Mr.EALY. Mr. President, I am sorry to disagree with the other lawyer members of the Senate that have spoken, but certainly we should not pass these two resolutions. The Senator from Bucks has said if both of them are approved by the people of Pennsylvania neither of them will become effective, or there will be a serious question as to which one of them may become effective. I believe neither of them would be really effective.

Now this resolution of Mr. Simon's includes two different features; one is for providing for a graduated income tax and the other provides that the administrator may exempt certain property, and when the people go to vote on these proposed amendments some of them may want to vote for one feature and others for the other, and it is not fair to put these two features in two resolutions.

Now, aside from this question of the two features contained in these two resolutions the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, has proposed another resolution which takes care of the homestead exemption, and the only sensible way for us to do is, at this time, to pass the Woodward Resolution, and then, if you are in favor of the homestead exemption, pass Senator's Reed's Resolution, which is on the calendar today for second reading.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I have for some time been very much interested in the homestead resolution. In a former session I offered such a resolution, and it died in committee. I am still interested in such a resolution; and the question has come up in the Committee on Constitutional Changes several times about linking the resolution concerning the graduated income tax with the resolution having to do with the homestead exemption feature, and on account of the serious discussions we had concerning the legality of combining those two features in one resolution I thought it advisable, for the purpose of keeping the homestead resolution before the body, to offer a resolution having just that one feature in it, which I did by offering this resolution of mine which is up for second reading today; and if there is any serious doubt about the legality of the Simon Resolution in the minds of any members of the Senate, they can pass the Woodward Resolution, providing for a graduated income tax, and then fall back on my resolution which has just this one feature in it—the homestead feature.

QUESTION OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of legislative inquiry.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I inquire whether it requires a two-thirds vote to pass a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution?

The PRESIDENT. It requires a majority vote only, as for any other bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, not a two-thirds vote?

The PRESIDENT. No, a majority vote.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And the question,

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President: I wish to go on record as explaining why I voted for the joint resolution sponsored by Senator Woodward which proposes graduated income tax in this State, and against the Simon resolution which purports to do the same and grants certain so-called homestead exemptions. I feel that if both Constitutional Amendments go before the people for a popular vote at the same time—as they probably will if the Woodward Amendment passes the Lower House, it will make for confusion. Senator Reed has a joint resolution calling for a Constitutional Amendment on today's calendar that takes up the matter of homestead exemptions as a specific exemption to any State Income Tax. This resolution I am very much in favor of and intend to support. I feel that the people should be given an opportunity to vote for or against a graduated income tax as one issue, and for or against homestead exemptions in a graduated income tax as an entirely different issue.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 69, contains an amendment developed as the result of a public hearing. It was reported out yesterday by the Committee for the purpose of permitting printed copies to be distributed to those interested, so that they might have time to consider the amendment. For that reason I think that the bill should be referred back to the Committee for further consideration.

I therefore move, Mr. President, that Senate Bill No. 69, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to protect the obligors or guarantors of bonds and mortgages and owners of property affected thereby and others indirectly liable for the payment thereof and owners of mortgaged property affected thereby by prohibiting for certain periods the sale of mortgaged property at less than its fair market value and prescribing the method of fixing the fair value of said property be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 153, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twentieth day of March one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws six) entitled "An act to prohibit the making or dissemination of false or misleading statements or assertions concerning any merchandise securities or services and providing penalties for the violation thereof" by including display or placard advertising and changing the penalties prescribed and the manner of proving violations.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, the sponsor of the bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia if he will kindly explain to the members of the Senate just what this bill does by its provisions.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, at this present time we have a lot of people in the State of Pennsylvania who are advertising something they have not got, and therefore they bring a lot of, perhaps, innocent people around, perhaps some child that does not know much, who will buy some inferior article they try to sell to such a purchaser, when they do not have the article they advertise. This bill will stop the displaying of such advertisements, which contain lies, will stop the printing of such lies in the newspapers and the placing of such fraudulent advertising in windows, gathering crowds around in order to sell inferior articles, the sellers never having the real article they advertise, and never intending to have it. This bill will stop that practice.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would ask the sponsor of the bill if he will kindly point out to us where it affects newspapers, or if it does affect newspapers.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I do not think this is a newspaper bill. I have just explained all about the bill and it is not necessary to say anything more, I think.

The PRESIDENT. Does that sufficiently answer the question?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am still somewhat in the dark. I shall vote "Present."

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I might say that I am not surprised at the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward's, not voting on this bill. He voted on several bills before and has changed his mind; and perhaps we shall not miss his vote.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order, so that it may be studied further.

The PRESIDENT. Is there an objection?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, this bill has been in Committee for several weeks; there is no need for further time for study. I object to its going over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
